

The New York Times

LATE CITY EDITION

Weather: Humid, with a chance of showers today through tomorrow. Temperature range: today 69-82; Friday 70-84. Details on page 46.

If the News is Fit to Print

No. 43,246

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, JUNE 19, 1976

Published by The New York Times Company

20 CENTS

g Fact

low 'ta

cigarettes mentioned

gases are part of the

ple think.

kinds of gas. And these

some of the gases as can.

evolutionary Purite filter

he time it reduces weather.

How Purite makes this etc as good as Marlboro act

to with whol.

FORCED OUT OF HOUSE JOB; SWEIGHED

Pressure Chairman of Action Panel

WRONGDOING

Chiefs Prepare Housekeeping Abuse

D. D. LYONS
New York Times
June 18—Wayne L. Hays, a Capitol Hill aide, resigned under pressure from his colleagues on the day that he had used to exert pressure on the chairman of the action panel.

Albert of Oklahoma, Mr. Hays's chairman of the action panel, resigned since the day that the Ohio appointed his committee's as released to hospital in his Barnesville, he was taken following an sleeping pills, at Press reof Mr. Hays powerful of his spurred efforts of both party reforms in restore public operations.

Changes demands met without the day and consults they will to change the ration of the more contrognation is not d Representative O'Neill Jr. of the majority announce next week and legislation out-

Frank Thomp Jersey Dem-lace Mr. Hays airman next a "whole" including a f the account-vent payroll abuses.

od promised proposals from 22, Column 3

ICATED GROWTH

own Seem Expected

DALE JR.
New York Times
June 18—The gross na-tion's G.D.P. and serv-low substan- quarter to than 5 per- d basis, Gov- ts said today. it, based on ble, came as apment re- ward the an- P. growth for from 8.5 per- Corporate quarter were and, to $85.7 al rate after conomic fore- ot a mod- growth in the upared with of the first- ars that this much more e consensus ppears to be or deep cam- ment about one official 31, Column 6 of the new

Van at center, part of the 13-vehicle convoy organized by the British, leaving Beirut yesterday with the bodies of Francis E. Meloy Jr. and Robert O. Waring, U.S. diplomats.

REP. HOWE TO STAY IN UTAH CAMPAIGN

Says He Is Innocent on Sex Charge and Is Victim of Press and the Police

By GRACE LICHTENSTEIN
Special to The New York Times
SALT LAKE CITY, June 18—Charging that his constitutional rights had been trampled on by the police and the press, Representative Allan T. Howe said today that he was "innocent and without any wrongdoing" in a sex scandal charge and would continue to run for re-election.

Kuhn Voids Player Sales; Finley Threatens to Sue

By JOSEPH DURSO
Commissioner Bowie Kuhn nullified the biggest sale of talent in baseball history yesterday when he ordered the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox to return the three stars they had bought earlier in the week from the Oakland A's for $3.5 million.

As Baby Boom Ends, Asad School Closing

By ARI L. GOLDMAN
Special to The New York Times
EAST NORTHPORT, L.I., June 18—The parents and teachers at the Grace L. Hubbs School here decided to get together one last time, and they promised one another they wouldn't cry.

U.S. Judge Blocks Food Stamp Cuts Ford Had Sought

Judge John Lewis Smith Jr. Announced His Finding in an Opinion in Which He Issued a Temporary Injunction

By LESLEY OLSBERG
Special to The New York Times
WASHINGTON, June 18—In a blow to the Ford Administration, a Federal district judge ruled today that the Agriculture Department "exceeded its Congressional mandate" when it promulgated regulations designed to cut back $1 billion to $1.2 billion in food stamp benefits.

Catholic Order's Missions Got Only 3% in $20 Million Drive

By REN A. FRANKLIN
Special to The New York Times
BALTIMORE, June 18—Lead-ers of a Roman Catholic mis- sionary order acknowledged today that its representatives raised some $20 million in the last two years "to feed and clothe the poor" abroad but used only about $500,000 for overseas missions.

FORD DROPS TRIP, CITING LEBANON

President Ford Canceled an Election Campaign Trip to Iowa Today After Having Directed the United States Embassy in Beirut to Assist American Citizens Who Were in the Country

By DAVID ENDEK
Special to The New York Times
WASHINGTON, June 18—President Ford canceled an election campaign trip to Iowa today after having directed the United States Embassy in Beirut to assist American citizens who were in the country.

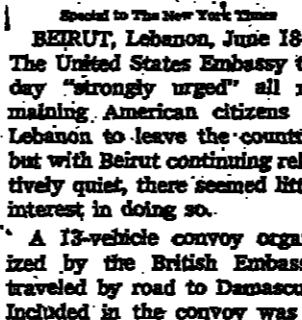

U.S. BIDS CITIZENS LEAVE LEBANON; CONVOY DEPARTS

Another Group Will Go in a British-Organized Journey to Damascus Today

Special to The New York Times
BEIRUT, Lebanon, June 18—The United States Embassy today "strongly urged" all remaining American citizens in Lebanon to leave the country, but with Beirut continuing relatively quiet, there seemed little interest in doing so.

RIOTING IN SOUTH AFRICA SPREADS TO MORE AREAS; TOLL SAID TO BE NEAR 100

Rioting, which began on Wednesday in Soweto, southwest of Johannesburg, spread to Alexandra, in northern part of city, Tembisa, Daveyton, Natalspruit and four other small black townships in nearby areas.

The New York Times/June 18, 1976

Outraged African Nations Talk of Violent Retaliation

Reaction in black Africa to the rioting and killings in Johannesburg's black townships has been outrage coupled with threats of black retaliation against the white South African Government.

By MICHAEL T. KAUFMAN
Special to The New York Times
NAIROBI, Kenya, June 18—Reaction in black Africa to the rioting and killings in Johannesburg's black townships has been outrage coupled with threats of black retaliation against the white South African Government.

South African policeman holding off demonstrator after rioters overturned car in Johannesburg, killing a man whose body is under the vehicle. Yesterday marked the third day of the worst rioting in South African history.

Soweto Bitter Over Apartheid, but Fearful of Rioters

Special to The New York Times
JOHANNESBURG, June 18—Moses Dineka, a quiet man who hates violence, was on the lookout for a weapon when he returned to Soweto last night from his job in a Johannesburg restaurant.

The New York Times/June 18, 1976

VORSTER'S PLEDGE

He Assures the Nation Law and Order Will Be Maintained

By JOHN F. BURNS
Special to The New York Times
JOHANNESBURG, June 18—Rioting spread today to a number of black townships around Johannesburg, and as the third day of the worst upheavals in South Africa's history was ending, the official casualty toll stood at 60 killed and more than 800 wounded.

NEWS INDEX

Page	Page	Page
About New York	19	19
Books	19	19
Bridge	19	19
Business	19	19
Charles	19	19
Crossword	19	19
Editorials	19	19
Family Style	19	19
Financial	19	19
Goings On	19	19
Letters	19	19
Movies	19	19
Music	19	19
Notes on People	19	19
Opinion	19	19
Politics	19	19
Society	19	19
Sports	19	19
Theater	19	19
Transatlantic	19	19
TV and Radio	19	19
Weather	19	19

Battle Over Bomb Engulfed a Jewish

By [Name]... The battle over the bomb... engulfed a Jewish...

...stones at policemen in Alexandria, near Johannesburg. The man at left uses a can lid as a shield.

Violence in South Africa Spreads; Toll Is Put Near 100

Page 1, Col. 8... The violence in South Africa... has spread to the north and east...

At the University of the North, at Turfloop, near Pieterburg, 125 miles from the Rhodesia border, there was a confrontation between police and a crowd of 2,000 students who gathered at what had been announced as a prayer meeting for those killed in the Soweto riots.

Moments of Kindness In Blacks and Whites

Trust Grows Amid Shots and Salutes Africans Assisting Fleeing Officials

JOHANNESBURG, June 18 (UPI) — The black woman, wearing a colored doek scarf around her head and a pink smock—the dress of a servant of a white home—ran across the road, tears from the smoke streaming down her cheeks.

Not only the clinic and the schools were burned. So, too, were the movie theater and Mahlanga's shop in Alexandra, one of the black townships swept by rioting.

Clearing Area to Shoot "Please don't stand around here," the policeman said. There's shooting going on there. So, please get out of here, he said, indicating the rows of drab, dusty houses.

At the Alexandra police station, trucks loaded with policemen raced up, then departed. A hundred yards along the deserted rock-strewn road, stones rattled on the roof of a police truck.

South African Office Is Vandalized Here An unidentified man wrecked computer equipment and smashed a large plate glass window yesterday at the Fifth Avenue offices of the South African Airways.

Advertisement for Tiffany & Co. featuring a diamond ring and listing various jewelry items with prices.

Advertisement for NORSK furniture featuring a chair and a bed, with text: "It's a chair... It's a bed... It's a super space-saver!"

Advertisement for WIM & KAREN Scandinavian Furniture Inc. featuring a bedroom set and text: "Visit us and see our complete line of Bedroom sets"

Advertisement for JENNIFER HOUSE featuring convertible sofas and text: "$200 CONVERTIBLES"

United African Nations Talk of Violent Retaliation

Page 1, Col. 7... things, that for all South Africa's wish to portray to the world an image of relative peace and tranquility, and the promise eventually of bogus independence for black people, there are serious undercurrents of unrest and instability.

Man Dies in Belfast Blast BELFAST, Northern Ireland, June 18 (AP) — A bomb exploded in a crowded north Belfast bar today, killing one man and wounding at least 36 people, some of them seriously, the police reported.

Incident occurred in the airline agency at 805 Fifth Avenue, near 49th Street, shortly before 1 P.M. Two women receptionists told the police and agents from the Federal Bureau of Investigation that the intruder said nothing when asked what he was doing.

Both these editorials were overshadowed by others appearing in the Kenya Government's newly announced budget, which kept tax increases to a minimum.

Advertisement for HUNTING WORLD featuring a hunting bag and text: "IT'S THE REAL THING! FOR DADS AND GRADS..."

Advertisement for exotic marketing featuring a Chesterfield Model sofa and text: "Authentic Chesterfield Model"

Advertisement for WIM & KAREN featuring a bedroom set and text: "WIM & KAREN SCANDINAVIAN FURNITURE INC."

Advertisement for Something Afoot Theatre/West 45th featuring a musical production and text: "Something Afoot"

Hammacher Schlemmer

147 EAST 57th STREET

Invento Tap Water Filter

- COFFEE IS TASTIER
- ICE CUBES ARE CLEARER
- FROZEN JUICES TASTE FRESHER

All the benefits of bottled spring water. Just push a button. This filter makes tap water sparkle. Activated charcoal removes objectionable taste, odor, chlorine, discoloration caused by contaminants in suspension so drinks, foods prepared with water naturally taste better. Disposable filter lasts up to 8 months. Attaches to faucet, which can be used normally. .29.95 Extra Filter Cartridge 8.95

ELIMINATES CHLORINE

Brisker

Keeps crackers, cookies, cereals, nuts, pretzels, potato chips, crisp, crunchy and fresh. The box is electrically dehumidified. Dimensions are 10x18x9" deep, in neat modern chrome plate and styrene plastic. 24.95 Boat model same as above 12 volt 34.95

YOU MAY CHARGE TO YOUR BANKAMERICARD, DINER'S CLUB, AMERICAN EXPRESS OR MASTER CHARGE
INSTANT PHONE ORDERS: (212) 937-8181 OR (941) 946-7725

Magna Clean

A brand new idea in window cleaning. Sparkling clean windows, cleans both sides at once - and you don't have to go outside. No more ladders, no more reaching, no hanging out from heights. It's all done with a magnetized hand unit on which you place a damp cleaning tissue. This is inside. Outside a steel plate with another damp tissue. The inside holds the outside and you swish away dirt on both sides at once. Yes, there's a cord to retrieve the outside plate. Complete instructions, cleaning tissues and all. Easy does it. 14.95

Instant Safety Ladder

Always ready to use for a safe escape in time of fear or emergency. The rungs are of strong aluminum fastened by steel chain - the whole is rustproof and collapsible, it needs no installation - even a child can hook the top over any window sill and climb down to safety. 15' long for 2 stories. 24.95 25' long for 3 stories. 34.95

Invento Baggage Master

A do-it-yourself Red Cap for people who travel. Put the buckled bands with wheels around your luggage. Comes in a 7x8" carrying case for storage when not in use. By Invento. 12.95

Danip Free Closet Dehumidifier

Keep closets sweet and mildew-free electrically. Triple action continuously circulates dry warm air. Keeps clothes safe, shoes mildew-proof. UL approved. 36" rod, 10" cord. By Invento. 11.95

Hammacher Schlemmer

147 East 57th St., New York, N.Y. 10022
Instant Phone Orders: (212) 937-8181 or (914) 946-7725
N.Y.C. Add 8% sales tax. Elsewhere N.Y. State as applicable.

N.Y.'s Lightolier Track Specialists

Everything in track lighting systems for home, office, store, gallery. Skilled advice for decorators, do-it-yourselfers. Lightolier taste and quality at very affordable prices, from N.Y.'s track specialists.

LINCOLN LIGHTING CENTERS

rather an illuminating experience
761 Tenth Ave. (52nd) LT 1-7610
In White Plains, too: most exciting store in the East 7,000 sq. ft. of tubes, lamps, chandeliers. 169 Main St., 1 block W. of Mass'.

Panel Urges New Policies For Those of Mixed Race

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, June 18 (AP) — A special government-appointed commission recommended today fundamental social and political changes in South Africa's policy toward the nation's 2.4 million people of mixed race, those officially called Cape coloreds.

The Government's first reaction was to voice its opposition to the proposals, which include direct representation for coloreds in the all-white Parliament and provincial and local institutions, repeal of a law prohibiting mixed marriages and repeal of the section of the Immorality Act that bans sex between whites and nonwhites.

The commission's report was submitted to Parliament as a special document and its 178 recommendations. The report is the result of more than three years of work by an 18-member multiracial commission set up by the Government and headed by Frika Theron, a 69-year-old professor at Stellenbosch University.

In a preliminary white paper submitted to Parliament with the commission's recommendations, the Government of Prime Minister John Vorster said, "Any recommendation to the effect that direct representation be granted to coloreds in the existing parliamentary, provincial and local institutions is not acceptable to the Government."

In another passage, the white paper said that the Government was not prepared to change its standpoint "in the light of the South African situation in regard to the Immorality Act and the Prohibition of Mixed Marriages Act."

The Cape coloreds are descendants of the now extinct Hottentots who inhabited the western Cape area at the time of early white settlement. They are the offspring of black-white relationships and speak mainly Afrikaans, the language of South Africa's white minority. Their culture and religion is mainly Afrikaner-oriented, and they consider themselves to be "brown Afrikaners."

South Africa's nonwhite population consists also of 17.7 million blacks and 709,000 Asians who are listed as a separate category. There are 4.1 million whites.

The National Party Government's policy of apartheid insists on strict divisions based on color. For blacks, the policy means "separate development" and for Cape coloreds "parallel development."

The Interior Minister, Connie Mulder, once explained the latter as follows, "The National Party's policy for the coloreds is parallel development—and parallel lines are lines which never meet, even if you extend them into infinity."

The white paper today said: "The Government believes that its policy of parallel development, as compared with the past policies, has over the past quarter of a century been beneficial to the colored people themselves, and to the republic as a whole, and has produced many material benefits and development possibilities for the colored population."

"For this reason the Government cannot in any way commit itself to standpoints which would return the republic to a situation of political exploitation and conflicting group interests," it said.

Coloreds were prohibited from voting 20 years ago, and in 1968 the Government ended the right of coloreds to be represented by whites in Parliament and in the Cape provincial assembly. Instead, the government set up the Colored Representative Council.

NO Sales Tax on Clothing in N.Y.

Shop Mon-Thurs., Fri 9:30 other days 11

newsman design collection

For the man with refined taste - the avant-garde fashion trend

From Schlesinger International Design Room, Vestad Suf VAN GILS imported from Belgium. Contempo. European styling with lapels; shaped waist, shoulders. Fine wool/gabardine in navy, bright green. 36-46, R.

Schlesinger Charges invited; American Express honored

Phone (212) 564-6933 (201) 854-1500

Enjoy our hand-basted custom fitting service!

Other designers from $145 to $ Enriching in wear

Schlesinger's

Originated at 58th WEST NEW YORK, N.J.

56 WAYS TO Save money on Vitamin

Shop GNC... World's Largest Direct-by-Mail Vitamin Discount House!

SAVE MONEY!

VITAMIN E 1000 I.U. 100 Tablets No. 882 $1.98 500 - $8.75	Vitamin C 1000mg. with Rose Hips 100 Tablets No. 882 $1.98 500 - $8.75	Famous Diet Formula the All-in-ONE Kelp, Lecithin, B-6, Cider Vinegar Tablet, No. 71 Some product charges extra $2.45 B-4 100-98¢ 500-$3.88
---	--	---

COMPARE & SAVE!

Supertron Multi-Vitamins with Minerals No. 15 $1.98 250-$4.90	SOY Lecithin 8oz. $1.99 No. 96 $2.50	B-Complex No. 178 $2.98 No. 179 $2.98 No. 179 $2.98
---	---	--

SAVE UP TO 60% ON VITAMINS

Vitamin C 100mg. Tablets No. 38 59¢ 1000-$3.49	Ginseng 100mg. Tablets No. 2812 $1.98 500-$7.49	ZINC 10mg. TABLETS No. 2523 49¢ 1000-$3.99
---	---	---

WE PAY POSTAGE!

Mail coupon to: GENERAL NUTRITION CENTER, Dept. RA-42, Flatbush Ave. & Avenue U, Brooklyn, N.Y. 11234

Order Today! We Ship Same Day Order Received!

Product Name _____ Code No. _____ Size _____

Name _____ Address _____ City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Check Money order, for a total of $ _____

Bitter Roots

Handwritten signature or mark.

W8

NEW COSMETIC CUBE Ends Cosmetic Clutter!

What a beautiful way to organize your make-up! Amazing Cosmetic Cube looks like a "modern art" design winner, holds all your lipsticks, mascara, eye-liners, tweezers, brushes, eye shadow, nail polish, cheek gloss—plus, so much more! Makes everything instantly visible and easy to find. Saves time, trouble, keeps cosmetics from spilling and breaking. Does it all in less than 1/20th of a cubic foot! 3" mirror flips up at convenient eye-level. Folds to 4 1/4" cube, easy to slip into tote bag or suitcase. Cubes-crafted of high impact molded plastic. Looks great anywhere! To clean up that cosmetic clutter—turn any area into an instant dressing table—order now. ONLY $4.98.

90-DAY MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE!
Use Cosmetic Cube for 90 days—if not delighted simply return for prompt refund of purchase price!

BUY WITH CONFIDENCE ORDER TODAY!
JAY NORRIS Warehouse Outlet, 25 W. Merrick Rd., Dept. A-542, Freeport, N.Y. 11521
 Please rush me one Cosmetic Cube (271433) at purchase price $4.98 plus 80¢ shipping and handling.
 SAVE! Order TWO Cubes at purchase price of $8.98 plus $1.25 shipping and handling. Enclosed is check or money order for $..... Sorry, no C.O.D.'s (N.Y. residents add sales tax.)
PLEASE PRINT:
NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
CITY _____
STATE _____ ZIP _____
©Jay Norris Corp., 1976

JAY NORRIS 25 W. Merrick Rd., Freeport, N.Y. 11521
WAREHOUSE OUTLET
Come in hours: 9-5 (Mon. thru Fri.) (516) 548-8994
Serving Satisfied Customers for over 25 Years

A Dying City

Sheep Wander in War-Damaged Beirut And Bicycles Are Replacing the Cars

By JAMES M. MARKHAM
Special to The New York Times

BEIRUT, Lebanon, June 18 — Bicycles are enjoying a sudden vogue in western Beirut these days, threading through the dusty packs of sheep that wander through the streets, littered with splintered glass, shrapnel, shards of brick and smoking piles of garbage. On the sidelines cows graze on patches of grass in vacant lots.

Gasoline has become unobtainable in this car-loving city since Syrian troops took over a key crossroads south of Beirut and imposed a siege on the heavily Moslem quarters of western Beirut.

The sheep and the cows are slaughtered and sold immediately. The whimsical, intermittent electricity supply makes refrigeration impossible. It has also put a premium on canned goods.

Things useful in the siege: flashlight, candles, matches, a transistor radio, kerosene stove, strong legs for climbing stairs and a willingness to go without bread—a heresy in the Arab East.

It is not yet a vicious siege. The Syrians at the Khadhe crossroads seem to be letting some fruits and vegetables through, keeping prices at the usually exorbitant levels. Some merchants say that the Syrians are no different from anyone else—they can be bribed.

A Palestinian official, sitting in his crowded office in the Tralle el Jdeide section, was asked about the car convoys taking Americans, Britons and other Westerners out of Lebanon.

"I think its generally a sign of gloom on the part of the Brits and the Americans," he answered, puffing on a cigarette. "If I were a Brit or an American, I would get out."

The bread problem is definitely worsening.

"Me, I don't bother without bread," explains a Palestinian Christian woman. "But my children, they think they are not eating if they don't have bread."

The woman described waiting in a bread line from 10:30 P.M. until shortly before midnight, when two animals landed near the bakery. She fled.

"The next day, she came back, waited again in line, and was outraged when a youth waving an automatic weapon pushed his way to the head of the line."

"He said since he was fighting he could go first," the woman recounted. "I said who was he fighting. He's not fighting. He's just carrying a gun to steal, like most of them. I shouldn't have said that to him, but I don't care. I'm just fed up."

The woman says the bread lines have brought out simmering anti-Christian feelings in the Moslem quarters.

"It wasn't like this before, a few months ago," she said. "They call us 'pigs.' They say, 'Don't give the pigs bread.' We hear them. We're not pigs and they know it."

One of the things the politicians talk about here is that Elias Sarkis, a silent man who was elected President on May 8, will probably take over some day from Suleiman Franjeh, whose term expires on Sept. 23.

One diplomat speculated that the Syrians want to "crack a few more heads" before turning over power to Mr. Sarkis, who could then begin his term with a cleaner slate than the one Mr. Franjeh will have left behind him.

However, even if Mr. Franjeh agreed to turn over power to Mr. Sarkis, a constitutional dilemma has arisen. More than half of the 98 living deputies, the pillars of Lebanese democracy, have left the country.

Kamal al-Assad, the Moslem Speaker of Parliament, is said to be studying the legal implications of this mass flight of Lebanese lawmakers, who should provide a quorum at any swearing-in ceremonies.

The Lebanese is a businessman at heart," says the owner of a small food shop. "This siege will never work."

Still, the citizens of Beirut love their cars as much as they love their guns, which is a great deal. Last night, a pack of gunmen entered an apartment building in the Marra section, enlisted the assistance of the terrified concierge, who led the men from apartment to apartment while they systematically collected the car keys of the residents.

Politely, the gunmen issued slips of paper purporting to be from the Fabrik Palestinei organization, which, they said, was requisitioning the cars. By Beirut standards, it was a very civilized robbery.

Christian militia organizations in the eastern neighborhoods, which for long months were short of gasoline, have aggravated the siege by prohibiting gasoline transfers through the so-called "Mandelbaum Gate" near the National Museum.

The Christians in their bastion centered on the port town of Junieh, are now doing quite nicely for gasoline, which they are said to import by sea from Rumania, Syria, Cyprus and Greece. Indeed, the folks in Junieh are generally comfortable, watching with pleasure as the Syrians square off against their own Palestinian and leftist foes.

With the Beirut airport closed, with the roads to Damascus a bit precarious, with the Syrian Navy interdicting ships trying to slip in and out of Saïda and with the Beirut port a battlefield, the best way to enter and depart Lebanon is by air from Larnaca in Cyprus to Junieh.

A new ship, the Kunnella, is advertised: "Radar, radio-telephone, air-conditioned, two motors, commanded by an ex-colonel in the British Royal Navy. Insured by Lloyds 100 to 1."

The American Government's decision to urge its citizens, once again, to get out of Lebanon came at a time, oddly, when from a military point of view the situation seemed to be stabilizing. It has actually been possible to sleep for the last few nights without being jolted awake by the sound of artillery.

The slayings of the newly arrived Ambassador, Francis E. Meloy Jr., and Robert O. Waring, a well-liked, wry old hand at the embassy, came as a shock. But there is a distinct feeling among Americans that the decision to "respond" was made in Washington, not here. Americans who are still in Beirut after 14 months of unseparable savagery are not easily panicked.

Still, among Lebanese and Palestinians the sudden departure of foreigners, urged in alarmist, stentorian tones over the Voice of America and the BBC, is widely read as premonition of a showdown between the encroaching Syrian army and the Palestinian guerrillas.

For all the talk about an Arab League peacekeeping force to "replace the Syrians, few people here believe that President Hafez al-Assad plans to pull his soldiers back from the positions they have already taken.

There is an inexorable, glacial quality about the Syrian moves in Lebanon. Violence and counter-violence generate a momentum of their own.

But today in Beirut there is no atmosphere of a showdown. The once chic Marra Street has turned into a bustling street market. Children play in the streets with balls and toy tommy guns. Fishermen dynamite the sea. New clay is being laid on the tennis courts at the Cercle de la Renaissance Sportive.

THE GREAT ORIENTAL RUG SALE. AT BROOKLYN PRICES.

Just across the bridge are showcase Oriental treasures at half the price of those fashionable Eastside places...Why pay more?

A PARTIAL LISTING
		Reg.	Sale
Caucasian, Antiq.	3.0x3.0	$38.	$20.
Caucasian, Antiq.	3.0x3.3	55.	30.
Chinese, Semi. Antiq.	2.0x2.6	55.	30.
Chinese, Semi. Antiq.	9.3x11.8	95.	55.
Fareghan, Antiq.	9.4x13.8	200.	75.
Karaja, Antiq.	3.2x4.7	125.	75.
Kimanshah, Antiq.	8.7x10.0	350.	85.
Belouch, Antiq.	2.4x5.5	250.	95.
Kimari, Antiq.	3.6x3.8	250.	150.
Chinese, Antiq.	2.0x3.0	350.	175.
Kazak, Antiq. Prayer	3.0x3.0	300.	175.
Tabriz, Antiq.	2.5x4.1	400.	185.
Indo-Afghanistan	4.4x6.2	225.	145.
Sahna, Antiq.	1.0x3.1	250.	145.
Agristan, Antiq.	10.0x12.9	500.	225.
Sourmak, Antiq.	5.3x7.2	500.	275.
Chinese, Semi. Antiq.	4.2x10.8	500.	325.
Meshkin	2.0x1.8	425.	350.
Cushak, Antiq.	11.8x19.5	1200.	350.
Hamadan, Semi. Antiq.	10.7x13.8	900.	450.
Gorevan, Semi. Antiq.	8.4x11.0	800.	450.
Bokara, Antiq.	7.0x10.9	1200.	495.
Bokara	8.2x11.9	800.	550.
Indo-Caucasian	4.0x8.1	800.	550.
Sarapi, Antiq.	9.0x13.8	1250.	575.
Herez, Semi. Antiq.	8.2x10.8	900.	575.
Sparia, Semi. Antiq.	12.0x19.8	1500.	750.
Kazak, Antiq.	5.2x3.3	4500.	850.
Sahna, Antiq.	4.4x3.3	4500.	850.
Meshkin	7.0x10.9	1250.	850.
Sarouk, Semi. Antiq.	10.5x13.4	4500.	950.
Kashan, Semi. Antiq.	8.9x12.0	2000.	975.
Afghan	6.8x10.7	1400.	975.
Chindia	12.0x20.0	3600.	1950.
Kimari, New	13.5x16.0	4500.	2350.
Isfahan, Antiq.	13.9x24.2	3600.	2700.
Isfahan, Antiq.	11.9x19.5	4500.	2800.
Hamadan, Antiq.	12.3x23.5	4500.	3800.

Brooklyn's largest buyer & seller of antique & used Oriental Rugs.
D. Kalraian & Son Since 1907
475 Atlantic Avenue (Between 3rd Avenue & Nevins Street) TR 5-2222
Open Sundays: 10:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M.
Mon-Sat: 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M.

Instant breakfast mix

The New York Times. Call toll-free 800-325-6400 and arrange for home delivery. Available through independent route dealers for an extra service charge.

The most amazing improvement in planters since the flower pot!

SUPER POT GROWS SUPER PLANTS • Only $1.98 WITH SAUCER

UNRETROCCED PHOTOS!
INVENTED BY A PROFESSIONAL GROWER
Now Available for Home Use!

PLASTIC POT
Compare these grape ivy plants! Only 6 weeks in Super Pot made the amazing difference!

CLAY POT
Both crotan plants started from same size. Super Pot made the one on the right bigger, healthier!

SUPER POT
Compare these grape ivy plants! Only 6 weeks in Super Pot made the amazing difference!

SUPER POT
Both crotan plants started from same size. Super Pot made the one on the right bigger, healthier!

Just roots need air if the plant is to make a good growth. Over-watering drowns them. They rot, get no air to breathe, leaves yellow and drop... and it's goodbye plant! Now a professional grower has invented Super Pot—with 2 "legs" to spread the roots, 30 breather holes to aerate roots and provide automatic drainage. Re-pot your sick, over-watered plants in Super Pot and watch them recover, grow green and bushy! Super Pot gives you a green thumb!

—gallon (6" diameter) and 2-gallon (8 1/2" diameter) sizes—your choice of terra cotta or bright yellow, in high-gloss decorative plastic, complete with matching saucer. Order in quantity and save—get extras for unique gifts—not sold in stores! Mail coupon now!

MAK NO-RISK COUPON TODAY!
AMERICAN SHOP Dept. 8778
4744 Fox Pavilion, Lansdale, PA 19046
Please send me Super Pot(s) listed below.
1-gallon size with matching saucer, only $1.98 each plus 25¢ postage & handling, 4 for $7.95, plus $1 postage & handling.
—(D774) Bright Yellow
—(D774) Terra Cotta
2-gallon size with matching saucer, only $2.98 each plus 25¢ postage & handling, 4 for $11.95, plus $1 postage & handling.
—(D774) Bright Yellow
—(D774) Terra Cotta
If other matching my order I'm not delighted, I may return it within 10 days and you will refund the full purchase price (except postage & handling).
Total amount enclosed $.....
(Cash, residents add 7% sales tax.)
Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____
AMERICAN CONSUMER STORE
40 Wilkes Rd., Westport, Conn. 06880
Phone: (203) 861-2000, 24 hrs. Mon-Fri.

If you don't want to waste money on film and processing, don't waste time... order NOW!

BRING THIS COUPON WITH YOU OR MAIL WITH YOUR ORDER

PICTURAMA 1 Picturama Plaza Englewood, N.J. 07631

PLEASE SEND THE FOLLOWING: SINGLE 3 PACK 6 PACK 12 PACK COST

Kodacolor C-110-12 exp. (for Pocket Instamatic Camera)	2.79	8.37	16.24	33.48
Kodacolor C-126-12 exp. (for Instamatic Camera)	2.79	8.37	16.24	33.48
Kodacolor C-110-20 exp. (for Pocket Instamatic Camera)	3.89	11.07	21.64	44.28
Kodacolor C-126-20 exp. (for Instamatic Camera)	3.89	11.07	21.64	44.28
Kodacolor C-135-20 exp. (CSM)	3.89	11.07	21.64	44.28
Kodacolor C-135-36 exp. (CS M40)	6.19	18.57	36.64	74.28

SLIDE FILM WITH PROCESSING

Kodacolor C-110-12 exp. (for Pocket Instamatic Camera)	3.15	9.45	18.40	37.80
Kodacolor C-126-12 exp. (for Instamatic Camera)	4.40	13.20	25.50	52.80
Kodacolor C-135-20 exp. (for Pocket Instamatic Camera)	3.29	9.87	19.24	39.48

MAKING PICTURE TAKING FUN FOR OVER 50 YEARS

PICTURAMA 1 PICTURAMA PLAZA
Hirsch Street at Grand Avenue
ENGLEWOOD, N.J. 07631

(212) 736-3970
(201) 569-8539

"TUMMY TRIMMER" SALE

LIMIT 2 TO A CUSTOMER ONLY $19.95 COMPLETE USE YOUR CREDIT CARD
Thousands of Competitive Models Sold at $49.95, $29.95, $21.95

BEAT BELLY BULGE... WITHOUT DIETING!

No matter how many rich and delicious desserts you pass up... you'll still have "tummy bulge" because it's not caused by fat — but by slack muscles. Now, with the amazing Tummy Trimmer, you can rid yourself of that unattractive belly — WITHOUT DIETING!

Yes, you can have a firm, flat abdomen in only minutes a day in the privacy of your own home. No rigorous routines... No starvation diets... No months of frustrating exercises. Just one easy back-and-forth motion on the Tummy Trimmer can give you noticeable results faster than you ever dreamed possible!

WOMEN! Helps you have that "bikini girl" profile you've always wanted... tone upper arms, waist, hips, thighs — bustline, too!

MEN! Mold a masculine body in just a few simple minutes a day... make that paunchy "bay window" tight-drum, have those broad shoulders and powerful thighs you've long desired.

EASY! Just kneel on the padded rolling platform, get the handlebars, and push the platform back and forth you choose how far — how fast — how long! This air steady motion tones up, strengthens scores of muscles your abdominal region, muscles that quickly become board-hard and hold you in naturally — like a living GI. And your shoulders, arms, legs, and buttocks also get proved muscle tone, so you feel great all over!

Tummy Trimmer is made of strong tubular steel with shiny plated finish. The upholstered rolling platform comfortable on your knees. It comes with simple instructions and stores easily under a bed or in a closet.

Thousands have paid up to $49.95 for similar competitive machines! Now, for the first time, we've been able to reduce the price to under $20! Rush to get yours while this sale lasts — or order 2 if you wish — one for a partner — and save even more. (Sorry, limit 2 Tummy Trimmers per order at these prices!) Mail coupon now!

TRY IT 14 DAYS AT OUR RISK
Tummy Trimmer must help you lose that stomach bulge, slim down and firm up abdomen, increase muscle tone, and give you a slimmer firmer profile — or your money back!

MAIL NO-RISK COUPON TODAY!
AMERICAN CONSUMER STORE Dept. TTR-2
50 Wilkes Rd., Westport, Conn. 06880
I want to beat belly bulge! Please send me (1) Tummy Trimmer(s) at the sensational price of only $19.95 each, plus $1 postage & handling.
SAVE! Order 2 Tummy Trimmers for only $34.98 plus $1 postage & handling. (Sorry — limit 2.)
I'll try it 14 days and if I'm not delighted I may return it for a full refund (except postage & handling).
Total amount enclosed $.....
(Cash, residents add 7% sales tax.)
Check or money order, no C.O.D.'s please.
NAME: (Print name and Exp. Date) _____
 Discover American Express MasterCard Bank Charge
Exp. date _____
Card # _____
Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Jay Coolidge

مكتبات الاصل

US CITIZENS IN LEBANON

From Page 1, Col. 5... ally all 1,410 American citizens do have American...

President Ford and advisers at the White House on Thursday, during one of several meetings on the evacuation of Americans from Lebanon. Others are, from left: Gen. George S. Brown, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; George Bush, director of Central Intelligence; Richard B. Cheney, presidential assistant; L. Dean Brown, who recently served as special envoy to Lebanon; Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

Ford Cancels Campaign Trip, Citing the Situation in Lebanon

Continued From Page 1, Col. 5... At a press briefing, Robert L. Furoth, the State Department spokesman, said that Ambassador Meloy's last cablegram to Washington before he was killed in an ambush...

At a press briefing, Robert L. Furoth, the State Department spokesman, said that Ambassador Meloy's last cablegram to Washington before he was killed in an ambush...

At a press briefing, Robert L. Furoth, the State Department spokesman, said that Ambassador Meloy's last cablegram to Washington before he was killed in an ambush...

Court-Martial Witnesses Call Dead Marine a Troublemaker

SAN DIEGO, June 18 (AP)—Pvt. Lynn McClure was a troublemaker who brought on his own fatal injuries by antagonizing his fellow marines during a training exercise, Government witnesses testified today at the court-martial of Sgt. Harold Bronson.

Sergeant Bronson, 30 years old, is the first of four marines scheduled for court-martial in Private McClure's death.

In his first public statement about the case, Sergeant Bronson told reporters outside the courtroom that he had no regrets about the pugil stick training bouts in which Private McClure was beaten into a convulsive coma.

Deal Final Blows... A half-dozen recruits who witnessed or took part in the fights appeared for the Government over the last three days and none of them were willing to criticize Sergeant Bronson directly.

At a press briefing, Robert L. Furoth, the State Department spokesman, said that Ambassador Meloy's last cablegram to Washington before he was killed in an ambush...

At a press briefing, Robert L. Furoth, the State Department spokesman, said that Ambassador Meloy's last cablegram to Washington before he was killed in an ambush...

At a press briefing, Robert L. Furoth, the State Department spokesman, said that Ambassador Meloy's last cablegram to Washington before he was killed in an ambush...

At a press briefing, Robert L. Furoth, the State Department spokesman, said that Ambassador Meloy's last cablegram to Washington before he was killed in an ambush...

At a press briefing, Robert L. Furoth, the State Department spokesman, said that Ambassador Meloy's last cablegram to Washington before he was killed in an ambush...

At a press briefing, Robert L. Furoth, the State Department spokesman, said that Ambassador Meloy's last cablegram to Washington before he was killed in an ambush...

At a press briefing, Robert L. Furoth, the State Department spokesman, said that Ambassador Meloy's last cablegram to Washington before he was killed in an ambush...

Convoy Goes to Damascus

According to word from the scene, a 13-vehicle convoy organized by the British Embassy and including some Americans traveled from Beirut to Damascus today. Tomorrow's convoy, also to Damascus, is also being organized by the British.

Ford Confers Again

At the State Department, Mr. Furoth said that the administration had received "assurances of safe conduct" for the Saturday convoy but declined to elaborate because the operation is a sensitive one.

Bomb in Bed Kills Argentina's Chief Of Federal Police

BUENOS AIRES, June 18 (Reuters)—The Argentine federal police chief was killed today when a bomb hidden under the mattress of his bed exploded, police sources said.

Arab Forces Expected Soon

DAMASCUS, Syria, June 18 (Reuters)—The Secretary General of the Arab League, Mahmoud Riad, said today he expected an Arab truce supervision force to take up duties in Lebanon within 48 hours.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese leftist groups have been active in the Beirut area, according to a report from the United Nations.

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese Leftist Group

Lebanese Leftist Group

Advertisement for BFO clothing. Features a man in a suit and text: 'Distinctively Bold, Summer SPORT COATS and CLASSIC BLAZERS None higher than $45... Others $35'. Includes a list of prices for various items like suits, slacks, and shirts.

Vertical advertisement for 'THE GREAT MENTAL RUGS' and 'BROOKLYN PR'. Includes text about 'A PARTIAL LISTING' and 'YE AT OUR RISK'.

ARMY OFFICER

SUMMER IS FOR KIDS HELP THE FRESH AIR FUND

OTHER LOCATIONS: YONKERS - In the BFO/Waldheim Shopping Plaza (former site of Patricia Murphy's) 1745 Central Ave. just north of Tuckahoe Road. Phone (914) 961-6700. Open Mon. through Fri. Noon till 10 PM. Open Sat. 10 AM-7 PM. Closed Sun.

CLEFTON, N.J. - 650 Getty Avenue (Stress Factory Bldg. Adjoining the Garden State Parkway) Phone (201) 546-9300. Open Mon. through Fri. Noon till 10 PM. Open Sat. 10 AM-7 PM. Closed Sun.

CINCINNATI - Gantry Shops, 745 Swift Center

Ford Aides Deny Politics Had Role in Lebanon Step

His Decision to Stay in White House Is Strongly Defended—Possibility Of Problems Arising Noted

By JAMES M. NAUGHTON
Special to The New York Times

WASHINGTON, June 18—Associated Press, Gov. Robert White House officials credited D. Ray, a Ford ally, said that President Ford today with putting policy ahead of politics in deciding to monitor the departure of Americans from Lebanon rather than campaign in Iowa.

Some policy level officials of the State Department privately expressed surprise at the President's sudden cancellation of an appearance at the Iowa Republican Convention in Des Moines.

If President Hafez al-Assad of Syria "can go to France" amid the struggle in neighboring Lebanon, said one State Department official, "why can't President Ford go to Iowa?"

But White House and Ford campaign aides said, some of them in heated language, that the President had not considered the political implications of his decision to remain here, and that he had not consulted his campaign leaders on it.

"There is always the potential that a problem could arise in the voluntary evacuation of American citizens from Lebanon," a senior White House aide said. "If certain actions have to be taken, it's reasonable for the President to be here to oversee the process."

Another Ford assistant called the situation in Lebanon "too dicey" to take chances.

Answer Seen in Outcome
Peter F. Kaye, the Ford campaign spokesman, said that no one would know until all 38 Iowa delegates to the Republican National convention had been elected if it had helped or hurt the President's candidacy to cancel a joint appearance in Des Moines with Ronald Reagan.

"It might help by reminding people that he's President and he's in the business of having to live with the tough decisions," Mr. Kaye said. "But Reagan is going to be there working on the delegates, and we're not."

The President and Mr. Reagan were to have come face to face, the first such encounter in the eight months of their rivalry for the Presidential nomination. Mr. Ford sent his wife, Betty, and son, Jack, to solicit delegate support.

In Iowa, according to the Arriving in Des Moines to attend the state G.O.P. convention, Betty Ford was accompanied by Mary Louise Smith, chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Carter's Constituency

Analysis of Polls Shows His Appeal Almost Equal in All Kinds of Groups

By ROBERT REINHOLD
Special to The New York Times

WASHINGTON, June 18—So his success perhaps cannot be fully "explained" by examining the kind of voters who have backed him in victory after victory. Still, opinion surveys taken of voters in key primary states, along with polls of national election sentiments, give some important clues about the Carter appeal, and suggest the kind of race he is likely to run against the Republican contender.

A reexamination of the factors behind his spectacular success in the Democratic primaries finds that he put together a majority unlike that compiled by any other Democratic candidate in recent memory. He has the support both of black voters and the whites who used to vote for George Wallace. He did about equally well among Democrats on both sides of most major issues, and served as a powerful magnet pulling back those Democrats who defected to the Republicans four years ago. But he never fully succeeded in winning over the party's potent liberal wing.

To a large extent, the enigmatic Georgians triumphal march through the primaries, culminating in the collapse of nearly all Democratic opposition this week, was probably the product of exceptionally shrewd political strategy. He showed his way in and out of the political obstacles like a champion slalom skier.

President in two such states, Wisconsin and Michigan. At stake in Iowa, the only convention state in the final 10 with a contest that had been considered close, were 36 national convention delegates.

Reagan Flies to Iowa to Argue His Case Before District and State Conventions

By R. W. APPLE JR. Special to The New York Times

DES MOINES, June 18—Ronald Reagan flew from his California home to Iowa today to argue his case personally before delegates to the state's Republican district and state conventions.

But the expected confrontation between President Ford and his rival at a fund-raising dinner tonight failed to materialize when the President, pleading the pressure of the Lebanon crisis, canceled his plans to travel here.

"He has to stay in Washington and be President," commented his wife, Betty, who came here in his stead.

Among Iowa Republicans, the remark reinforced suspicions that Mr. Ford had decided he could win more votes by acting "Presidential" than by sharing a platform with an adversary noted for his theatrical appeal.

Mr. Reagan spoke from the steps of the Veterans' Auditorium, where tomorrow's convention will be held, and appeared before several Congressional district caucuses, before flying to Spokane, Wash., where that state's Republicans will also meet tomorrow.

Mrs. Ford asserted at a reception at the Savery Hotel that her husband had fostered peace, improved the economy and restored integrity to the White House—like opening the windows and letting all the hot air out.

"I don't know why, when things are going so well, they should want to make a change," the First Lady said.

Cites Support
The former California Governor told the Third District caucus that no Republicans could be elected this fall without independent and Democratic support, and argued that his electoral record in California and in this year's Presidential primaries proved he could attract such backing.

"In primaries where Democrats can cross over, I have won without fail," Mr. Reagan said, despite his losses to the process assembled here in the capital of this fertile farm state. Mr. Reagan appeared to lead in three districts and Mr. Reagan in two, with one considered very close.

Although Gov. Robert D. Ray, a Ford supporter, said at a news conference this morning that both sides "are going after all the delegates they can get," he and other party leaders were reportedly working behind the scenes to effect compromise that would minimize intraparty strife.

Iowa's precinct caucuses, the first in the nation, were held on Jan. 19 and provided a sound forecast of national political behavior. Mr. Ford and Mr. Reagan ran neck-and-neck, with the President slightly ahead, while on the Democratic side Jimmy Carter, the former Governor of Georgia, easily outdistanced his rivals.

At the caucuses, delegates were elected to 99 county conventions on Feb. 28. Those conventions chose delegates to the district and state conventions this weekend.

A Des Moines Register poll taken in late April, at a time when Mr. Ford was still dominating the primaries, showed the widest leading Mr. Reagan, 51 to 29 percent.

But Mr. Reagan, who retains a large following here from his pre-Hollywood days as a sportscaster on radio station WHO, apparently compensated to some degree by mounting a more thorough organizational effort.

"I think after the precinct caucuses the Reagan people just kept working hard," said Governor Ray, whom the President nicked to head the Platform Committee at the Kansas City convention, "while some of the Ford people just kept thinking that the President is the incumbent and will naturally do well."

Mr. Ford held a tenuous lead in the national delegate count as this weekend's convention activity began.

The New York Times's tabulation showed the President with 963 of the 1,130 delegates needed for nomination. Mr. Reagan had 879, 162 were uncommitted and 255 remained to be chosen.

Also scheduled for the weekend were the following:

The selection of 38 delegates in the state of Washington, where Mr. Reagan was expected to win at least 32 in the continuation of his dominance of western states.

The selection of 17 delegates in Delaware, where party officials have already assembled a technically uncommitted slate that the convention is expected to ratify. Of the 17 persons on the slate, 13 have announced their support of the President and one is considered pro-Reagan.

A convention in Colorado's Second District, where Mr. Reagan seems likely to win all three delegates.

The addition of four at-large delegates in Texas, all of whom will probably favor Mr. Reagan, who won the state's other 96 delegates in a sweep of the May 1 primary.

A roughly even split between Mr. Ford and Mr. Reagan in the Iowa delegation would give the Californian a net gain of about 20 delegates, reducing the President's over-all lead to about 65.

Illinois Disaster Declared
WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—President Ford declared a major disaster for the state of Illinois today to permit the use of Federal funds for recovery efforts after severe storms, tornadoes and flooding that began on June 13.

SUMMER IS FOR KIDS
HELP THE FRESH AIR FUND

MISSIONS GOT 3% OF DONATED FUNDS

Continued From Page 1, Col. 4

lowed. But the Archbishop said: "I want to encourage a spirit of forgiveness. I shall work and encourage people to overcome this wrongdoing by generous acts of forgiveness."

That attitude reportedly was not shared by Maryland's Attorney General, Francis B. Burch. A spokesman for the state's top prosecutor said that a grand jury investigation of the Pallottine activities was "a distinct possibility."

The spokesman said that the Very Rev. Guido John Carcich, the former head of Pallottine Inc., could face "possible criminal prosecution" if a state investigation confirmed published reports suggesting contract kickbacks or the "laundering" of campaign funds through the order's bank accounts.

Father Carcich was removed from his post here in April, and the church authorities said today that he would face no further disciplinary action from the Pallattines.

Wide Impact Feared
The disclosures of abuses were regarded as likely to have a serious impact on the Pallottine order's now greatly reduced fund-raising activities.

Both Archbishop Borders and the Very Rev. Domenico T. Graziadio, the Provincial Superior of the Pallottines, with headquarters at Pennsylvania, N. J., expressed concern today that the impact would extend to other church and charitable organizations and would reflect on the Roman Catholic Church as a whole.

Father Graziadio said, "We admit that serious mistakes and judgmental errors have been made and for this we are truly sorry." He promised that millions of dollars invested in Florida motels, trailer parks and condominiums, in a motel under construction at Kitty Hawk, N. C., and in loans to Maryland business and political friends of the order would be "liquidated" through sales and debt collections and put to the order's widely advertised purpose—fighting poverty, disease and hunger abroad.

Mandel Loan Disclosure
One of the outstanding debts disclosed today, an item listed among $3.5 million in Pallottine business losses, was part of a loan to Governor Mandel.

In response to reporters' questions today, Joseph M. Moore of Philadelphia, the order's lawyer, said that in his examination of the order's books he found that $-2,000 of the reimbursement had been with the Pallottine money. The $42,000 was for an unsecured loan for order by Charles E. B. Towson, Md., lawyer, five days before the re was made. Mr. Moore called that "a coincidence too great to believe."

"The legal obligation Brooks' out" we as ultimate recipient was nor Mandel," the law and Mr. Brooks is re reply because the mo tantly to Mr. Mandel Mandel Associa:

C. Dennis Webst wealthy land develop a nephew of Donald star, the Pallottines' adviser, Donald Web Governor Mandel's I paid treasurer. Mr. I today that Donald We told him the repayme $42,000 Brooks' loa start with the Gover

In Annapolis, a s for Mr. Mandel said t nor would have no i comment.

The Mandel loan w controversial because ey was reportedly us some of the costs of del's 1974 divorce s The Catholic church divorce, Archbishop said today that the had denied in a tele- vation order's now g settlement.

Mr. Mandel faces court trial here in on charges of consp five political and bu sociates in influence

The Pallottines are have been involved w of the other defende estate and business: An audit like thi today usually includ counants' opinion" that the books are i But many of the tions under Fathe were so intricate th of Arthur Anderson pany, the Philadelphia ing firm that Pallottine audit for diocese, declined b an opinion" on the of the order's books $2 Million Lo

In a general way, did verify reports, a part earlier this Baltimore Sun and ington Post, that Father Carcich ha more than $5 million; "businessary" purpo estate, including siter sites in Maryland, sylvania, condomia opments in Pennsy New Jersey and a land, Fla., and a m at Kitty Hawk, N. C of these properties million, the audit as

Democratic Chiefs Shun Major Texas Fund Dinner

By JAMES P. STERBA Special to The New York Times

HOUSTON, June 18—Expressing party unity but displaying very little of it, the Democrats staged a major fund-raising event here last night at which all the major party leaders except Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. of California canceled appearances.

Jimmy Carter telephoned to ask Robert S. Strauss to continue on the job as Democratic national chairman through the November election. Senators Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts telephoned to praise Mr. Strauss, the honored guest.

But it was Governor Brown who captured most of the attention, signed the most autographs, and received the most applause and squeals from some 5,000 persons in attendance.

"I think unity has its place, but so does diversity," he told reporters who asked why he alone, among the Democratic Presidential contenders, had not rallied behind Mr. Carter. He called the windfall endorsements of Mr. Carter after last Tuesday's primaries a "rush to judgment" and he said he would continue his campaign. Asked about being Vice President, Mr. Brown said:

"I'm not interested in it, I'm not seeking it, and I wouldn't accept it if Mr. Carter were to offer it."

Glenn Shows Up
On the eve of the party's state convention, many Texan Democrats came to the rally hoping to see and hear Mr. Carter, Senators Kennedy and Humphrey, Senator Frank Church of Idaho and Representative Morris K. Udall of Arizona. But all of them canceled appearances at the last minute, citing vacations and work as their reasons.

Senator John Glenn of Ohio, a possible Vice-Presidential choice for Mr. Carter, did show up. But besides Governor Brown, he was the only big-name politician from out of state on the podium.

That left a bevy of Texas Democrats, led by Senator Lloyd Bentsen and Gov. Dolph Briscoe, to heap praise on Mr. Strauss for leading the Democrats out of their 1972 shambling. Bob Armstrong, the Texas Land Commissioner, who ran Mr. Carter's primary campaign in the state, was introduced as "the next Secretary of the Interior."

Except for Mr. Armstrong, all the state's Democratic leaders had backed Senator Bentsen as a favorite son in the Texas primary, and he lost bad-

Ronald Reagan is amused as his wife wraps herself in a blanket to ward off the chill aboard his plane, heading from Los Angeles to Republican meetings in Des Moines.

For Da

This Father give him the um he can carry pocket. The umbrella. So e open and close ar enough to prote Windproof with a lif guaranteed frame; 100% in jet black with z case. Gift packaged $

New Nite Brité unit with reflective strip same features as all 7 umbrellas. Gift packaged $

INNOVATIO

The metropolitan area's largest luggage de Open 6 nights till 9:30/All major credit cards accept Willowbrook Mall, Wayne Hills Mall, Route 22 Springfield, Route 4 Pk, West New York, N.J., King's Plaza, Brooklyn and at the World Trade

Handwritten signature or scribble at the bottom of the page.

Alian-Military Panel on Academy Honor Codes Is Urged in House

JAMES FERON

Chairman of the House Armed Services Committee...

of the Military Personnel subcommittee...

They would be required to examine the honor codes...

Benjamin A. Gilman, Republican of Rockland, Orange and Putnam Counties...

when the Senate Armed Services subcommittee on Manpower and Personnel begins several days of hearings...

West Point entered the month, Mr. Price, an... asked the secretary...

The code at West Point, which is administered merely and unilaterally...

The panel would also investigate the academic functions of the academies...

Harris loses plea on delay; trial set to start Monday...

the appeal, which was based on grounds of pretrial publicity...

Secretary Study Asked...

They have also charged in some cases that West Point officials sought to play down the current cheating scandal...

The House legislation is similar in scope, but it envisions a 17-member panel that would work for a year rather than the smaller unspecified unit recommended by the House report...

LOS ANGELES, June 18 (AP) — The trial of William and Emily Harris will apparently begin on Monday...

the State Supreme Court refused yesterday to grant a stay in the trial, apparently clearing the way for it to start Monday...

in his letter to Secretary of Defense... in the House seeking a panel of civilian experts and on the hearings on the honor code of a subcommittee of the Armed Services...

to complete its work, the legislation was submitted by Representative Thomas J. Downey, a Democrat of Suffolk, and...

LOS ANGELES, June 18 (AP) — The trial of William and Emily Harris will apparently begin on Monday...

the State Supreme Court refused yesterday to grant a stay in the trial, apparently clearing the way for it to start Monday...

at 8 P.M. at 2 & 7 P.M.

2 PERFS. TODAY 2:30 & 8:00 "The Sleeping Beauty"

THE BELLE OF AMHERST IS THE MOST STIMULATING EVENT OF THE SEASON!

FINAL 2 PERFS! TODAY at 2 & 8 WINNER 1976 DRAMA DESK & OUTER CRITICS CIRCLE AWARDS

VANTIES: A WINNER!

UNDERS MOTION

Pennsylvania Ballet

THE NORMAN CONQUESTS

THE AUSTRALIAN BALLET

RUSSIAN FESTIVAL

MAHL

THE RUNNER WHO STUMBLES

THE NORMAN CONQUESTS

RUSSIAN FESTIVAL

NEW YORK CITY BALLET

MAHL

THE RUNNER WHO STUMBLES

THE NORMAN CONQUESTS

RUSSIAN FESTIVAL

NEW YORK CITY BALLET

MAHL

THE RUNNER WHO STUMBLES

THE NORMAN CONQUESTS

RUSSIAN FESTIVAL

NEW YORK CITY BALLET

Come to Madama Butterfly in Yankee Stadium at 8:30 tonight. Free.

It's the growing thing. Gates open at 6:30 pm. Seating will be in the stands. (Rain date: June 20th, Van Cortlandt Park.)

THE BELLE OF AMHERST IS THE MOST STIMULATING EVENT OF THE SEASON! JULIE HARRIS THE BELLE OF AMHERST

FINAL 2 PERFS! TODAY at 2 & 8 WINNER 1976 DRAMA DESK & OUTER CRITICS CIRCLE AWARDS

Hurok presents The Australian Ballet The Merry Widow Margot Fonteyn

VANTIES: A WINNER! ... pop rallies, drive-ins, the Summer VANTIES is a weekly party...

GODSPELL PRELUDES TODAY at 2 & 8 P.M., SUNDAY at 3 P.M.

THEATER DIRECTORY

Grid of theater listings including EQUUS, GODSPELL, THE RUNNER WHO STUMBLES, THE NORMAN CONQUESTS, RUSSIAN FESTIVAL, NEW YORK CITY BALLET, and others.

Vertical advertisement for 'For' featuring a woman's face and the word 'Innovation'.

Vertical advertisement for 'Rodgers & Hart's Pal Joey' and 'The Paul Taylor Dance Company'.

مكتبة الامم المتحدة

Id, Meryl Streep, Actors to Hilt

... have been in that... years. I didn't... a living room... household word. I... to be identified... actor like other... spot quarreling... I had five kids... but I don't... Mr. Rudd, the ar... actor sound... the demise of... the short-... cored specta... canny, calcula... chauffeur. He... that the series... he was also... sent him back... the theater, his... he recently... confused young... David Rabe's... hand where he... ing for the title role in "Henry V" which starts Thursday at Joseph Papp's New York Shakespeare Festival in Central Park. It was there during a break in rehearsals that Mr. Rudd and Meryl Streep, his French princess in the play — she will also be doing Isabella in "Measure for Measure" — spoke to a visitor about how young American actors and actresses meet the challenge of Shakespeare, how they make up for the lack of that tradition that seems to be the birthright of every English player, but comes harder to our thespians.

Both indicated that, though it would have been nice to possess a nurturing tradition, it was not a lack that was crippling, or one to mean over. "I can't miss what I never had," said Miss Streep who only a year out of Yale Drama School was nomi-

ated for a Tony earlier this season for her performance in "27 Wagons Full of Cotton." "I envy the wealth of experience they can call on, but we have a different tradition in America that is just as strong. It has to do with being a craft, you learn by doing," Mr. Rudd added. "The plays are to be done, not read. I chose the tennis ball speech [from "Henry V"] to audition for my first job in Papp's "Henry IV" in 1968 and I got it."

The New York Times/Tony Deane

and Rudd and Meryl Streep rehearse "Henry V" in Central Park. "Season Hill" was a great break for him, but Shakespeare is better

Im, the Battle of 'Midway' Is Lost

... against the Japanese who lost four large carriers and never again seriously threatened American sea power in the central Pacific. It was also the battle that established beyond doubt the leading role that carriers were to play in the Pacific war.

Most of these things are reported quite dutifully by the film, but for anyone seriously interested in Midway, I'd recommend a reading of the late Samuel Eliot Morison's fastidiously documented account in his "History of United States Naval Operations in World War II."

formed of Gen. Jimmy Doolittle's token air raid on Tokyo in early 1942, "this is a blessing in disguise. There'll be no more foot-dragging by the general staff." Small talk among flag officers is one of the film's more minor problems.

... which opened the Rivoli and attempts to circumvent the battle of June 4-5, frivolously small saved Admiral Nimitz a larger whose movie product. To-shiro Mifune from his share of duds. "Ah," says the movie's Yamamoto when in-

At many theaters, the film is being shown with sound effects in Sensurround, the system of low-frequency sound signals sent more effectively in "Sensurround" that are supposed to recreate the sense of the battle but here—simply annoy the ears. At the beginning of the movie, the producers warn that they will not be responsible for the audience's physical or emotional reactions to Sensurround. They say nothing about the audience's physical or emotional reactions to the movie itself. Producers aren't completely stupid.

The film has been rated PG. It would be difficult to make a movie, even a bad one, about a battle like Midway and not show some violence or over-the-top action. The film is using raw words to describe their occasional impotence.

GOING OUT Guide

... performed on early, authentic American instruments at the Jamaica Arts Center, 161-04 Jamaica Avenue in Queens. The six players belong to the Federal Music Society, a group organized by Frederick R. Selch, music collector and scholar, to salute the Bicentennial.

... home was built in 1763 and became military headquarters for both General Washington and the British General Clinton and later was the residence of Aaron Burr. The Georgian structure is surrounded by a garden.

... Another carnival is scheduled for Lower Manhattan today, noon to 7 P.M., presented by the West 13th Street Neighborhood Association between Seventh and Greenwich Avenues. Jazz, bagpiping and belly-dancing are on the entertainment agenda, with concessions ranging from crafts to clothing, along with Mexican, Japanese, Italian and natural health foods. Raindate: next Saturday.

HOUSE CALL

... A 17-room Colonial mansion in Manhattan that holds historical significance will be tomorrow's tour site of the exploratory group. Adventure on a Shoestring. The play like "Streamers," a realistic barracks-room play that on the surface would appear to be at the furthest remove from the poetic, nationalistic "Henry V," provided Mr. Rudd with a psychological preparation for the role of the King.

... For today's Entertainment Events listing, see page 10. For Sports Today, see page 14.

... Fascinated by Character Quiet and rather wistful in manner, she stopped for a moment to look out at the Central Park landscape. "You serve the poetry," she said, "your obligation is to the verse, then the meaning comes through. Too many Shakespeare productions try to explain Shakespeare to American audiences."

... Now at a FLAGSHIP THEATRE NEAR YOU

In SENSURROUND
The sights, sounds and actual sensations of combat. So real you can feel it.

MIDWAY

A WALTER MIRISCH PRODUCTION
STARRING CHARLTON HESTON • HENRY FONDA
GUEST STARS JAMES COBURN • GLENN FORD • HAL HOLBROOK • TOSHIRO MIFUNE • ROBERT MITCHUM • CLIFF ROBERTSON
ROBERT WAGNER
WRITTEN BY DONALD S. SANFORD • JOHN WILLIAMS • JACK SMIGHT • WALTER MIRISCH
DIRECTED BY WALTER MIRISCH

NOW PLAYING AT UNIVERSAL BLUE RIBBON THEATRES

MANHATTAN ON BROADWAY UA RIVOLI 11:30, 1:30, 3:30, 5:30, 7:30, 9:30	ON THE EAST SIDE TRANS-LUX EAST 1:40, 3:30, 5:30, 7:15, 10:40	BROOKLYN KINGS PLAZA NORTH 1:00, 3:20, 5:45, 8:10, 10:30	BRONX UA CAPRI	QUEENS UA JACKSON 11:30, 1:30, 3:30, 5:30, 7:30, 9:30	MASSACHUSETTS CENTURY 21 11:30, 1:30, 3:30, 5:30, 7:30, 9:30
WESTCHESTER UA BRONXVILLE 11:30, 1:30, 3:30, 5:30, 7:30, 9:30	NEW JERSEY UA HAZLET #2 11:30, 1:30, 3:30, 5:30, 7:30, 9:30	MASSACHUSETTS UA PLAINFIELD 11:30, 1:30, 3:30, 5:30, 7:30, 9:30	MASSACHUSETTS UA STATE #2 11:30, 1:30, 3:30, 5:30, 7:30, 9:30	MASSACHUSETTS UA WAYNE 11:30, 1:30, 3:30, 5:30, 7:30, 9:30	MASSACHUSETTS UA WELMONT 11:30, 1:30, 3:30, 5:30, 7:30, 9:30

"A SCI-FI HIT!"
"BRILLIANTLY GROTESQUE!"
Jason Robards is splendid.

a boy and his dog

Based on the award-winning novel by HARLAN ELLISON
Written for the screen and Directed by LO JONES

NOW AT A FLAGSHIP THEATRE NEAR YOU

MANHATTAN UA RIVOLI	BROOKLYN KINGS PLAZA NORTH	BRONX UA CAPRI	QUEENS UA JACKSON	MASSACHUSETTS CENTURY 21
WESTCHESTER UA BRONXVILLE	NEW JERSEY UA HAZLET #2	MASSACHUSETTS UA PLAINFIELD	MASSACHUSETTS UA STATE #2	MASSACHUSETTS UA WAYNE

"An unequivocal smash-hit."
—VINCENT CANBY, New York Times

REDFORD/HOFFMAN
"ALL THE PRESIDENT'S MEN"

LOEWS ASTOR PLAZA • LOEWS TOWER EAST
10:30, 2:00, 5:30, 8:00, 11:00

2 OF THE WACKIEST FILMS EVER!
THIS COMBO SETS MOTION PICTURES BACK 500 YEARS

MONTY PYTHON and THE HOLY GRAIL

THE GROOVE TUBE

NOW AT A THEATRE NEAR YOU

MANHATTAN FIRST AVE. CINEMA	QUEENS MIDTLE VILLAGE	ELKS COVE ELKS COVE	CORAM IN CORAM IN	WESTCHESTER BEACH
BROOKLYN KINGS PLAZA NORTH	BRONX UA CAPRI	MASSACHUSETTS UA PLAINFIELD	MASSACHUSETTS UA STATE #2	MASSACHUSETTS UA WAYNE

"SUPERWESTERN!"
—Cue Magazine

MARLON BRANDO and JACK NICHOLSON
"THE MISSOURI BREAKS"

RED CARPET THEATRES

MANHATTAN CENTRAL PLAZA	BROOKLYN KINGS PLAZA NORTH	BRONX UA CAPRI	QUEENS UA JACKSON	MASSACHUSETTS CENTURY 21
WESTCHESTER UA BRONXVILLE	NEW JERSEY UA HAZLET #2	MASSACHUSETTS UA PLAINFIELD	MASSACHUSETTS UA STATE #2	MASSACHUSETTS UA WAYNE

HOLLYWOOD LIBERTY

THREE SAILORS ON A WEDNESDAY IN TINSLE TOWN

Lipstick

3rd HIT WEEK!

THE MARYT

JULIET 1

A Piece of Pleasure

QUAD 2

4th SENSATIONAL WEEK AT SELECTED THEATRES

"ONE FLEW OVER THE CUCKOO'S NEST"

5 ACADEMY AWARDS
BEST PICTURE
BEST ACTOR
BEST ACTRESS

United Artists

MANHATTAN CENTRAL PLAZA	BROOKLYN KINGS PLAZA NORTH	BRONX UA CAPRI	QUEENS UA JACKSON	MASSACHUSETTS CENTURY 21
WESTCHESTER UA BRONXVILLE	NEW JERSEY UA HAZLET #2	MASSACHUSETTS UA PLAINFIELD	MASSACHUSETTS UA STATE #2	MASSACHUSETTS UA WAYNE

The Tall Ships at Anchor, Bermuda Still Keeps Its British Co

By NAN ROBERTSON

HAMILTON, Bermuda, June 18—The unshippable island carries on.

"Britain's oldest and damm near her last remaining colony," as D. Colin Selley, a top Bermudian Government official put it, has survived, with Blimpian and totally unshakable calm, all the big events in its modern social history.

Even the tall ships — magnificent, breathtaking as they are, an armada of 92 gigantic sailing vessels poised here this week in tiny Hamilton Harbor, dwarfing the everyday yachts and about to be unleashed on America — are no exception.

Incredible as it may seem, almost nobody in Bermuda, including such Americans as Ann Brown, who married into one of this island's first families 24 years ago, is paying much attention to the Operation Sail. Mrs. Brown said almost casually today at the Royal Bermuda Yacht Club overlooking the harbor: "Some of the tall ships were here 12 years ago for the first and only time. Don't they make a marvelous backdrop?"

Another Big Event

Barbara Masters, a pretty, young party-going Bermudian, said: "The impact of Operation Sail hasn't been that noticeable. Our eyes are trained on another big event coming this way — the Newport-to-Bermuda race. Next week, the harbor will fill up again and be jammed with boats. That will kick off Ocean Yacht Race Week, which is one of the traditional highlights."

By Sunday, she thought, "There should be a reasonably high-pitched fever about Operation Sail too. Because then, and then only, we will see the tall ships with all their sails unfurled and together at the starting lines offshore. The excitement is just beginning to build."

Lyndon Clay, who heads the Bermuda Hotel Association, agreed. He said, "People have only the vaguest inkling." He told one story to illustrate his point. Of all the guests this week at one "cottage colony," which is "something like the exclusive clubs you have in the Hamptons," he said, "only one couple had any idea that 'something to do with big sailing ships' was going on in Bermuda."

He predicted that "by Sunday, virtually every resident on this island will have begged or borrowed or scrounged a ride on some boat to go and watch the start."

"On Sunday afternoon at 3 P.M. it will probably be possible to walk from the shoreline below St. David's Light-house, where the offshore starting line is, for two miles out to sea without getting your feet wet," he said.

Bermuda is unshippable and so are its "onions" — the Bermudians born and bred.

Sit-Down Dinners

There are 55,000 permanent residents, and they lead another life. They marry in church, are buried in church, reverse God and the Queen, love sports, wear a jacket and tie at night, drink tea at 4 P.M., and think the only way to entertain is a sit-down dinner party at home for 8 or 12 with wine.

Run swizzles, noisy foreign sailors and huge cocktail bushes are for tourists, half a million a year, mostly American.

Mr. Selley recalled the ingrown social blockbusters instantly. In 1953 it was the visit of the newly crowned Queen Elizabeth II and her royal consort, Philip, Duke of Edinburgh.

In 1959 Prince Philip came alone for the 350th anniversary of the discovery, in 1609, of this fishhook shaped dot of coral and green foliage, that lies off by itself in the blue, mid-Atlantic.

In 1964 some of the tall ships from throughout the world called on her for the first — and only — time until now.

In 1970 Prince Charles turned up to open the oldest Parliament in the world after Westminster. He read the speech from the throne on behalf of his mother.

Queen Elizabeth and Prince Phillip will fly to Bermuda July 3 to board the royal yacht Britannia and sail from her to America's Bicentennial celebration.

Summits with Eisenhower and Churchill, Heath and Nixon come and go. So do interminable yacht meetings with year-round racing and sailing, perpetual golf tournaments (with 10 golf courses in 21 square miles, Bermuda has more golf holes per acre than any country on earth). Ask a golf pro about the Mid-Ocean.

As for tennis, it was introduced to the United States from Bermuda 101 years ago by young Mary Outerbridge. Strange name? Not in Bermuda. The colony was once described as a chain tucked away behind a hedge off Front Street. As she surveyed the sparkling waters with a thousand sails this morning, she pronounced the Bermuda social scene "conservative but sophisticated, convivial and cosmopolitan," with "millions of parties."

Few American expatriots live apart. Most mesh easily into the fiber of resident Bermudians.

She said that her bulletin board at Commonwealth Society, the Pilgrims Society and the English-Speaking Union.

They gather around His Excellency the Governor, Sir Edwin Leather, K.C., M.G., K.C.V.O. He is the Queen's representative here as well as the man in charge of the police, external affairs and internal security in this independent and self-governing colony.

Sir Edwin can be seen these days are expected Tuesday to be great Yacht Week here.

"When we entertain the come here, we feed them"

Brown, succinctly.

Being June, there are wed the traditional way for the party to get to one of the re pretty Anglican Episcop churches is by carriage. A love to go to weddings, and dings are big, with up to 5 (They also love funerals.)

Traditional Cakes

There is a silver wedding the bride and a gold wedding the groom and often a cedar is used as a decoration on r is planted afterward. Fruit a tradition, as are wells and lots of attendants, including Mr. Selley grazed out of h

On Front Street at the stream cars lining the wharfs to g ships, majestic by day, twi lights at night — in the crow.

"Most of the visitors have of the tall ships than many I, who still have to get to th the morning and do a day's sail."

The best quote The Roy Bermuda's daily newspaper, was this tucked under a la line in the tall ships stipp said: "What the race is all i

It came from a barman at Horse Tavern in St. George's town on the island's eastern shops and pubs are now in Hamilton's, with speciman

"Never," he said, "have cigarette machine empty be

'Most of the visitors have seen more of the tall ships than many Bermudians, who still have to get to the office in the morning and do a day's work.'

of islands connected by Outer Bridges. There are 80 tennis courts on the island.

The dozen or so "name families" are still around into the third or fourth generation and since the late 17th century. There are Tuckers and Butterfields (government service, banking); Darrells (shipbuilding); Fritths (liquor); Watlings (water works); Coxes (marinas and groceries); Smiths, Trimmings and Browns (department stores, specialty shops).

Venerable Sportswear Store

One of the Browns is Ann, wife of Warren Brown. His family owns Archie Brown's, the venerable sportswear store on Hamilton's busy (or drowsy, as the case may be) harbor front along with Trimmings and Smiths. She came here as a bride in 1952 out of Delaware, and two weeks out of Wellesley, and now is mother of five, four of them girls.

Mr. Brown skips and owns War Baby, a 12-meter built for the America's Cup as contender in 1963.

Mrs. Brown, fresh and friendly, her American accent intact, sat on the grass-dolly lawn of the Royal Bermuda Yacht Club, a pink house with green shutters home was "plastered" with invitations for the next two weeks and she is not one to boast.

A few Americans, perhaps 200, she said, "do American things," such as Fourth of July fireworks at the base and Washington's Birthday parties including the retiring United States Consul-General, Donald McCue.

Those of British descent, "rather swinging," she thought, but not too have their own rituals. White gloves and garden parties with large hats have faded away. About 600 show up at Government House, a rather forbidding stone fortress, for the Queen's Birthday — her official one — in June. They are still pukka shib British Colonials to the starry end. They belong to the Royal rolling around in the biggest car in Bermuda by far — a black Austin Princess with silver crowns front and back and Britain's crest of arms on the back doors. It looks almost like a motorized blazer.

It was parked resplendently yesterday in front of the Hamilton Princess Hotel, headquarters for Operation Sail, the tall ships and the gathering world press.

The world may or may not have its eye on the tall ships, which will sail in a huge flotilla from here Sunday afternoon, bound for Newport, R. I.

But sailing ships are also coming this way. The Newport-to-Bermuda Race began yesterday afternoon in Rhode Island with 170 yachts starting. The first

The Royal Bermuda Yacht Club is a favorite haunt of Bermudian yachting enthusiasts

FASHION TALK

The Metamorphosis of a Model

By BERNADINE MORRIS

She can swing down the runway like the best of the new-wave mannequins, but she has a sensitivity for fabrics and the way clothes move that gives her the aura of old-time models, the ones who looked remote and untouchable.

This sophistication makes her seem older.

"When I was 13, people often thought I was 20," said Elena Engstrom, who is known by her first name, as the best Seventh Avenue models are.

Engstrom is her aunt's name anyway. "Wulffie," her father's name, proved too difficult for her to use professionally.

"People called me 'whiskey' and 'whiskey,'" she said.

But Elena has just formed a corporation to import and export fashion and other things and "Wulffie" is the name she's chosen for it, to differentiate her business life from her modeling activities.

Skirts Are First

"My father is very happy about it," she said, pulling some of her fashion imports from a large straw basket that may also become part of her collection.

She's starting with denim skirts, the kind she herself wears when she's making her rounds of clients, which include Bonnie Cashin, Stephen Burrows and Bendel's Studio.

They're either straight with a fly-front closing or they're flared, with indigo designs—squares or numbers—printed on them. The skirts, like the baskets, are made in Haiti.

The New York Times/Larry Morris

"I went to Haiti on a vacation last year because I didn't have time to go to Greece," she said. "Instead of resting, I met up with some fashion people and spent the rest of the week putting on a fashion show with them."

She designed a few skirts for her friends to keep their factories busy and when she returned to New York people started to ask her where she got them.

Straw Shoulder Bags

That's when she got the idea to import the styles, which Bendel's will have starting next month. She has her eye on some straw shoulder bags to fill out her line. At the same time, she's planning to export vitamins to Haiti, the same natural health variety she takes herself.

Another project is the establishment of a boutique in a new hotel that will open in Jacmel, a small town in Haiti, in October. She'll import clothes from the United States for this.

The corporate Elena is not going to extinguish Elena the model. At 25, she figures she has a few more years left on the runway.

"I really love clothes," she says. "Not fashion all the time, but nice clothes. I'm hoping the business things fit in during the slow times in modeling."

Elena, fashion model, designed the denim skirt she's wearing.

Whoosh! Skateboards Zip Back Into Big Time

By TONY KORNEISER

Somewhere in this country—maybe in a small garage, maybe in a large factory—someone who understands the American marketplace is building the ultimate skateboard. It will come equipped with radial tires, a rear heel defogger, a citizen band radio and air-conditioning. It will sell for $1,000, local tax and dealer prep not included. And there will be lines around the block to buy it.

Because people are getting rich on skateboards.

Manufacturers are getting rich.

Retailers are getting rich.

Promoters are getting rich.

Skateboarders are getting rich.

"Everybody's getting rich," said a skateboard buyer for a major metropolitan retailer.

"The operative word is 'boom.'"

"The color of the money is loud green."

Following in the grand Bicentennial, "What—not again?" tradition of the three-piece suit, the yo-yo and Neil Sedaka, skateboarding is back. And it's gone Hollywood. And everybody who is anybody wants a piece of the action.

"I'll tell you, I was pessimistic at first," said Carl Fink, the skateboard buyer for the Herman's Sporting Goods chain, which has 52 outlets nationwide. "We knew the kids in California were buying skateboards two years ago, but we didn't start stocking them until last November because the West Coast is always 10 or 11 months ahead of the East Coast on these things."

"Anyway, we got them in, and all of a sudden they started flying. I mean, flying. We ran this one-day ad and sold 600 boards in eight metropolitan stores in one day. We sold 48 boards in our Rego Park store in one hour. You should've seen it; it was really something."

Herman's sells skateboards that retail at $16.99 to $59.99, and between Jan. 1 and June 1 this year, the chain sold 20,440 skateboards.

The Morsan chain sells five styles of skateboards, ranging in price from $17.99 to $37.99. And though it doesn't sell the volume that Herman's does, that isn't because it couldn't.

"Without advertising," said Norman Aronowitz, who buys skateboards for Morsan's 11 metropolitan outlets, "we can sell 150 to 200 boards a week. If I was really going after it, I could do 400 in a weekend. I'll tell you, when I brought in the $35 model, I was afraid I was going to eat them. I thought they'd sit on the shelf and collect dust. But we're selling the expensive ones better than the cheaper ones."

The last time the skateboarding craze hit was 1965, when California dreaming was becoming a reality. Moonoggie was hanging-10 all over La Jolla, trying to impress Gidget, and Jan and Dean were singing back-grounds.

Skateboards were a $9.99-top item in the toy stores, a cheap thrill.

Now, they're selling as sporting goods, ranging from $7.99 for an import to $125 for a fiber glass special.

According to Dave Dash, the advertising director of Skateboarder, a California-based magazine devoted to skateboarding that claims a circulation of 125,000 for each of its six issues a year, the projected nationwide sales for skateboards in 1976 is $300 million, representing 15 million boards.

In 1970, during the last boom, the nationwide figure was $25 million. In 1970, when almost no one on the East Coast was buying boards, the figure was $1 million.

"By Christmas time," Mr. Dash predicted, after consulting his sales figure print-outs, "it's going to be going 'crazy in Middle America.'"

With so many people who are getting paid to know these things saying that skateboarding is still on the way up, the promoters are moving in. This weekend, a newly formed production company called National Skateboard Shows Inc. is staging the Skateboard World Masters Invitational, a two-day, six-performance exhibition and competition at the Nassau Coliseum in Uniondale, L.I.

Elsie Goldstein, the producer of the show, says that the company—which hopes soon to market a nationwide professional skateboarding tour, if the public will buy it—has budgeted $250,000 to stage the exhibition.

"I have this feeling," she said, "that the East is ready to explode over skateboards. We're having an invitational of the best of the sanctioned champions from California and Hawaii, and they'll perform exhibitions and have competitions. We're paying their expenses and performance and we're offering $7,000 in money. So far, it's the biggest competition ever held."

"Nickel and dime stuff," said Riordan, who used to manage E. Chonora, the tennis star, and manages such skateboarders as Page, the 17-year-old knoir o sidewalk surf set.

Mr. Riordan, who appreciates smell of hard cash, is rumored to have $100,000 skateboard tournament held in Long Beach, Calif., in September.

"Anything with that much in it," Riordan said, "can't be bad."

But the skateboarding market a very spotty past. Even with sales boom and the pointed wheels that make trick boating tively easy and accessible to a novice, some manufacturers' sales have expressed doubts a the viability of skateboards the long haul—such as this fit.

"One thing for sure," said R. I. "I'm not going to get stuck with a bunch of skateboards sitting shelves collecting dust."

"The thing is, that not even now, even those who are seeing sales graphs streak upward—that this can last."

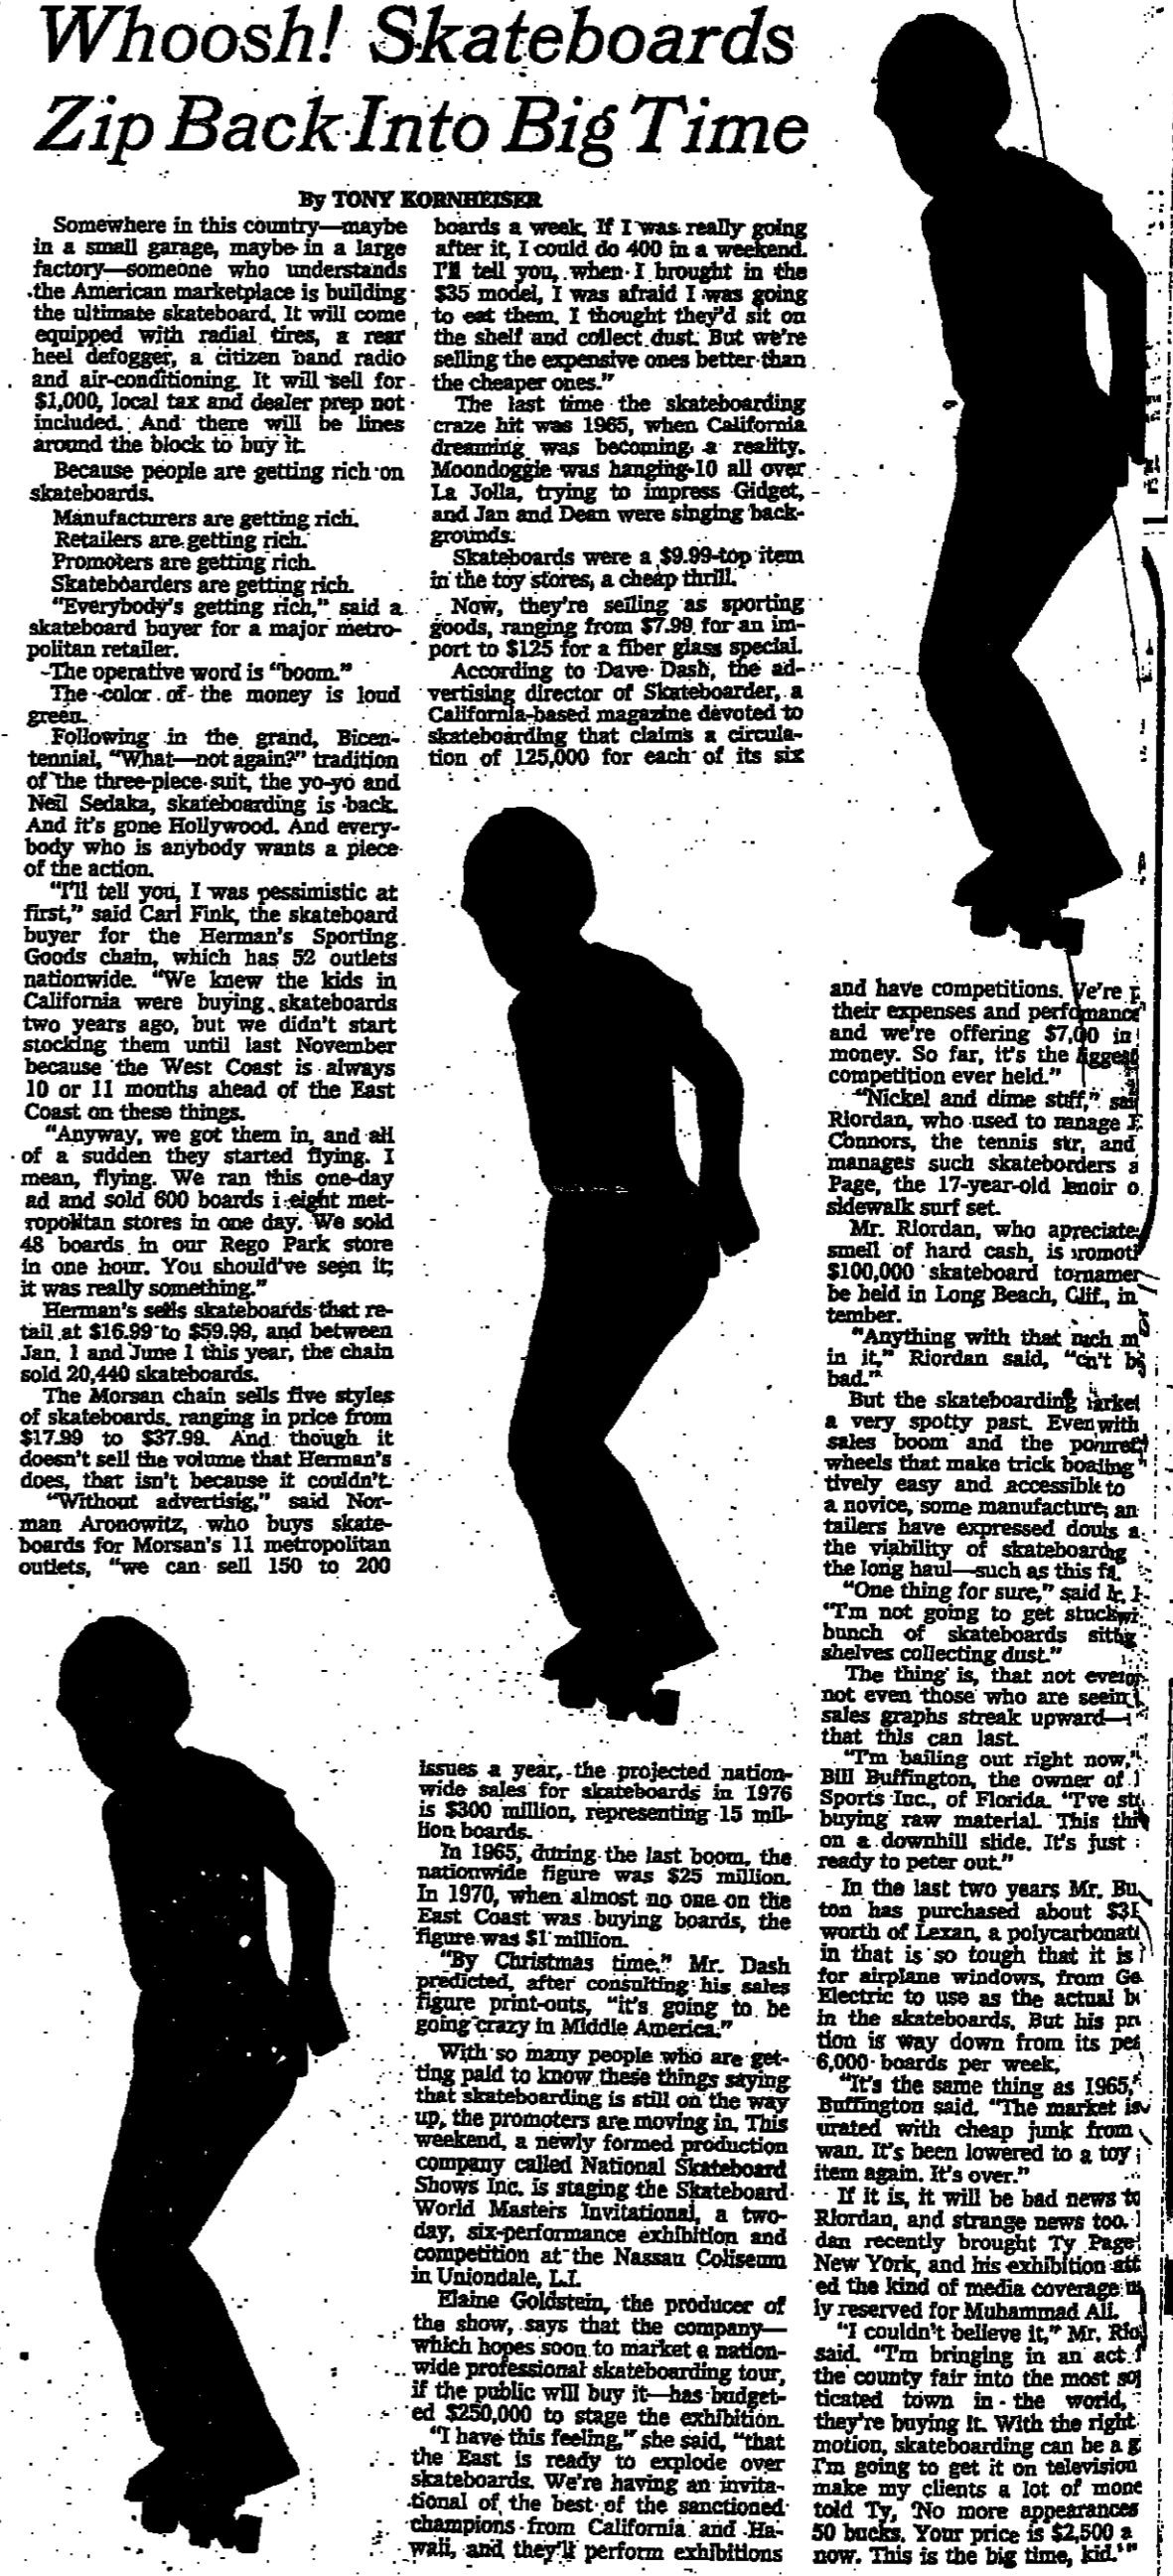

"I'm balling out right now," Bill Buffington, the owner of Sports Inc., of Florida, "I've just buying raw material. This thing is on a downhill slide. It's just ready to peter out."

In the last two years Mr. Riordan has purchased about $31 worth of Loran, a polycarbonate in that is so tough that it is for airplane windows, from GE Electric to use as the actual in the skateboards. But his price is way down from its pet 6,000 boards per week.

"It's the same thing as 1965," Buffington said. "The market is unattractive with cheap junk from wan. It's been lowered to a toy item again. It's over."

If it is, it will be bad news to Riordan, and strange news too. dan recently brought Ty Page, New York, and his exhibition added the kind of media coverage usually reserved for Muhammad Ali.

"I couldn't believe it," Mr. Riordan said. "I'm bringing in an act of the county fair into the most sophisticated town in the world, they're buying it. With the right motion, skateboarding can be a g I'm going to get it on television mak my clients a lot of money told Ty, 'No more appearances 50 bucks. Your price is $2,500 a now. This is the big time, kid.'"

People
Children
Achel with the fresh taste of Hatterm...
Achel

Handwritten signature or scribble at the bottom of the page.

Yanks' Martin: I Can Believe Watergate But I Can't Believe Something Like This

By MURRAY CHASS
Special to The New York Times
CHICAGO, June 18—The Yankees, officially, declined to comment today on Commissioner Bowie Kuhn's veto of their $15 million purchase of Vida Blue from Charles O. Finley. They would have no comment, Yankees executives said, until early next week, presumably after their lawyers have had time to study the intricacies of the situation.

Billy Martin is neither a lawyer nor an executive. Now does Billy Martin ever restrain from commenting—on anything.

else happen you don't know about. I can't divulge what else might happen.

Martin sat on the black, brown and white sofa in his suits on the 29th floor of the Executive House Hotel, his shoeless feet on the coffee table. He had been trying to sleep—three pillows were propped against one end of the sofa—but he had just heard the news from Stan Green, the Yankee owner, and now he was awake.

"Why?" Told that the commissioner said the sales weren't in the best interests of baseball, Kuhn said, "Well, tell the commissioner he ain't in the best interest of baseball either."

Twenty-nine floors above, Martin was remarkably calm, most uncharacteristically, for quiet bitterness to be seen in his eyes. He commented on the commissioner's assessment of the situation.

What does it mean in the best interests of baseball? It doesn't mean anything to me. What the commissioner did, the bad publicity we're going to get all over the country—is that in the best interests of baseball? Is it in the best interests of baseball to have lawsuits all over the country? The commissioner has opened up a big can of worms bigger than he imagined.

Martin suggested that Steinbrenner and Tom Yawkey, the Boston owner who bought Joe Rudi and Rollie Fingers from Finley, were acting in the best interests of their teams' fans by making those purchases.

than anything else is what it's going to do to baseball. I'm in love with baseball. If this person [Kuhn] says this isn't in the best interests of baseball, he doesn't know the game I love. Of all the things that have happened, this is the worst thing that has happened in baseball.

At that point, Martin said he had better not say more. The commissioner, he said, might suspend him to try to justify his actions. But though still calm, Martin was wound up now, and nothing was going to stop him from saying more.

Billy Martin

package of players and $300,000 in cash. He suggested that Calvin Griffith, the Minnesota owner, should return the $300,000 to the Rangers. Griffith was one of the most outspoken owners against the Finley sales.

'Tell the commissioner he ain't in the best interests of baseball either.'

—Catfish Hunter

wonderment about what they had just heard. This kind of news spreads fast.

meeting with my players tonight. They were up over the fact that we got Blue and I don't want them to be down over not having him. I also have to find another starting pitcher. When we made the deal with Baltimore [after the Blue purchase] we knew we

Whitewalls
6
Car Tire Selling Tire
4 for $170

Law Prices On Our Radial Advertised
Custom Polished
995
4088

Anderson
81: 'Good Shot, Good Hit, Goodbye'

John Voids Sale of A's Stars

Page 1, Col. 3

and he called "executive" to a held Thursday at Rockefeller Center. The players saw and old for what they be a routine one-time Wall dropped a The deal, he to rules of pro- but were in- with the be- baseball, the in- game and the of public con-

Sec. 4. In the case of conduct by organizations not parties to this Agreement, or by individuals not connected with any of the parties hereto, which is deemed by the Commissioner not to be in the best interests of Baseball, the Commissioner may pursue appropriate legal remedies, advocate remedial legislation and take such other steps as he may deem necessary and proper in the interests of the morale of the players and the honor of the game.

little chance to compete effectively in its division." Kuhn said his authority came from Article 1, Section 4, of the Major League Agreement, which was written in 1921 to define the relationships between the commissioner and the club owners who hire him. But many "rules" of professional sports have been challenged and even toppled in recent years in Congress and the courts, notably the "reserve system," which for years bound athletes to their teams indefinitely.

Both the Yankees and Red Sox were preparing replies last night to Kuhn's decision, though the Yankees said they would withhold comment until early next week. However, Manager Billy Martin roundly denounced the re-baseball into the biggest mess it has ever seen." "I consider it sheer insanity," said the economist who has led the players' union through its series of legal victories. "It's raised the potential for litigation which would last for years. He is asserting a right to end all club owners' rights with respect to all transactions. Whenever there's a trade made, he can decide that one team did not get enough value and can veto that deal."

Support for Kuhn was expressed by several club owners not involved in the sale, including John Verzer of the Detroit Tigers, Jim Baumer of the Milwaukee Brewers, Buzzy Bavasi of the San Diego Padres and Walter O'Malley of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who said: "The rich

"If I were Mr. Finley, I'd be up arms. It's his money." Finley has been dismantling his powerful team in recent weeks rather than lose his unsigned stars outright when they become free agents at the end of the season in October. He previously traded Reggie Jackson and Ken Holtzman to the Baltimore Orioles, who in turn traded Holtzman to the Yankees during the talent whirlwind Tuesday night.

At the hearing Thursday Finley made a ringing defense of his transactions, insisting that the players were demanding "astronomical" salaries that would mean "bankruptcy."

81: 'Good Shot, Good Hit, Goodbye'

June 18—Most of the touring pros

Mike Reid smiled and waved back. He's as slender and as supple as an archer's bow. With reddish-brown hair and a pink scrubbed face, he resembles Richie in "Happy Days" or Opie on "The Andy Griffith Show" but as a golfer, he has a swing as Johnny Miller's, which isn't surprising since he's in golf at Brigham Young University, the professor of par there. Mike Reid more semesters, which he'll probably forsake. But he assured himself a summa cum laude footing a three-under-par 87 for the opening of the Open when nobody else broke par.

His Choice of a 7-iron after a big drive on the 415-yard ninth hole, on out of the smallest, lightest, plainest golf pen.

His ball bounced over the green and out of bounds. He finished with a triple bogey and soon, on the leader boards all over the course, his name was being taken down.

"Good shot, good hit, goodbye," he said later. On the back nine, he had a bogey 5 on the 13th hole and a bogey 5 on the 16th hole. Not too bad. With a par 4 on the 460-yard 18th hole, he would finish with a 78, but for his shot over the lake guarding the final green, he selected a 4-iron. His ball splashed into the lake. He had another triple bogey 7 and an 81, his first competitive round in the 80's since he was 17 years old.

A Learning Experience. "John Geertzen told me," Mike Reid was saying now, "that you never learn anything when you play good."

He wasn't being sarcastic. He's not like that. He's got a soft dry humor and a soft smile. He's one of three sons of a retired Air Force colonel. One of his brothers is a club pro at the Wenatchee (Wash.) Country Club, the other is a Kansas City bartender. They grew up at various Air Force bases in Maryland, Delaware, Alabama, the Philippines, Illinois, Texas and Colorado before their father retired to the Seattle area. He also visited the San Francisco area where his tutor was John Geertzen, now retired but then the pro at the San Francisco Golf Club.

"I guess it didn't go far enough." "Then why," he was asked, "did it go in the water?" "I don't know," he said. "I guess it didn't go far enough."

With Holtzman pitching tonight, Martin chose Doyle Alexander, another newcomer, as starter for tomorrow night's game. Asked what he would do if a deal involving him were vetoed, Holtzman said, "I guess you've got to back."

Some people might have

Continued on Page 16, Column 5

Continued on Page 17, Column 6

Mahaffey's 68-138 Takes Open Lead; Reid Cards 81

By JOHN S. RADOSTA
Special to The New York Times

DULUTH, Ga., June 18—Mike Reid's pretty bubble burst today. The 21-year-old amateur who led the 76th United States Open yesterday with a 67, the only subpar score in a field of 150, blew up to an 81 in today's second round.

Reid's 36-hole aggregate of 148 cleared the way for the professionals to take charge of this Open, the first ever played in the South.

John Mahaffey, runner-up last year, added a fine 68 to yesterday's 70 to take the lead at 138, two under par for the Highlands course of the Atlanta Athletic Club. Mahaffey, who says he feels better "composure-wise" since losing the playoff last year to Lou Graham, was not satisfied with the 68, insisting he might have shot 63 if only he could have sunk a few putts.

One stroke behind after a 68, was the steady AJ Geberger, whose career was blighted by an eight-year dry spell after winning the Professional Golfers' Association championship in 1966.

Continued on Page 16, Column 5

Continued on Page 16, Column 5

Continued on Page 16, Column 5

Continued on Page 16, Column 5

Continued on Page 16, Column 5

Continued on Page 16, Column 5

Continued on Page 16, Column 5

Ed Marinaro

Marinaro Expected To Become Jet Soon

By GERALD ESKENAZI

After having lost the spectacular, but unreliable, John Riggins, the Jets will soon gain the reliable, but unspectacular, Ed Marinaro.

Club sources confirmed yesterday that the running back noted for his pass-catching and blocking abilities would be signed in a few days.

Marinaro is a 26-year-old who played out his option last season with the Minnesota Vikings. When they drafted him off the Cornell campus in 1972, he had established the National Collegiate ground-gaining mark.

Continued on Page 16, Column 5

Continued on Page 16, Column 5

Continued on Page 16, Column 5

Continued on Page 16, Column 5

Continued on Page 16, Column 5

Continued on Page 16, Column 5

Look at it this way:
When you came home from school with your Fu Manchu moustache who kept his mouth shut? Don't give your father ordinary scotch.

Royals To Sign... 5-3

Goodell Shatters Record

By LEONARD KOPPELT

LONG BEACH, Calif., June 18—Brian Goodell, a 17-year-old high school student from Mission Viejo, Calif., set a world record in the 400-meter freestyle tonight, beating Tim Shaw, the record holder, in a spectacular battle over the last 50 meters in the Olympic swimming trials at the Belmont Plaza Olympic Pool.

Goodell's time was 3 minutes 53.08 seconds, 23/100ths of a second below the mark Shaw had set, last August. Shaw came in second at 3:53.52, and both men automatically qualified for the United States Olympic team. That was the important item for Shaw, who has been suffering from anemia and a sore shoulder, since he is officially the nation's outstanding amateur athlete as the holder of the Stillwell trophy. Before these trials began, his condition was in question.

For the first three-quarters of the race, the leader was John Neber, who had already made the team by placing second in the 200-meter event. He was moving at sub-record pace, but finished fourth as Casey Converse, also of Mission Viejo, caught him for third with 3:53.70 as five swimmers started the final lap practically even. Converse swam automatically qualified for an Olympic berth.

A Shirley Babashoff, another Mission Viejo swimmer, scored her third victory in three nights here in winning the women's 400-meter freestyle. She was timed in 4:12.55, nearly two full seconds faster than the official world mark. But earlier this month, in East Berlin, Barbara Krause of East Germany posted a 4:11.69, which is the pending record.

SUMMARIES OF FINALS Men's 400-meter freestyle: 1. Brian Goodell, 3:53.08; 2. Tim Shaw, 3:53.52; 3. Casey Converse, 3:53.70; 4. John Neber, 3:53.74; 5. John Neber, 3:53.74; 6. John Neber, 3:53.74; 7. John Neber, 3:53.74; 8. John Neber, 3:53.74; 9. John Neber, 3:53.74; 10. John Neber, 3:53.74.

Since this afternoon's fixture will be over the 1 1/2-mile route — on turf — the French-imported Johnson colorbar will have ample opportunity to show closing speed. Both of her stakes successes this year — in the Orchard Handicap at Gulfstream and in the Gallotette at Pimlico — came with late surges.

Belmont Entries

Belmont Entries: 1. When It Rains; 2. Jockey; 3. Belmont; 4. Belmont; 5. Belmont; 6. Belmont; 7. Belmont; 8. Belmont; 9. Belmont; 10. Belmont.

Roosevelt Entries

Roosevelt Entries: 1. Belmont; 2. Belmont; 3. Belmont; 4. Belmont; 5. Belmont; 6. Belmont; 7. Belmont; 8. Belmont; 9. Belmont; 10. Belmont.

Belmont Jockeys

Belmont Jockeys: 1. Belmont; 2. Belmont; 3. Belmont; 4. Belmont; 5. Belmont; 6. Belmont; 7. Belmont; 8. Belmont; 9. Belmont; 10. Belmont.

Roosevelt Raceway Results

Table with race results including race numbers, names, and times.

Mahaffey Leads Open by 1

Continued From Page 15

are flavored with peanut butter. Ben Crenshaw shot one of his customary erratic rounds of eagles, double bogeys, birdies and bogeys, adding up to a 68 and a tie with Rod Furseth and Jerry Pate at 140. Crenshaw was in the woods so often today — not to mention the rough water and sand traps — that he resembled Tarzan looking for Jane.

Furseth, 43 years old and 16 years on the tour, shot a second 70 today "just scrapping around, keeping out of trouble." Pate, winner of the 1974 United States Amateur, shot 69.

Jack Nicklaus added a 70 for a 36-hole total of 144, four strokes over par. That put him two shots behind Mike Moday, J.C. Snead, Lyn Lott and Butch Baird and one shot behind Terry Diehl, Dave Eichelberg and Tom Weiskopf.

Graham, the defending champion, shot 74-148 and Hale Irwin, the 1974 winner, was at 72-147. Arnold Palmer, who won this tournament once, in 1960, stood at 75, 75-150. Billy Casper, a two-time champion, was hopelessly out of the picture at 81-158.

Johnny Miller, the 1973 champion, posted 72 for a 36-hole aggregate of 146, and Gary Player, who won in 1965, stood at 77-149.

Sixty-six players survived the 36-hole cut, which worked out to a score of 151. Among those who failed to qualify for the final rounds tomorrow and Sunday were Don Bies, 152; Frank Beard, who tied for third in last year's Open; Bob Murphy, David Graham and Bobby Nichols, 153; Tom Kite, 154; Chi Chi Rodriguez, 157; Casper, 158, and Jerry Barber, a former P.G.A. champion, 159.

For sentimentalists the day's biggest development was the collapse of young Michael D. Reid, the kid who is determined to "have some fun" among the big-name professionals. Today was a sobering experience, and he said he was depressed because he had not shot a competition round in the 80's in four years.

Reid said the mistakes he got away with yesterday cost him dearly today, on top of which he was putting badly. His round included two triples, bogeys and five bogeys. But he did achieve one goal, making the 36-hole cut, and said: "I've proved I can shoot a low score here. I'll try it again tomorrow."

Mahaffey and Crenshaw, playing in the same grouping, showed two widely disparate ways of shooting 68. The deadpan Mahaffey concentrates on accuracy and position, while Crenshaw wanders all over the course chasing his ball.

"We were partners once in a team-play tournament," Crenshaw recalled, "and every once in a while we'd see each other."

That's what happened today, Mahaffey, who has had a lot of coaching from Ben Hogan, played a steady round, four birdies against two bogeys. He was very much like Hogan in that he was putting badly today.

Jack Nicklaus after finishing the first round at the U.S. Open Thursday. Nicklaus was not happy with the round.

U.S. Open Scores

Table of U.S. Open scores for various players including Mahaffey, Crenshaw, and others.

That meant 18 consecutive pars following an opening round of 14 pars and four bogeys. When Nicklaus entered the press tent he began the interview by answering the question before anyone had a chance to ask it: "No, not that I can remember."

The question was had he played 36 holes before without shooting a single birdie? Nicklaus was pleased with his 70 today, which he called a better-than-average round. He was putting well. Five times his ball hit the cup, only to slip away. Gene Littler, his playing partner, assured Nicklaus: "In a little while the hole is gonna get in your way."

2 Lightweight Sailors Shun Light Diets

By STEVE CADY. Special to The New York Times. ASSOCIATION ISLAND, N. Y., June 18—In a new Olympic yachting class those "heavyweights" must be lightweight. The French and Neal Fowler are breaking all the dietary rules.

At a makeshift camping table outside their one-room cabin here, they attack supper each night with the same kind of unison that has brought them close to the Olympic berth in the 470 Class. Elbows and hands move methodically as the two 140-pound sailors slice steak, dip into the buttered summer squash or pour more Russian dressing on their salads.

"More beer?" asks Fowler, popping open two more cans as his steeper nods. "I'll sell better when I eat well," says Fowler, 26 years old, from Cambridge, Mass. "We did our dieting before we got here."

Marina

Continued From Page 15. have great outside he's a good block need to go a Namath in the t. Marinero has: common with t two quarterba also represent Todd, Namath's parent, and M. clate is Jim W. Namath's lawyer.

In addition, ready has caught of Namath's year he was a Namath's summe Worcester, Mass. The Jets are a new back b failed to make R. after his first 1. son with the Je and put himself market. He w Washington re were reported. rpled his salary Marinero will Riggins's salary, on the club still the Jets' need runner. It is like be at least one runner.

Last season a good average carry out of and a 4.1-yard. Steve Davis. Ne is in the Riggins.

Putting T. Won by F. COLUMBUS, (UPI)—Dick F. executive from feated Manuel Australia, 3 and win the $320,000 ting champion Florin, age 30 000 for the vic crossed his on the Proff Association sun $46,488. Serran champion of won $5,000.

Wymen's Go. PLYMOUTH, (AP)—Judy Ran O'Harra tied for three-urde today's rain-d round of the 55 classic on the L. social Golf Ass Only 27 of the completed the B- and tournament, the Plymouth C. resumed tomorrow.

Yankee I. BATT. HR: 18. PC: 10. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 6. 7. 8. 9. 10. 11. 12. 13. 14. 15. 16. 17. 18. 19. 20. 21. 22. 23. 24. 25. 26. 27. 28. 29. 30. 31. 32. 33. 34. 35. 36. 37. 38. 39. 40. 41. 42. 43. 44. 45. 46. 47. 48. 49. 50. 51. 52. 53. 54. 55. 56. 57. 58. 59. 60. 61. 62. 63. 64. 65. 66. 67. 68. 69. 70. 71. 72. 73. 74. 75. 76. 77. 78. 79. 80. 81. 82. 83. 84. 85. 86. 87. 88. 89. 90. 91. 92. 93. 94. 95. 96. 97. 98. 99. 100. 101. 102. 103. 104. 105. 106. 107. 108. 109. 110. 111. 112. 113. 114. 115. 116. 117. 118. 119. 120. 121. 122. 123. 124. 125. 126. 127. 128. 129. 130. 131. 132. 133. 134. 135. 136. 137. 138. 139. 140. 141. 142. 143. 144. 145. 146. 147. 148. 149. 150. 151. 152. 153. 154. 155. 156. 157. 158. 159. 160. 161. 162. 163. 164. 165. 166. 167. 168. 169. 170. 171. 172. 173. 174. 175. 176. 177. 178. 179. 180. 181. 182. 183. 184. 185. 186. 187. 188. 189. 190. 191. 192. 193. 194. 195. 196. 197. 198. 199. 200. 201. 202. 203. 204. 205. 206. 207. 208. 209. 210. 211. 212. 213. 214. 215. 216. 217. 218. 219. 220. 221. 222. 223. 224. 225. 226. 227. 228. 229. 230. 231. 232. 233. 234. 235. 236. 237. 238. 239. 240. 241. 242. 243. 244. 245. 246. 247. 248. 249. 250. 251. 252. 253. 254. 255. 256. 257. 258. 259. 260. 261. 262. 263. 264. 265. 266. 267. 268. 269. 270. 271. 272. 273. 274. 275. 276. 277. 278. 279. 280. 281. 282. 283. 284. 285. 286. 287. 288. 289. 290. 291. 292. 293. 294. 295. 296. 297. 298. 299. 300. 301. 302. 303. 304. 305. 306. 307. 308. 309. 310. 311. 312. 313. 314. 315. 316. 317. 318. 319. 320. 321. 322. 323. 324. 325. 326. 327. 328. 329. 330. 331. 332. 333. 334. 335. 336. 337. 338. 339. 340. 341. 342. 343. 344. 345. 346. 347. 348. 349. 350. 351. 352. 353. 354. 355. 356. 357. 358. 359. 360. 361. 362. 363. 364. 365. 366. 367. 368. 369. 370. 371. 372. 373. 374. 375. 376. 377. 378. 379. 380. 381. 382. 383. 384. 385. 386. 387. 388. 389. 390. 391. 392. 393. 394. 395. 396. 397. 398. 399. 400. 401. 402. 403. 404. 405. 406. 407. 408. 409. 410. 411. 412. 413. 414. 415. 416. 417. 418. 419. 420. 421. 422. 423. 424. 425. 426. 427. 428. 429. 430. 431. 432. 433. 434. 435. 436. 437. 438. 439. 440. 441. 442. 443. 444. 445. 446. 447. 448. 449. 450. 451. 452. 453. 454. 455. 456. 457. 458. 459. 460. 461. 462. 463. 464. 465. 466. 467. 468. 469. 470. 471. 472. 473. 474. 475. 476. 477. 478. 479. 480. 481. 482. 483. 484. 485. 486. 487. 488. 489. 490. 491. 492. 493. 494. 495. 496. 497. 498. 499. 500. 501. 502. 503. 504. 505. 506. 507. 508. 509. 510. 511. 512. 513. 514. 515. 516. 517. 518. 519. 520. 521. 522. 523. 524. 525. 526. 527. 528. 529. 530. 531. 532. 533. 534. 535. 536. 537. 538. 539. 540. 541. 542. 543. 544. 545. 546. 547. 548. 549. 550. 551. 552. 553. 554. 555. 556. 557. 558. 559. 560. 561. 562. 563. 564. 565. 566. 567. 568. 569. 570. 571. 572. 573. 574. 575. 576. 577. 578. 579. 580. 581. 582. 583. 584. 585. 586. 587. 588. 589. 590. 591. 592. 593. 594. 595. 596. 597. 598. 599. 600. 601. 602. 603. 604. 605. 606. 607. 608. 609. 610. 611. 612. 613. 614. 615. 616. 617. 618. 619. 620. 621. 622. 623. 624. 625. 626. 627. 628. 629. 630. 631. 632. 633. 634. 635. 636. 637. 638. 639. 640. 641. 642. 643. 644. 645. 646. 647. 648. 649. 650. 651. 652. 653. 654. 655. 656. 657. 658. 659. 660. 661. 662. 663. 664. 665. 666. 667. 668. 669. 670. 671. 672. 673. 674. 675. 676. 677. 678. 679. 680. 681. 682. 683. 684. 685. 686. 687. 688. 689. 690. 691. 692. 693. 694. 695. 696. 697. 698. 699. 700. 701. 702. 703. 704. 705. 706. 707. 708. 709. 710. 711. 712. 713. 714. 715. 716. 717. 718. 719. 720. 721. 722. 723. 724. 725. 726. 727. 728. 729. 730. 731. 732. 733. 734. 735. 736. 737. 738. 739. 740. 741. 742. 743. 744. 745. 746. 747. 748. 749. 750. 751. 752. 753. 754. 755. 756. 757. 758. 759. 760. 761. 762. 763. 764. 765. 766. 767. 768. 769. 770. 771. 772. 773. 774. 775. 776. 777. 778. 779. 780. 781. 782. 783. 784. 785. 786. 787. 788. 789. 790. 791. 792. 793. 794. 795. 796. 797. 798. 799. 800. 801. 802. 803. 804. 805. 806. 807. 808. 809. 810. 811. 812. 813. 814. 815. 816. 817. 818. 819. 820. 821. 822. 823. 824. 825. 826. 827. 828. 829. 830. 831. 832. 833. 834. 835. 836. 837. 838. 839. 840. 841. 842. 843. 844. 845. 846. 847. 848. 849. 850. 851. 852. 853. 854. 855. 856. 857. 858. 859. 860. 861. 862. 863. 864. 865. 866. 867. 868. 869. 870. 871. 872. 873. 874. 875. 876. 877. 878. 879. 880. 881. 882. 883. 884. 885. 886. 887. 888. 889. 890. 891. 892. 893. 894. 895. 896. 897. 898. 899. 900. 901. 902. 903. 904. 905. 906. 907. 908. 909. 910. 911. 912. 913. 914. 915. 916. 917. 918. 919. 920. 921. 922. 923. 924. 925. 926. 927. 928. 929. 930. 931. 932. 933. 934. 935. 936. 937. 938. 939. 940. 941. 942. 943. 944. 945. 946. 947. 948. 949. 950. 951. 952. 953. 954. 955. 956. 957. 958. 959. 960. 961. 962. 963. 964. 965. 966. 967. 968. 969. 970. 971. 972. 973. 974. 975. 976. 977. 978. 979. 980. 981. 982. 983. 984. 985. 986. 987. 988. 989. 990. 991. 992. 993. 994. 995. 996. 997. 998. 999. 1000.

DOCS. ANE OTHER. BATS. PITCH. (Last night's game)

DOBERMAN PINS. BATS. PITCH. (Last night's game)

DOBERMAN PINS. BATS. PITCH. (Last night's game)

DOBERMAN PINS. BATS. PITCH. (Last night's game)

Sale Ends July 4th —last day!

These are the last days... the big sale of my lifetime is nearing its end! I'm making an extraordinary offer to reduce my inventory to absolute minimum before the vacation slowdown. NAME YOUR OWN PRICE! No reasonable offer will be refused consideration during the final days of the sale. If you think my sale prices aren't right, NAME YOUR OWN PRICE... make an offer. If you're reasonable, you've got it. Hurry! Time is running out!

Max Rosenfeld

NAME YOUR OWN PRICE!

No Reasonable Offer Refused Consideration!

MEN'S SUITS

Select Groups—
Maxis fine quality $19.90

NAME YOUR OWN PRICE!

SPORT COATS

Select Groups—
Maxis fine quality $15.90

MAKE US AN OFFER!

SLACKS

Select Groups—
Maxis fine quality $7.90

MAKE US AN OFFER!

ENTIRE STOCK OF TIES, SHIRTS, HABERDASHERY

NAME YOUR OWN PRICE! No reasonable offer refused consideration!

SALE HOURS!
Monday thru Saturday 9:30 am-7 pm
Sunday 9:30 am-5 pm

385 Broadway, Brooklyn, N.Y. ST. 2-6292

Humm Gains in L.I. Golf

By GORDON S. WHITE Jr.
Special to The New York Times

OCEANSIDE, L.I., June 18—Johnny Humm proved last week that he could beat golfers his own age, when he won the Long Island senior championship. Now the 57-year-old Rockville Links player is trying to prove that he can still beat younger men, as he attempts to win his third Long Island amateur title.

So far he's more than holding his own in the 53d annual Long Island Golf Association amateur tournament at Middle Bay Country Club. Humm, who first won the Long Island amateur crown in 1948, took that title again in 1962 and 1967. After defeating Greg Muzroll of Huntington Crescent quickly at 8 and 5 in the first round today, Humm beat James Dowdell, 3 and 1. Dowdell, one of four good Wheatley Hills players to qualify for the first round, became one of three Wheatley Hills players to lose today.

Gene Francis, a three-time winner and three-time runner-up to the Long Island amateur championship, was the only Wheatley Hills player to survive to the quarterfinal round tomorrow. Francis put out Howard Aal of the host Middle Bay and then Geoffrey Whelan of Indian Hills with 4 and 3 scores.

Francis played the best golf of the first two rounds as he was two under par for the 30 holes he needed to reach the quarterfinals. Two up at the turn against Whelan, Francis took the 12th and 13th holes by dropping an eight-foot birdie putt each time. He got that close at the 174-yard, par-3 12th by teeing off with a five iron. He got that close at the 370-yard, par-4 13th by approaching with a wedge.

Whelan had eliminated Richard Hanington, the tournament's medalist, at the 20th hole of their first-round match. Hanington was another of the Wheatley Hills players to lose.

This course presents both Humm, who enjoys playing quite fast, and Francis, a 38-year-old former champion, a good opportunity to win. Neither man sprays his tee shots very much. And, once the ball is driven onto a fairway at Middle Bay, a short par-36, 36-72 course, the shot home is not too difficult for these golfers.

FIRST ROUND

Geoffrey Whelan, Indian Hills, defeated Richard Hanington, Wheatley Hills, 4 and 3; Gene Francis, Wheatley Hills, defeated Howard Aal, Middle Bay, 4 and 3; Jim Francis, East Meadow, defeated David Geller, Southampton 2 up; Ken Bell, French Beach, defeated Steve Bell, The Cove, 1 up; John Humm, Rockville Links, defeated Greg Muzroll, Huntington Crescent, 8 and 5; and St. James Dowdell, Wheatley Hills, defeated Jack Wick Jr., Santa Point, 1 up; Roger Marchick, Wheatley Hills, 4 and 3; William Connolly, Wheatley Hills, 4 and 3; and Gene Francis, Wheatley Hills, 4 and 3.

SECOND ROUND

Francis defeated Whelan, 4 and 3; Robert Dowdell, 3 and 1; Marchick defeated Whelan, 4 and 3; Connolly defeated Whelan, 1 up; Van Norden defeated Geller, 1 up; and Bell defeated Bell, 2 up; Marchick defeated Whelan, 3 and 1; and Whelan defeated Whelan, 3 and 1.

Mrs. Bower Wins

SUMMIT, N.J., June 18—Mrs. Albert Bower of Pelham, who had triumphed in 1968 and 1974, won the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association match-play championship again today. In the 73d staging of the event, she defeated Mrs. Charles Crawford of Apawamis, 5 and 4, in the final at the Canoe Brook Country Club.

Mrs. Bower, who last fall won the United States Golf Association women's senior crown, was 2 up after 18 holes of play in the morning. And, beginning the scheduled 18-hole afternoon round, she played steady golf while Mrs. Crawford faltered. After six holes over the 5,784-yard course, Mrs. Bower was 6 up and seemed headed for an easy triumph.

But following a brief rain delay, Mrs. Crawford, the women's national amateur champion in 1966, rallied. Her putting, which had been erratic, improved and she quickly won three holes. After 11 holes, Mrs. Bower was only 3 up.

Mrs. Bower, though, pulled out of trouble on the 12th with her only birdie of the afternoon. She made a 25-foot putt for a 4 on the par-5, 366-yard hole while Mrs. Crawford had to settle for a 5.

Mrs. Bower also took the 13th with a par-4 when Mrs. Crawford missed a three-foot putt. The match ended when the women halved the 14th hole with bogey 4's.

Mrs. Bower, who lost in the final last year to Mrs. Thomas Ives of Century, said reading the greens had been "difficult."

"I thought I played well, with a few lapses," she said. "But so it goes."

Bridge: Departure In Bidding Leads To Confusion Around Table

By ALAN TRUSCOTT

A slight departure from normal bidding practice is sometimes sufficient to spread confusion around the table. On the diagrammed deal from a recent regional mixed pair championship in Norfolk, Va., South decided to respond with a three-card suit. His partner showed great enthusiasm for the suit, taking the partnership to a shaky contract, but it was the opponents who suffered in the long run.

North and South were Esther Roth of Lake Hiawatha, N. I., and Jim Wood of Washington, and the opening bid and response were both unusual. North did not open one no-trump, presumably because the partnership was using weak no-trump openings, and selected one diamond. She held the only distribution on which an opening one-diamond bid is commonly made with a three-card suit.

Most players would be content to raise one diamond to two diamonds, but South felt that he was too strong for a weak raise. He temporized with a response in his strong three-card heart suit and quickly found himself in game in that denomination.

It would have been hard to avoid this contract even if North had contacted herself with a more modest raise to three hearts.

A club was led to dummy's king and Wood now regretted his experimental response. It was clear that four hearts was in jeopardy while three no-trump would have been straightforward. After winning with the club king, he led a heart to the king. West took the ace and shifted to the spade four, indicated by East's play of the club queen at the first trick, intended as a suit-preference signal.

South ducked a spade, won

NORTH		EAST
♠ A983	♠ K76	♠ K76	♠ K76
♥ 9754	♥ 1062	♥ 1062	♥ 1062
♦ A Q 4	♦ 852	♦ 852	♦ 852
♣ A K	♣ Q 103	♣ Q 103	♣ Q 103
WEST		EAST
♠ Q 104	♠ K 76	♠ K 76	♠ K 76
♥ A J 3	♥ 10 6 2	♥ 10 6 2	♥ 10 6 2
♦ J 8	♦ 8 5 2	♦ 8 5 2	♦ 8 5 2
♣ J 9 7 4 2	♣ Q 10 3	♣ Q 10 3	♣ Q 10 3
SOUTH		EAST
♠ 5 2	♠ K 7 6	♠ K 7 6	♠ K 7 6
♥ K Q 8	♥ 10 6 2	♥ 10 6 2	♥ 10 6 2
♦ K 10 9 8 7	♦ 8 5 2	♦ 8 5 2	♦ 8 5 2
♣ 8 6 5	♣ Q 10 3	♣ Q 10 3	♣ Q 10 3

North and South were vulnerable. The bidding: 1♠ Pass 1♥ 2♣ 4♥ Pass Pass Pass

West led the club two.

the spade continuation, and reached this position:

NORTH		EAST
♠ 9 3	♠ J 7	♠ J 7	♠ J 7
♥ 9 7 5	♥ 10 6 2	♥ 10 6 2	♥ 10 6 2
♦ A Q 4	♦ 8 5 2	♦ 8 5 2	♦ 8 5 2
♣ A	♣ Q 10 3	♣ Q 10 3	♣ Q 10 3
WEST		EAST
♠ Q 10 4	♠ K 7 6	♠ K 7 6	♠ K 7 6
♥ A J 3	♥ 10 6 2	♥ 10 6 2	♥ 10 6 2
♦ J 8	♦ 8 5 2	♦ 8 5 2	♦ 8 5 2
♣ J 9 7 4 2	♣ Q 10 3	♣ Q 10 3	♣ Q 10 3
SOUTH		EAST
♠ 5 2	♠ K 7 6	♠ K 7 6	♠ K 7 6
♥ K Q 8	♥ 10 6 2	♥ 10 6 2	♥ 10 6 2
♦ K 10 9 8 7	♦ 8 5 2	♦ 8 5 2	♦ 8 5 2
♣ 8 6 5	♣ Q 10 3	♣ Q 10 3	♣ Q 10 3

Wood now made the only play to give himself a chance. He ruffed a spade, cashed the heart queen, and entered dummy with a diamond lead to play another trump. West had to win and it was all over.

It was pointed out to the woman in the West seat that she could have defeated the contract by dropping her heart jack under the queen, sacrificing a sure trick. East would then have been able to win the third round of trumps and defeat the contract with his spade winner.

"But how was I to know he had bid a three-card suit?" she demanded bitterly.

Chris Evert to Play Miss Wade in Final

By FRED TUPPER
Special to The New York Times

EASTBOURNE, England, June 18 (AP)—Chris Evert will be a repeat of the 1974 final when Chris Evert meets Virginia Wade in this $90,000 Colgate Women's invitation tennis tournament on the fast green lawns of Devonshire Park tomorrow.

Miss Evert won today from a vastly improved Olga Morozova of the Soviet Union, 6-2, 6-3, but the score was no indication of the length and the severity of the match. In the first game alone there were 10 deuces and 26 points stretched over a quarter of an hour.

Earlier, Miss Wade had beaten her personal jinx, Martina Navratilova, 6-4, 6-4, after five successive losses to her in the last year.

"I've let her intimidate me on my second serve," said Miss Wade. "Today I said to myself I had to be decisive. She's quick in one direction, but you have to try to move her both ways."

The scores may have been close, but the margin was large.

Fire and Fury
Miss Wade was serving with all the fire and fury that makes her the fastest in the game, and there was nothing the self-exiled Czechoslovak could do but swing and sigh as the ball caromed off her racket or plunged into the net.

The statistics are fearsome. In one scorching spell she served four love games in succession that in effect decided the match. Over all she lost only 4 points on service in the first set and 8 in the second when Miss Navratilova finally came out of the shadows and took 8 points running to go from 2-5 to 4-5 before Miss Wade served it out.

One service break settled the first set. Atop the net Miss Navratilova smashed too short and Miss Wade, scampering back toward the green, returned bravely to her stoopage to go to advantage and win it with a hard, low backhanded return of service that streaked down the line for 4-3.

The Briton was at 5-2 in the second set when Miss Navratilova got off the floor and swung a few blows. Three backhands ripped into the clear and she broke at love when Miss Wade, under pressure, pushed a backhand volley into the net. She held service and then Miss Wade served it out over 58 minutes.

Miss Morozova's forehead went to pieces about a year ago, judging from her hair today. She's got the feel and touch back. She had two plans to beat Miss Evert: charge the net and later, when that had failed, to concentrate on slowballs.

Miss Evert was not serving well, largely because of a crosswind, and her forehead was not as sharp as she would have liked.

"I was confident I could win," said Miss Evert. "Olga had not been playing well earlier, but she was today, not perhaps as good as in our Wimbledon finals two years ago."

Connors, Nastase Gain
NOTTINGHAM, England, June 18 (AP)—Jimmy Connors and Ilie Nastase reached the final today of the Nottingham tournament, the last men's warm-up event on grass before Wimbledon next week.

Rain had put the tournament a day behind schedule, and both finalists had to play twice.

Connors downed Tom Okker of the Netherlands, 6-2, 6-4, in the quarterfinals in the morning, then overcame Raul Ramirez of Mexico, 6-3, 6-4, in the afternoon.

Nastase had a slightly harder time. He fought off a fit of temperance and a shaky start and defeated Ismael El-Shafai of Egypt, 1-6, 7-5, 6-4. Then he outlasted Ove Bengtson of Sweden, 7-5, 7-5.

Connors and Nastase will play for a first prize of $13,375 in tomorrow's final. Play at Wimbledon starts Monday.

Nuggets Defeat Olympians, 108-100

GREENSBORO, N.C., June 17 (AP)—David Thompson poured in 23 points as he led the Denver Nuggets who joined the National Basketball Association, yesterday, past the United States Olympic basketball team, 108-100, in an exhibition game.

Mitch Kupchak of North Carolina and Steve Sheppard of Maryland had 12 points each. Tommy LaGarde and Phil Ford of North Carolina scored 10 apiece. Two all-Americans, Scott May of Indiana and Adrian Dantley of Notre Dame, combined for 10 points each.

Dynamo in Cup Soccer
ST. LOUIS, June 18 (AP)—The Dynamo Kiev soccer team of the Soviet Union will oppose the St. Louis Stars of the North American Soccer League in the annual Stranitski International Cup game July 7. The contest at Francis Field will be the last for the Soviet players before they journey to Montreal to represent the U.S.S.R. in the Olympic games.

SUMMER IS FOR KIDS
HELP THE FRESH AIR FUND

High Tides Around New York

Station	High	Low	High	Low	High	Low
Stuyvesant	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Manhattan	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Brooklyn	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Queens	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Westchester	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Orange	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Putnam	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Rockland	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Ulster	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Warren	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Albany	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Saratoga	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Montgomery	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Delaware	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Richmond	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Livingston	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Westchester	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Orange	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Putnam	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Rockland	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Ulster	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Warren	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Albany	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Saratoga	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Montgomery	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Delaware	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Richmond	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36
Livingston	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36	1:12	5:36

Lawyer Linked to Cunning Is Indicted in Bronx Liqueur

By SELWYN RAAB

The former law partner of a judge's juristick previously indicted judge was accused yesterday of participating in a liquor license bribery and conspiracy scheme, which accidentally led to the controversial corruption investigation of Patrick J. Cunningham, the Bronx Democratic leader.

Kenneth Kase, the accused lawyer, pleaded not guilty to the charges made in a 10-count felony and misdemeanor indictment by a Bronx grand jury. The jury is hearing evidence presented by Maurice H. Nadjar, the special state prosecutor investigating corruption in the criminal justice system.

The most serious accusations against Mr. Kase are that he gave $800 in bribes to two inspectors of the Alcohol Beverage Control Board and that he helped to falsify records submitted to the board relating to the proposed 1974 sale of the Last Laff, a Bronx discotheque.

Although the full circumstances of the Last Laff inquiry were not disclosed in the indictment, the New York Times reported last month that undercover detectives had attempted to buy the discotheque as a part of an elaborate plan to infiltrate organized crime.

Came Across Evidence
In 1974, at the time of the Last Laff sale negotiations, Mr. Kase was the law partner of Anthony J. Mercorella, who later was elected to a Bronx Civil Court judgeship. It was through the Last Laff bribery inquiry that investigators from Mr. Nadjar's office reportedly came across evidence of other corrupt activities in the Bronx.

Mr. Mercorella and Judge Mercorella were indicted last month by the same Bronx grand jury on charges that Mr. Cunningham arranged a judicial nomination in return for a bribe from Mr. Mercorella.

Wearing a well-tailored white, pin-striped suit, Mr. Kase, who is 51 years old, refused to talk to reporters after he went through the police "booking" and court-arranged procedures yesterday. But, his lawyer, Herbert L. Weisman, said "Mr. Kase will be vindicated of all charges."

Mr. Weisman described the indictment as "a traumatic experience" for Mr. Kase. The defense lawyer also said that he was "upset" because of the "widespread" prejudice reporting about the Last Laff case. These newspaper accounts, Mr. Weisman asserted, could jeopardize a fair trial for Mr. Kase.

In an interview after the booking of Mr. Kase at the First Precinct station in Lower Manhattan, Mr. Weisman indicated that he might challenge Mr. last December.

INDISPENSABLE KITCHEN

REDUCES HEALTH HAZARD OF CHOLESTEROL FOR YOU AND YOUR FAMILY

NOW! This fabulous new gourmet chef's kitchen utensil takes all the chore out of saucing, soup and gravy making at the same time applying a scientific principle to the vitally important problem of saturated animal fats. NOW! You can separate fats, cholesterol and even calories from your soups, sauces, and gravies "by the touch of your finger" to the New Colony Cup.

Watch the goodness and flavor of your soups, sauces, and gravies flow thru the opening as unwanted fats are left behind.

No more spooning or refrigerating, to eliminate grease or oil.

ADDITIONAL USES: measuring cup, funnel and detachable strainer are a few more reasons why the New Colony Cup will become one of the most indispensable utensils in your kitchen. PLUS:

- Clarifies butter in seconds.
- Ideal dispenser for pancakes, syrups, honey, etc.
- Large two cup capacity.
- Separates egg yolks.
- Easy cleanup.
- Made of beautiful lucite.
- Guaranteed with dishwasher safe.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED
Mail To: New Colony Systems
448 E. Prospect Ave., Mt. Vernon, N.Y.

Please send me
 New Colony Cups at $5.98 each plus 75¢ handling.
 New York State residents add sales tax.

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____

CHOOSE YOUR FUR LINED COAT at

and be ready for winter. Free storage over summer.

WE WILL ALSO CONVERT YOUR DATED FUR INTO A LINING — wide selection of styles and fabrics.

All furs labeled as to country of origin.
Master Charge/BankAmericard
138-40 E. FURNHAM AVENUE, GREENWICH, CONN. 06030
203-708-8012 • PARKING IN REAR
Est. '23, Connecticut Turnpike • Open Saturdays

2 WAYS BETTER THAN NO BRA AT ALL!

Naturally Yours
The Bare-Look Bra For Today's Free Fashions

Brushing-only 2-1/2" x 4-1/2" size plus 1/2" 3-position back hook closure

• Adds Up To 2 inches to Your Bustline Measurement
• Provides Support You Need With The Freedom You Want

That no-bra look, with all the support you need! With Naturally Yours, there's nothing between you and your clothes but you—gently, firmly uplifted and contoured by the specially designed comfort undercup. You actually get up to 2" more bustline fullness—with no padding, no over-constructed bra to "lace you in".

From T-shirts to designer fashions to those special home-sewn originals, every piece of clothing you own will fit you better because (it's a fashion fact!) each dart, seam, and neckline is designed to flatter a woman's uplifted bustline! And no sagging bosom to make you feel self-conscious, either. With this amazing bra you get the needed muscle support doctors advise... plus the freedom to be yourself—naturally!

Naturally Yours is white, machine wash & dry nylon. Side panels and adjustable straps s-r-a-t-c-h for added comfort, and straps are convertible for wear with halter styles. 3-position double hook-and-eye back closure. Please specify size 32-40. And SAVE when you order 2 or more! Act Now.

AMERICANA SHOP 56 Wilton Road, Westport, Conn. 06880
Store Hours: 10-4:30 Mon-Fri.

Handwritten signature

The New York Times

Founded in 1851
ADOLPH S. OCHS, Publisher 1896-1935
ARTHUR HAYS SULZBERGER, Publisher 1935-1961
ORVILLE D. DRYFOOS, Publisher 1961-1962

ARTHUR OCHS SULZBERGER
Publisher
JOHN R. OAKES, Editorial Page Editor
FRED REICHERTER, Assistant Editorial Page Editor
A. M. ROSENTHAL, Managing Editor
SEYMOUR TOPPING, Deputy Managing Editor
ARTHUR GELB, Assistant Managing Editor
PETER MILLONIS, Assistant Managing Editor
JACK ROSENTHAL, Associate Editor
CHARLOTTE CURTIS, Associate Editor
CLIFTON DANIEL, Associate Editor
MAX FRANKEL, Associate Editor
TOM WICKER, Associate Editor

The Plutonium Danger

Plutonium, when ingested, can be one of the most poisonous substances known to man. In metal form it is relatively safe to handle, but potentially far more lethal than poison. A stolen quantity the size of a grapefruit, shaped into a bomb by urban guerrillas or saboteurs, could destroy a city the size of Hiroshima.

Yet this man-made element, extracted from nuclear reactor wastes, can itself be "burned" as a fuel in a power reactor to produce electricity in vast amounts. Unlike the chief nuclear fuel now in use, slightly enriched uranium—which cannot explode—plutonium fuel in commercial use would spread danger nationwide and around the world. More than any other fissionable material, plutonium in its dual capability to benefit or destroy civilization may come to symbolize the "Faustian bargain" mankind has made with the atom, if it attains general use.

Thanks to a recent Federal Appeals Court decision, the commercial use of plutonium as a reactor fuel, urged by much of the nuclear power industry, has now been deferred again. The court called for completion first of a thorough study now under way of environmental, health, safety and theft dangers. The nation and the world will be well-served by that delay.

Originally, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission in May 1975 ruled that completion of the study and public hearings on its adequacy, a three-year process, would precede a decision on whether to license production and widespread use of plutonium as a reactor fuel. But last November the N.R.C. modified its position to permit some interim licensing of plutonium use. It indicated that a final decision on general use would be reached 18 months earlier than planned, in part by emphasizing briefer "legislative type" rather than full adjudicatory public hearings.

It is that November decision that now has been altered by the Circuit Court of Appeals in New York after challenges by environmental groups. The court wisely based its decision in part on a January 1975 judgment by the President's Council of Environmental Quality that more study was needed of "the special dangers of sabotage and theft posed by large-scale transportation of plutonium materials."

The hazards of widespread plutonium use within the United States are exceeded by the dangers of the spread of a plutonium economy worldwide. By the 1990's, a dozen or more third-world countries could be producing enough plutonium to make 3,000 Hiroshima-size bombs annually.

There is deep confusion within the Ford Administration on this range of issues, many of which should be left for solution by the next Administration. On one hand, the Administration has been urging ten other nuclear supplier countries to join the United States in barring export of plutonium reprocessing plants; the Symington amendment adopted by a Senate-House conference committee this week would put some legislative teeth into this policy by denying foreign aid to countries exporting or importing reprocessing plants. But at the same time, the Energy Research and Development Agency is pressing for commercial use of plutonium in the United States and spending vast sums to speed development of a plutonium-based breeder reactor. The dangers the breeder reactor would thrust upon the world are so great that every effort should be made to bypass the breeder era until safer alternatives become feasible.

Pupfish Upheld

The United States Supreme Court has unanimously decided to protect the right to survival of 200 or so pupfish in a Nevada cavern—even if some nearby ranchers have to make do with a little less water. Invoking the legal principle of de minimis, the justices might have held that these inch-long fish at Devil's Hole were indeed among those trifles with which the courts are not concerned. But they perceived, instead, that the disappearance of an animal species is not a trifle at all—and still less so when a piece of Federal land has been devoted to its survival.

When much of Nevada was left a desert following the retreat of the last glacier, a few of these ancient fish were left stranded in a deep pool in Death Valley. For millennia they have evolved there, living in precarious dependence on algae that require a slight depth of water above a rocky ledge exposed to the sunlight. The question before the Court was whether Francis and Marilyn Cappaert should be allowed to pump up so much underground water for their 12,000-acre ranch that the pupfish would lose their life-giving algae.

The Court ruled that they should not, that with public lands goes the right to the waters required to maintain them for their intended purpose. The purpose in this case was plainly to save the pupfish—and with good reason. Apart from their status as an endangered species, they are of acute interest to scientists for their remarkable tolerance of extremes of temperature and of salinity, an evolved characteristic of considerable importance in research on the human kidney. Not only is man ignorant of what might happen to the interwoven fabric of life when a species is suddenly extinguished, but he is often unaware of ways in which, protected, it may in time directly benefit him and the world.

The Game's Afoot

With the count three and two, Commissioner Bowie Kuhn has thrown a high hard one at baseball's moguls. Instead of allowing the ballfield to be turned into a bank vault, he has voided the multimillion-dollar deal that would have sent three Oakland A's stars to the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox. His reasoning—that the transaction was contrary to "the best interests of baseball"—seems to be right in the strike zone.

The owner of the Athletics, Charles O. Finley, had sold Vida Blue to the Yankees for $1.5 million and Joe Rudi and Rollie Fingers to the Red Sox for $2 million, breaking up his team in midseason. The main difference between this and other past deals is that it involved cold cash without any receipt of players in return from these or other clubs. As a result, Oakland would have been battling for last place and the two best teams in the American League would be even stronger.

From the viewpoint of the fans rather than the owners or players, the big switch would have made it impossible to root for the home team. The stars would have worn different uniforms with dollar signs instead of numbers across their backs.

The effect of this emphasis on the bottom line instead of the baseline may well be lawsuits. But, in the end, the episode could expedite a fair agreement between owners and players, and a better deal for all concerned—including the often forgotten fan.

Exodus

A convoy of foreign nationals will be making its tortuous way on the road to Damascus from Beirut today, leaving behind the rubble of the city that once stood as the cosmopolitan crossroads of the Arab Middle East. For an estimated 1,400 Americans, plus scores of British, French and United Nations personnel, this will be their first opportunity in about two weeks to depart the war zone since the enforced closure of Beirut's once-bustling international airport.

No special political meaning attaches to this voluntary exodus. The bulk of Beirut's American community, some 6,400 persons, has long since left, the Lebanese capital, following United States Government advices dating as far back as last October. Today's convoy was planned many days ago by the British Embassy in Beirut; it was one of the subjects to be discussed with Lebanese President-elect Sarkis Wednesday by United States Ambassador-Meloy at the meeting to which he was driving when he was intercepted and killed.

The Ford Administration wisely ruled out any American military operation to evacuate foreigners following the Ambassador's murder; after all the agony to which Beirut's citizens have been subjected these many months, any further military venture would only have seemed a cruel and senseless provocation. On the face of it, Mr. Ford's decision to cancel a risky political trip to Iowa just because of the evacuation may be taken as an attempt to exploit the Lebanese situation for partisan advantage. The President can hardly be faulted, however, for choosing to pay his personal respects when the body of the Ambassador is returned home today.

The goal of American policy now must be to make this a temporary departure, to achieve the conditions of calm and civil order in which Beirut's Lebanese and foreign residents can resume their normal lives and, with full international cooperation and support, begin the task of Lebanon's reconstruction.

'A Public Facility'

The attempt to bar the press and public from a negligence suit brought by singer Connie Francis against the Howard Johnson motel chain has quite properly been decided in favor of open hearings—and of the Constitution.

A Federal district court judge in Brooklyn had closed the trial, which involves an alleged rape, at the request of both plaintiff and defendant who wanted to bar the news media because of the possible sensational nature of the testimony. But the Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit has reopened the courtroom, reminding the litigants that a "court is a public facility . . . from which the public cannot be excluded except when there is a showing of a compelling reason."

At the nub of civil and criminal justice is the right of parties in a case to receive a fair trial in an atmosphere that does not jeopardize the solemnity of the proceedings. It is for this reason that television cameras, with their omnipresent intrusion, are barred. The appeals judges moreover did not hold that every trial must be open every moment; press and public might be excluded from hearing portions of testimony. In some cases, where the safety of witnesses or trade secrets are involved, courtrooms have been cleared. The crucial requirement is that overriding reasons must be given; none was put forth in this case.

A fundamental argument was made in the appeal against the exclusion order by an attorney who pointed out that if civil cases could be litigated in secret, such current matters as the one dealing with the West Point honor code or patient abuses at Willowbrook might be conducted under "a convenient shroud of secrecy."

Even without the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure to support the principle of open hearings, the rationale that a courtroom is a public place can be found in the lasting phrase of the Sixth Amendment that guarantees the right to "a speedy and public trial."

Loyal to New York

The decision of Jonathan Logan Inc., one of the nation's leading apparel manufacturers, to expand an important manufacturing and distribution operation in Manhattan offers bold and timely testimony to this hard-pressed city's continuing viability as a good place to do business and to produce quality goods.

"This company always has been successful and efficient in New York, and so long as the city doesn't kill us with taxes, and services continue to be adequate, we see no reason to leave," said Logan president J. Richard Schwartz. "We also feel a moral commitment to do what we can to strengthen the city's economy."

Similar sentiments were expressed last month by officials of Engelhard Minerals and Chemicals Corporation, and the American International Group, an insurance holding company, in announcing plans for major headquarters expansions here in the face of an accelerating corporate exodus.

With like confidence and commitment on the part of business leaders and unrelenting efforts by municipal officials to restore fiscal and managerial integrity to city government, New York's decline can be reversed.

Letters to the Editor

Lebanon, Palestine and a Priority Issue

To the Editor:
The battles in Lebanon between Yasser Arafat's Palestine Liberation Organization and the Syrian-backed Palestine Liberation Army recall the Angolan civil war between rival liberation armies after independence. A hasty, oversimplified solution to the Palestine problem could provoke a similar civil war with foreign intervention on all sides. The first step is for the Arabs to agree on who represents the Palestinian people. No Palestinian representatives can negotiate with Israel while rival groups with foreign support wait in the wings to torpedo the agreement and seize power for themselves.

United Nations resolutions and Arab summit meetings like the Rabat conference are meaningless since they are ignored by Arab rulers promoting their own "liberation fronts." The P.L.O. has never demonstrated strong support from the Palestinian people. It has now forfeited any credentials as a legitimate negotiator for the Palestinians by intervening in a Lebanese civil war irrelevant to the Palestinian cause and engaging in armed conflict with a neighboring Arab state.

There is no sense in discussing an independent Palestinian state until all Arab states are realistically committed to supporting such a state and its chosen representatives. Any Palestinian state would include regions within fifty miles of Amman, Damascus, Beirut, Jerusalem and Tel Aviv. The Jordanian, Syrian, Lebanese and Israeli Governments would not allow the fate of territories crucial for their own security to be determined by battles between rival terrorist groups with Cuban or other foreign support. The resulting international crisis could be much worse than the bloody Lebanese crisis, which has already led to open armed Syrian intervention denounced by Egypt, Iraq, Libya and the P.L.O. HARRY J. LEVY, Prof. of Physics, Weizmann Institute, Rehovot, Israel, June 9, 1976

Sex and the I

To the Editor:
With the belated disclosure of dubious liaisons and im- prominent Congressmen, it is most understandable the re- luctant Nixon White House—as e- the Ervin committee by Je- man—fully to share "sens- mation with Capitol Hill.
This is not to excuse House attitude. It does ma- that the media at large tentive to Congressional as to that of a wayward tive (even though Preside- duct is obviously easier to and more newsworthy, Le- papers and wins more vie- This becomes particular- in relation to the large im- portant Congressional po- to be filled. Close scru- candidates was never mo-
New York, J

To the Editor:
The current furor over tive Wayne Hays illum- ening imbalance in the e- to which our political lea- mitted. I do not intend to But I think he should be removed from his c- signments (and perhaps a seat in the House) for n- of his power—not, if you the expression, for feath- According to my calc- Federal Government cou- $14,000-a-year paramour sex—for every man, won in New York City for billion. This is appro- amount of the inflated, potentially destructive m- which the Congress see- pared to adopt with only position.
No one should minimiz- ness of Hays's alleged- regard to Ms. Ray, not overlook the injustice do- in cases like this in eve- cranny of the Washingto- I daresay that less ul- would be done by Feder- a "Paramours for New Y- than will be done by ti- insanity of stuffing prof- rors with every dollar t- perverse madness, desire.
Is no one going to s- about "straining at gnats- ing camels?"
Cornwells Heights, Pa.,

To the Editor:
I would like to applaud (Op-Ed June 8) for discus- probably the most impor- the Wayne Hays-Elizabet- If the private lives of officials are reflective of itarian attitude toward v- the public's right to know our public officials use ti- vested in them, by their to exploit and take advan- en, it is our right to kn- Women's rights are no- political issue. Surely tl- leaders interact with wor- will affect the legisla- tion. One cannot sep- political persuasions from- sional views and attitude who "uses women like the bedroom, as Ms. RH cannot possibly be over- with women's rights to i- dignity in the political, e- social milieu.
We have a right to kno- are voting for. And we t- to know how our legisla- abuse the power, money a- that we afford them.
New York,

To the Editor:
It now seems that our choice for President of the U.S.A. will be between Carter and Ford or Reagan. Let the winner misinterpret his victory, should we not have a third choice on the ballot, i.e., "None of the Above?"
ROBERT E. KARNIS, M.D. Manchester, Conn., June 12, 1976

To the Editor:
It now seems that our choice for President of the U.S.A. will be between Carter and Ford or Reagan. Let the winner misinterpret his victory, should we not have a third choice on the ballot, i.e., "None of the Above?"
ROBERT E. KARNIS, M.D. Manchester, Conn., June 12, 1976

To the Editor:
It now seems that our choice for President of the U.S.A. will be between Carter and Ford or Reagan. Let the winner misinterpret his victory, should we not have a third choice on the ballot, i.e., "None of the Above?"
ROBERT E. KARNIS, M.D. Manchester, Conn., June 12, 1976

To the Editor:
It now seems that our choice for President of the U.S.A. will be between Carter and Ford or Reagan. Let the winner misinterpret his victory, should we not have a third choice on the ballot, i.e., "None of the Above?"
ROBERT E. KARNIS, M.D. Manchester, Conn., June 12, 1976

To the Editor:
It now seems that our choice for President of the U.S.A. will be between Carter and Ford or Reagan. Let the winner misinterpret his victory, should we not have a third choice on the ballot, i.e., "None of the Above?"
ROBERT E. KARNIS, M.D. Manchester, Conn., June 12, 1976

To the Editor:
It now seems that our choice for President of the U.S.A. will be between Carter and Ford or Reagan. Let the winner misinterpret his victory, should we not have a third choice on the ballot, i.e., "None of the Above?"
ROBERT E. KARNIS, M.D. Manchester, Conn., June 12, 1976

To Save a Life

To the Editor:
Viewing a recent CBS television program on heart attacks and what an interested citizenry has accomplished in Seattle reinforced my feelings that New York could and should establish a similar task force.

Since heart disease is still the foremost killer in this country, I feel sure that the Heart Association of Greater New York would cooperate in a feasible plan for training paramedics who could reach a heart patient quickly to take the simple first steps necessary to keep him alive until adequate medical help is available. Many of the unemployed might be interested in taking this training, as well as some in penal institutions who will be returned to society to serve a useful life.

New York is unquestionably the first convention city in this country—perhaps in the world—and especially now, with the large Democratic convention on our doorstep, some effort should be made at least to service the major midtown hotels.

Until one is personally involved with such tragedy, it is rarely known that four major hotels serving as many as two or three conventions each "share" one doctor. If he is not available, a heart attack patient can die needlessly, because no one is available to give temporary assistance.

Surely if Seattle can do it, New York can and should. People's lives are too precious to waste because of neglect.
RITA EISENDRATH New York, June 12, 1976

To the Editor:
The death of 15-year-old Elizabeth Hennessey (news story May 26) is a double tragedy reminiscent of an incident two years ago ("A Man's Life," editorial, May 25, 1974). In each case, man's inhumanity to man resulted in a fatal laceration of the victim's neck

To the Editor:
Mr. Saffire's column of June 7, where he salutes the United States for its threatened withdrawal from the I.L.O. and talks of the "intoxicated triumphalists of the United Nations," harks back to the days of Agnewian rhetoric and such phrases as "nattering nabobs of negativism." While Mr. Saffire refers to the third world as currently experiencing the thrill of power, the sweetness of intoxication is ever so fleeting, as the United States should know only too well; and while journalists, pundits and other U.N. critics continuously berate the current tilt of the U.N. power scale, we should not forget that for many years we were the "intoxicated triumphalists" or at least the ones who enjoyed a feeling of undisputed power.

Would it not serve humanity better if the wit and energy of such minds as Mr. Saffire's went into describing and acting on the positive aspects of the I.L.O., the United Nations and other international organizations which attempt to cope with some of manand, according to reports, "severing an artery." In the earlier case the patient bled to death on West 32d Street in New York City. In the Hennessey case, since no information to the contrary is provided, the reader must assume that the victim bled to death in the school or else on the way to the hospital.

For a youth to bleed to death in the middle of the day in a public institution is tragic and suggests shortcomings in fundamentals of first-aid instruction, a critical source of man's humanity to his fellow man.

While it is important that we focus attention on the wanton injury, it is equally important that we demand of ourselves an explanation why we permit a group of people to stand around and watch someone bleed to death knowing, as does every good first-aidster, that five pounds of pressure on the end of one index finger on the part of one person probably would have saved this girl's life.

The similarity of these two cases suggests that first-aid education among the public is woefully inadequate and that at Federal, state and local levels steps should be initiated to correct this deficiency. Obviously, a good starting place would be the high school. In Elizabeth Hennessey's school, a good place to start would be where she was fatally injured, "in the science wing of the rambling red-brick high school."

KENNETH G. SWAN, M.D. Director, Div. of General and Vascular Surgery, New Jersey Medical School Newark, May 28, 1976

Elections: The 3d Choice

To the Editor:
It now seems that our choice for President of the U.S.A. will be between Carter and Ford or Reagan. Let the winner misinterpret his victory, should we not have a third choice on the ballot, i.e., "None of the Above?"
ROBERT E. KARNIS, M.D. Manchester, Conn., June 12, 1976

To the Editor:
It now seems that our choice for President of the U.S.A. will be between Carter and Ford or Reagan. Let the winner misinterpret his victory, should we not have a third choice on the ballot, i.e., "None of the Above?"
ROBERT E. KARNIS, M.D. Manchester, Conn., June 12, 1976

To the Editor:
It now seems that our choice for President of the U.S.A. will be between Carter and Ford or Reagan. Let the winner misinterpret his victory, should we not have a third choice on the ballot, i.e., "None of the Above?"
ROBERT E. KARNIS, M.D. Manchester, Conn., June 12, 1976

To the Editor:
It now seems that our choice for President of the U.S.A. will be between Carter and Ford or Reagan. Let the winner misinterpret his victory, should we not have a third choice on the ballot, i.e., "None of the Above?"
ROBERT E. KARNIS, M.D. Manchester, Conn., June 12, 1976

To the Editor:
It now seems that our choice for President of the U.S.A. will be between Carter and Ford or Reagan. Let the winner misinterpret his victory, should we not have a third choice on the ballot, i.e., "None of the Above?"
ROBERT E. KARNIS, M.D. Manchester, Conn., June 12, 1976

The New York Times Company
229 West 43d St., N.Y. 10036

Corporate
ARTHUR OCHS SULZBERGER, Chairman and President
JOHN J. MCCARTHY, Senior Vice President
JAMES C. GOODALE, Executive Vice President
MICHAEL E. RYAN, Secretary
RALPH BOWMAN, Treasurer

The New York Times
WALTER MATSON, Executive Vice President
JOHN MORTIMER, Senior Vice President
JOHN D. POMFREY, Senior Vice President
DONALD A. MEEEN, Vice President
FRED D. THOMPSON, Vice President

Affiliated Companies
STYVEN GRUBSON, Executive Vice President
BENJAMIN BRANDELMAN, Senior Vice President
CHARLES B. BRANDELMAN, Vice President
WILLIAM H. DAVIS, Vice President
JOHN R. HARRISON, Vice President
ROBERT A. NOVEMBER, Vice President
ARNOLD ZEHM, Vice President

Handwritten signature or initials in a box at the bottom of the page.

REP. HOWE TO STAY IN UTAH CAMPAIGN

Continued From Page 1, Col. 2

Accompanied by his wife, Marieme, his five children and his lawyers, the 48-year-old freshman Democrat said again that the arrest was a "setup of trap by vindictive and politically motivated people."

He charged that the decoys had falsely reported a conversation he had had with them. In a transcript, which the police originally said was a tape-recording but which actually was only a report by one decoy, Mr. Howe allegedly offered to pay $20 for two sex acts.

'Shocked' by Publicity

"As a lawyer and as a citizen, I am shocked at the apparent abandonment of legal and proper procedures by the premature release of misleading information to the press," Mr. Howe told the news conference, his voice firm but his hands shaking.

He acknowledged that his case had received extra publicity because it occurred in the midst of Washington sex controversies. He conceded that his re-election would be "difficult" but said he had "absolute faith" in the people of his district, which includes Salt Lake City.

He said he did not feel bitter toward fellow Democrats who have put intensive pressure on him to step aside. However, in answer to a question about Senator Moss, whose name will appear on the Democratic ballot with Mr. Howe's, the Representative replied, "I would hope that judgment would be more restrained."

Mr. Howe later pleaded not guilty in City Court and asked Judge Paul Grant for a jury trial as soon as possible.

Senator Moss told reporters the day after news of the arrest became public that Mr. Howe stood no chance of being elected. Mr. Howe had worked for Senator Moss as a field representative and administrative assistant for five years.

Mr. Howe also deflected a question about Spencer W. Kimball, president of the Mormon Church, who has suggested that the Representative withdraw.

The church-owned afternoon newspaper here, The Deseret News, has demanded Mr. Howe's immediate withdrawal from the campaign for a second term, saying it might have "a national cleansing effect."

This morning, the non-Mormon Salt Lake Tribune commented that Mr. Howe had "used incredibly poor judgment" by being in the area of West Second South, the capital city's red-light district. The newspaper said that if he sought re-election he would "compound his mistakes" and "encourage [the] ridicule he has already caused this state" and "perpetuate embarrassment" to the Democratic Party.

In his prepared remarks, Mr. Howe said it had been a "foolish mistake" to talk to the women, who were sitting in a parked car. But he challenged the decoy's account of their chat, saying, "The lewd remarks are totally false and inconsistent with my character and training."

Questioned afterward, Mr. Howe said he had called the Salt Lake City Chief of Police after his arrest. But he said he had not requested anything improper. He also acknowledged that 25 years ago he was temporarily excommunicated by the Mormon Church for a youthful indiscretion. He was completely welcomed back into the fold, he said.

Associated Press Representative Allan T. Howe at Salt Lake City news meeting yesterday.

There were conflicting reports on how his half of Utah would react to Mr. Howe's stance. More than 70 percent of those polled earlier in the week by a local radio station said they felt he should quit the race.

But Mr. Howe and at least one major Democratic leader said that many voters had telephoned their support of him.

'Didn't Harm Anybody'

One knowledgeable political source asked: "Are they going to get rid of a splendid Congressman just because he was on West Second South? He didn't harm anybody. He didn't steal any money."

Until last weekend, Mr. Howe was considered assured of re-election. Four relatively unknown Republicans are entered in the primary for the nomination to oppose him.

In his first term, Mr. Howe was rated relatively liberal for a freshman from a conservative state. His votes in 1975 earned him a 68 percent rating from Americans for Democratic Action, 69 percent from the Consumers Federation and 91 percent from the League of Women Voters. He got only a 38 percent rating from the League of Conservative Voters, suggesting that he followed the rest of the Utah delegation in opposing stringent environmental regulations.

The first test of his viability as a candidate should come tomorrow, when he is scheduled to address the Utah State Democratic Convention.

Day-Care Benefit Slated

One of the 28 day-care centers cut off from public financing last Dec. 31 in the city budget crisis is sponsoring a fund-raising dance benefit in its efforts to keep going. The benefit for Our Children's Center, operated for student parents at New York City Community College in Brooklyn, is to be held next Friday at 7:30 P.M. at Klitgaard Auditorium, 285 Jay Street, Brooklyn. The Ballet Hispanico of New York and the Chuck Davis Dance Company will be featured.

SUMMER IS FOR KIDS HELP THE FRESH AIR FUND

Hays Is Forced Out of a Key House Post; Reforms Are Weighed

Continued From Page 1, Col. 1

representatives, including plans for audits of all the House records of the 94th Congress, the hiring of private management consultants to examine Congressional operations and the creation of an employee rights committee for the House to air grievances against members.

Republican leaders seized on the resignation to step up demands for change.

Representative John J. Rhodes of Arizona, the minority leader, said, "Until the Democrats do something to prevent future Wayne Hayses, the basic problems of the House are unresolved."

Mr. Albert made public Mr. Hays' intent at a morning meeting with reporters in his office, saying that the two spoke by telephone yesterday afternoon and that Mr. Hays had "verified he would send me a letter on Monday stepping down from the chairmanship."

Mr. Hays, who had been hospitalized in Barnesville, Ohio, since taking an overdose of sleeping pills eight days ago, then released through his office, then a brief announcement that said:

"The charges which have been made against me and the current state of my health make it impossible for me to devote the time necessary to carry out my responsibilities as chairman of the House Administration Committee."

Mr. Hays, therefore, has decided to step down as chairman of that committee.

"I am confident that I will be vindicated as to any wrongdoing and when that occurs, I shall ask for a re-examination of my position by the House Democratic Caucus Meeting Previously Set."

The caucus, which serves to install committee chairmen since it outvotes the Republicans almost 2 to 1, had scheduled a meeting next Wednesday to consider a resolution to oust Mr. Hays from that chairmanship.

Last week Mr. Hays' resignation as chairman of the Democratic National Congressional Committee was accepted by its members and Representative James C. Corman of California was elected as his replacement. This group, which distributes campaign funds to Democratic candidates for the House, had been Mr. Hays' second major base of power.

Despite his announcement today, there were indications that Mr. Hays's problems were far from solved.

Representative Michael J. Harrington of Massachusetts sent a letter to his fellow Democrats on the House International Relations Committee asking for a caucus "in the near future" to consider his request that Mr. Hays be ousted as chairman of that committee's Subcommittee on International Operations.

"I don't have any idea that Mr. Hays has been guilty of any wrongdoing through his service on International Operations, but we ought to be strongly warned by his actions on other committees, and ought to remove him now before we do it under a hail of bullets," Mr. Harrington said.

Mr. Hays has in the past been criticized for using his chairmanship to make dozens of trips abroad, generally to Europe, accompanied by favored Federal personnel. On some of these trips, he served as the official designated delegate of the House to various international meetings.

Mr. Hays is also under investigation of payroll padding charges by both the Justice Department and the House ethics committee. The latter's chairman, Representative John J. Flynt Jr., Democrat of Georgia, said that the panel was continuing its inquiries into Mr. Hays' actions as chairman of the Administration Committee.

Mr. Flynt is investigating charges made by Elizabeth Ray that she was hired by Mr. Hays to serve as a clerk on the committee at a salary of $14,000 to do little work but serve as his mistress. Mr. Hays has denied that Miss Ray served no useful purpose on the committee staff but he has conceded that he and Miss Ray were lovers.

If Miss Ray's charges are substantiated they would seem to indicate a violation of the United Press International Frank Thompson Jr., New Jersey Democrat, has replaced Wayne L. Hays as chairman of House Administration Committee.

False Claims Act. In addition to these investigations, W. Edward Thompson, a lawyer here, has filed suit against Mr. Hays and Miss Ray to recover most of the $35,000 that was paid to her in her several jobs in the House.

The accusations by Miss Ray together with the subsequent publication of a thinly disguised novel about her activities on Capitol Hill, sparked a national controversy and the implication of other present and former Congressmen in sexual incidents.

One of the main sources of power for Mr. Hays, who is 65 years old, has been a House vote in 1971 that ousted his committee, and in effect to him the right to determine the sizes of many of the expense allowances to which representatives are entitled.

Republicans have repeatedly sought to overturn the action but have been voted down.

Representative John B. Anderson of Illinois, the chairman of the House Republican Conference, said: "Hays has been only part of the problem around here. We have created 435 stragglers with no sense of direction."

Two Democratic Representatives, Patricia Schroeder of Colorado and Charles C. Rose of North Carolina, also described to newsmen today their plan to create a voluntary grievance committee composed of three representatives and three House staff members "to receive and consider all complaints of adverse discrimination and abuses brought before it." These would include sexual abuse of aides by representatives.

This is one of the ideas to be considered by Representative Thompson when he becomes chairman of the Administration Committee. The Democratic Steering and Policy Committee will meet Tuesday to nominate Mr. Thompson to the Democratic Caucus. On Wednesday the caucus is expected to approve him as chairman, as is the full House since it is overwhelmingly Democratic.

The resignation of Mr. Hays from his second chairmanship also increased speculation that he would also either resign his seat in the House or retire at the end of this term. Last week he received his party's renomination for a 15th consecutive term from Ohio's 18th Congressional District, but with a majority greatly diminished from those in the past parties.

At a footnote to his resignation statement today, his office staff included this comment: "Additionally, Mr. Hays denies that he intends to resign his seat in Congress."

Yet the speculation continued because he has lost reputation and has been deprived of virtually all his power. Even his fourth chairmanship, that of the Congressional Joint Committee on Printing, is due to expire at the end of this year. The post is alternated between senators and representatives.

Meanwhile the Justice Department has asked the House Administration Committee for the travel records of nine representatives who have been identified in news reports as having double-billed the House for travel expenses. Some of the representatives have already repaid sums ranging from $600 to almost $2,000.

The nine have been identified by The Wall Street Journal and other publications as Ray Madden, Democrat of Indiana; Margaret M. Heckler, Republican of Massachusetts; Tim Lee Carter, Republican of Kentucky; Walter J. Flowers, Democrat of Alabama; Otto E. Passman, Democrat of Louisiana; Bill Burlington, Democrat of Missouri; George Shipley, Democrat of Illinois; Robert E. Jones, Democrat of Alabama; and Gene Taylor, Republican of Missouri.

Hays Leaves Hospital BARNESVILLE, Ohio, June 18 (AP)—Mr. Hays was released tonight after being hospitalized for the pill overdose.

He slipped out of the hospital, hospital officials said. Earlier, Dr. Richard Phillips, Mr. Hays' personal physician, said the 65-year-old Democrat had lost about 15 pounds but "he's picking it back up."

Dr. Phillips said Mr. Hays would need another three to four weeks' rest at his nearby farm home before regaining full strength.

Gravel Tells of Dinner WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—Senator Mike Gravel, Democrat of Alaska, said today that his records show that he had dinner with former Representative Kenneth Gray, Democrat of Illinois, on Aug. 10, 1972. Miss Ray was employed by Mr. Gray at the time.

Miss Ray and Colleen Gardner, a friend of Miss Ray, both have said that Senator Gravel had sexual relations with Miss Ray on Mr. Gray's houseboat on that day.

Mr. Gravel said today he did not remember if the dinner was on Mr. Gray's boat.

Miss Ray has said that Mr. Gray instructed her to engage in sexual relations with Mr. Gravel and later told her the reason was to get the Senator's support for a bill.

Senator Gravel denied today that he had sexual relations with Miss Ray.

Alabama; Otto E. Passman, Democrat of Louisiana; Bill Burlington, Democrat of Missouri; George Shipley, Democrat of Illinois; Robert E. Jones, Democrat of Alabama; and Gene Taylor, Republican of Missouri.

Hays Leaves Hospital BARNESVILLE, Ohio, June 18 (AP)—Mr. Hays was released tonight after being hospitalized for the pill overdose.

He slipped out of the hospital, hospital officials said. Earlier, Dr. Richard Phillips, Mr. Hays' personal physician, said the 65-year-old Democrat had lost about 15 pounds but "he's picking it back up."

Dr. Phillips said Mr. Hays would need another three to four weeks' rest at his nearby farm home before regaining full strength.

Gravel Tells of Dinner WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—Senator Mike Gravel, Democrat of Alaska, said today that his records show that he had dinner with former Representative Kenneth Gray, Democrat of Illinois, on Aug. 10, 1972. Miss Ray was employed by Mr. Gray at the time.

Miss Ray and Colleen Gardner, a friend of Miss Ray, both have said that Senator Gravel had sexual relations with Miss Ray on Mr. Gray's houseboat on that day.

Mr. Gravel said today he did not remember if the dinner was on Mr. Gray's boat.

Miss Ray has said that Mr. Gray instructed her to engage in sexual relations with Mr. Gravel and later told her the reason was to get the Senator's support for a bill.

Senator Gravel denied today that he had sexual relations with Miss Ray.

Try a Blonch before dinner

A DUBONNET INSTEAD OF YOUR USUAL GLASS OF WHITE WINE

IT'S A TASTY LITTLE NUMBER

© 1976, DUBONNET

Men's Cut SPECIALLY designed for you

Only Compatible!

218-76 11th Ave. S.E. Atlanta, Ga.

FLY DELTA. YOU CAN'T GET A LOWER AIR FARE.

Big savings to every Delta city, including these:

New York to:	Regular Day Tourist Fares, round trip	Day Freedom Fares, round trip	Regular Night Coach Fares, round trip	Night Coach Freedom Fare, round trip
Atlanta	$160	$136	$128	—
Birmingham	174	148	140	—
Charlotte	130	111	—	—
Houston	250	212	200	—
Miami/Ft. Lauderdale	206	165	164	$154
New Orleans	218	185	174	—
Orlando/Walt Disney World	190	152	152	142
Tampa/St. Pete	190	152	152	142

Delta saves you up to 25% off Day Tourist Fares. Fly to your favorite Florida resort with a Delta Freedom Fare. You get 25% off on Night Coach round trips and 20% off on daytime round trips. If you're going to a city outside Florida, use a Delta Freedom Fare and get 15% off on your daytime round trip. Naturally, at these bargain rates there are some restrictions. Call Delta or your Travel Agent for details. You can also buy your ticket any time, fly any night and save about 20% with Delta one-way Night Coach Fares to most cities.

For full details and instant reservations thru Deltamatic call Delta in New York at (212) 239-0700, in Nassau at (516) 292-1555, in New Jersey at (201) 622-2111. Or see your friendly Travel Agent. Delta and your Travel Agent accept American Express and all other major general-purpose credit cards.

Have a nice trip. DELTA

Choose from dozens of thrifty Delta Dream Vacations. Florida Fly/Drive Vacation, $205 to $317 (for party of 1 to 4), 8 days, 7 nights, plus air fare. Great for couples, families, groups. Take your pick of hotels and motels just about anywhere in Florida. You get room for party of 1 to 4 persons for 7 nights and a car with unlimited mileage for 8 days (you buy gas, and extra insurance coverage if desired). Take your pick of 5 types of cars. (Size and car company determine package price). Drop-off charge if not returned to original renting station. Eff. to Dec. 15, 1976. FDZ-GOGAKS MDL-GOGAKS

Fares and tour rates subject to change without notice.

DELTA IS READY WHEN YOU ARE.

WHAT A MATCH!
New gems from the Northern Seas....

come browse & enjoy! MON-THURS. NITES TILL 9

FROM SCANDINAVIA LTD.

on long island, 30 JERICHO TPK, WESTBURY/516.992.6777
in westchester, 126 S. CENTRAL AVE, HARTSDALE/914.428.3900

Handwritten note: Hays 1/20/76

Forms Are Weighed... [Fragmented text from another page]

An American in Paris, Leonard Bernstein, Enchants the City With a Gershwin Melody

By FLORA LEWIS... PARIS, June 18—It is rare to hear George Gershwin's "An American in Paris" in Paris, and it was all the more extraordinary to hear it last night under a big circus tent in the middle of the Tuileries gardens, with lights twinkling and lovers sighing at a summer fair.

Leonard Bernstein at the Place de la Concorde in Paris on Thursday.

Ethical Culture Movement, at 100, Disturbing but Creative Stage

By KENNETH A. BRIGGS... great and crying evil in it," declared Dr. Felix Adler, founder of the Ethical Culture Movement, at the cornerstone-laying of the society on Central Park West in 1876.

Felix Adler, chairman of the New York unit, as he delivered the Sunday address recently at the society.

3,500 Attend... Nonetheless, the tent was more than half full. An official said there were 3,500 people present.

Leonard Bernstein conducting Gershwin's "An American in Paris" last Thursday, in Paris.

ELTA AN'WARE... [Large stylized text advertisement]

News Summary and Index

SATURDAY, JUNE 19, 1976... The Major Events of the Day... International... Rioting spread yesterday to a number of black townships around Johannesburg.

The Other News

International... Ford cancels campaign trip, citing Lebanon. Page 1... Industry and Labor... Rubber talks fail to break impasse. Page 19... Quotation of the Day... "I must have a stick or something. If I have nothing, they will say I am with the white man, and they will kill me."

136... 148... 111... 212... [List of numbers and partial text]

U.S. Acts to Protect Endangered Plants By Publishing a List... WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—The Government is stepping in to try to save the likes of the prickly pear, paw paw, and even wild rice.

Aides Expected Riot at Rikers I. They Felt Powerless to Prevent It

TOMASSON officials said they had been afraid riot that day night out were virtually prevent it. ch left two in and 41 other on shortly a ground-floor Adolescent Re-Center. Sixty gathered in before the night summering ho- black and His- cause of the open, according Malcom, Com- rection. d a profession cluding metal into knives, and "brass" knuckles made from ash can handles, correction officials said. Yesterday two inmates, one 19 years old, the other 20, were in Bellevue Hospital with stab wounds. Three large windows had been smashed as well as many other windows in the doors of the cells in a corridor off the room. A portion of the dropped ceiling, just out of view of an observation booth manned by two correction officials, that had held a cache of weapons, had been ripped off. Both Mr. Malcom and Peter K. Tufo, chairman of the watchdog Board of Correction, said that they considered the center, which houses inmates between the ages of 16 and 20, as the most potentially explosive of the city's penal institutions. "If one wanted to take the major causes of juvenile vio-

Victor Gotbaum, right, municipal employees union chief, responding to city office of collective bargaining; Dr. John L. S. Holloman Jr., head of Health and Hospitals Corporation, Martin Horwitz and Basil A. Paterson.

Robert L. Payton, president of Hofstra University, who resigned today.

Fact-Finding Panel Calls for Fewer Layoffs at Municipal Hospitals

By DAVID BERD
A fact-finding panel set up by Mayor Beame to avert a strike in New York City's municipal hospitals, called yesterday for a sharp reduction in the number of workers to be laid off and the keeping open of some facilities the city felt it had to close because of the fiscal crisis.

Despite repeated requests, the state so far has turned down the city's request for the $92-a-day rate that the city feels it needs to operate a nursing facility there without losing money. The rate the state now pays is $75.

The panel agreed with the closing of the unneeded 200-bed G-wing at Seaview Hospital on Staten Island. There are no patients in that wing now.

In the Bronx, the panel also concurred, with the plan to close down the Belvis Neighborhood Family Care Center, at least temporarily. It said that facility eventually should be reopened as a part of the outpatient facility of the new and nearby Lincoln Hospital. The findings—announced at a crowded news conference in Automation House, 49 East 68th Street, where the panel has been holding hearings and deliberating since it was created on June 3—were greeted with reservations by both the union and the city.

Leaders Turning Supplemental Budget

By STEVEN R. WEISMAN
Special to The New York Times
18-Governor might be altered, however, with changes in the program. Consideration supplemental resolving what appropriated, money there

With Federal funds, 154 counselors were hired. When the initial grant ran out, the city was unable to continue the program. There are now 14 counselors to serve the center's 900 inmates. The institution has a capacity of 1,100.

Hempstead, L.I., June 18—Robert L. Payton, president of Hofstra University for the last three years, said today that he had handed in his resignation to the board of trustees.

Mr. Payton, who was president of C. W. Post College of Long Island University for four years before assuming his post at Hofstra, refused to say why he had resigned, but the move apparently resulted from the board's view that he was not devoting sufficient time to the fiscal problems of the university.

Mr. Dempster called Mr. Payton "a very fine spokesman for higher education in the country" and added that his resignation was "a heavy financial burden" on the university.

The chairman said he expected the 25-member board would accept Mr. Payton's resignation and name a replacement immediately, but he would not say who that would be.

He also said it was "highly unlikely" that Mr. Payton would be paid his salary for the remaining two years of his contract. "There is no question that Bob resigned voluntarily," he declared.

Even the Budget Division, under Mr. Goldmark, would like $1 million that was cut by the Legislature.

At the time that Bob took office, we were at a near-break-even budget. Now we have been experiencing substantial higher deficits. Last year the deficit was $1,980,000. So just effect of continuing the inflation and the cost to students, and the unfortunate product of these excesses is that it creates an inflation that will bring this form of education out of the reach of many of our citizens in the country." He declined to discuss the "excesses."

Mr. Dempster said that, like Mr. Payton, the board was also "very much committed to quality education." But, he added, "there are some economic and academic excesses in independent higher education—it is extremely important for the viability of independent higher education in the country that those excesses be dealt with."

Dr. Erren Rosen, an associate professor of biology in the university's New College and president of the Hofstra chapter of the American Association of University Professors, said the 350 members of the association were concerned with what effect the resignation would have on negotiations for a new contract, which expires Aug. 31.

Mr. Baron said the company representatives had indicated that the cost would be around $12,000 or $13,000, twice the cost of today's taxis.

Both independent taxi officials asserted that they had been invited to the showing. Their organizations have their own newspaper. Miss Shaw commented: "These two people came with preconceived notions."

Frank E. Campbell
The Funeral Chaplain

SURFSIDE CHITCHAT: Strollers at Coney Island yesterday, a hot, muggy day. It will also be hot today in the metropolitan area, with the temperature in the low 80's. Warm weather will continue tomorrow, with showers likely.

LOTTERY NUMBER
June 18, 1976
N.J. Pick-It—774

Taxi-Driver Leaders and Museum Clash

By EDWARD C. BURKS
Two leaders of independent taxi-owner-driver associations have clashed with officials of the Museum of Modern Art over the museum's exhibit of prototype cabs of the future, and one leader said that he was ejected from the show.

The leader, Salvatore Barone, the general manager of the United Taxi-Owners Guild, which has 2,000 members, said yesterday that he was told to leave because he had made criticisms.

Mr. Baron said the company representatives had indicated that the cost would be around $12,000 or $13,000, twice the cost of today's taxis.

Over-the-Counter Quotations

Quotations supplied through NASDAQ as of 4:00 P.M. Quotes do not include retail markup, markdown or commissions. Volume represents shares that changed ownership during the day. Figures include only transactions effected by NASDAQ market-makers but may include some duplication where market-makers traded with each other.

FOREIGN SECURITY

Main table of over-the-counter quotations for various stocks, organized in columns with company names and bid/ask prices.

BANKS AND S&L's

Table listing banks and savings & loan associations with their respective bid and ask prices.

INSURANCE

Table listing insurance companies and their market prices.

AUTHORITY BONDS

Table listing authority bonds with their bid and ask prices.

United States Government and Agency Bonds

Table listing United States Government and Agency bonds with their bid and ask prices.

MUTUAL FUNDS

Table listing mutual funds with their bid and ask prices.

Supplementary O-T-C

Table listing supplementary over-the-counter quotations for various securities.

Large advertisement on the right side of the page, featuring a portrait of a man and text including 'Woolly Is K' and 'Supplementary O-T-C'.

Handwritten text at the bottom center of the page: 'JUN 19 1976'.

STATIONS LEADING

Told Big U.S. Conflicting in Europe

IN CHARGED

Police is Said Markets and Farmers

ROBBINS

June 18

Signators told

Committee today

price informa-

large grain corn-their European able for them

United States

has to be paid

ers.

be misleading

to governments

roups had also manipulate the

in import le-subsidies.

was given to be on Multina-ional Commission and Iragative staff

first of six

on the interna-

try and Unit-policy.

Charges

have denied

ording to the

ay will be giv-

to reply at essentially are ies say they

ck Clark, De-summing up money. Senator

today's hearing Frank

it of Idaho, is subcommittee

are the culmin-

g long investigamuties.

based their ily on a me-

gricultural at-

g. West Ger-superiors in department

deceptive returns frequent-influence appli-

to increase or confiding to the orter."

by E.E.C.

read to be ta-

European Eco-

to protect in prices.

memorandum

was but the witness sorting system is a refused privatations pro-

sent and industry compa-

Corporation,

the Louisi-

an. Senator are among that the investment handled

cent of major in exports and stages export-

Low tide in the Bay of Fundy, Nova Scotia, where the water level can vary as much as 53 feet. Plans are being re-vised to harness this tidal power to produce electricity as an answer to the high price of oil.

Bay of Fundy Is Restudied for Tidal Power

By ROBERT TRUMBULL Special to The New York Times HALIFAX, Nova Scotia—Twice a day, the gravitational pull of the moon sends Atlantic Ocean currents rushing into the bottleneck of the Bay of Fundy, raising the water level as much as 53 feet—the highest and strongest tides in the world. Twice a day the enormous mass of water goes back where it came from as the receding moon releases its grip, leaving a vast desert of mud along the shores of the 145-mile-long bay until the next incoming movement, exactly 12 hours and 25 minutes later. Since the beginning of the century, engineers have dreamed of harnessing the fabulous power in the Bay of Fundy tides to generate electricity. However, a Canadian study under Government auspices in 1969 resulted in the abandonment of the idea as

The preliminary studies in the bay, said in an interview. Dams utilizing the tidal flow to run giant generators would be a prospective source of electric power for the New England States, which now receive electricity from several Canadian provinces, and for Quebec, Mr. Kirkpatrick said.

"We have already had discussions on what the regional power system will look like 15 to 20 years from now, and how tidal power would fit in," he added. According to preliminary Canadian assessments, a complex of dams in the bay, which lies between Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, would be the most productive single source of energy in the world, with a capacity of 13,000 megawatts—more than six times the output of Canada's major nuclear plant at Pickering, Ontario. The 13,000 megawatt capacity could be expected to serve the needs of a city as large as New York. Among 37 possible sites for dams, the earlier survey chose the narrow entrance to Shepody Bay, Cobequid Bay and the Cumberland Basin as the most promising. The Turnabout in I.L.O.

Rout of Militants on Jobs Plan Raises Likelihood U.S. Will Remain in Group

By A. H. RASKIN Special to The New York Times GENEVA, June 18—In three tense hours last night, the chances of the United States remaining in the International Labor Organization moved from zero to well above 50-50. The occasion was the adoption by the Economic I.L.O.'s World Employment Conference of a program aimed at generating tens of millions of new jobs, primarily in the developing countries, by the year 2000. The American delegation, no longer in the overblown mood of the original conference, came to the final session certain that it had victory all wrapped up. But that victory almost disappeared with an 11th-hour power play by Cuba, Mexico, and other militant elements in a divided third-world coalition. If the victory had vanished, the United States, which last November gave two-year notice of its intention to leave the I.L.O. unless it "depoliticized" its activities, would have gone with it. The reason Washington is

U.S. EMPHASIZING RESOURCES BANK

Despite Rebuff at UNCTAD Meeting, Americans Want Raw Materials Facility

By CLYDE H. FARNSWORTH Special to The New York Times PARIS, June 18—Despite a rebuff at the United Nations Conference of Trade and Development in Nairobi, Kenya, two weeks ago, the United States is continuing to press for creation of an international resources bank to facilitate raw materials development in the third world. With interest still being shown by several third world delegations, the United States has submitted a paper further elaborating its ideas about the new bank at another forum here of developed and developing countries. Washington, according to the paper, now envisages a tripartite contractual relationship to deal with the question of nationalization or other political risks that might keep investors away from specific projects. The new bank, in effect, would provide guarantees for investors, but they as well as the host government would also have obligations to fulfill. Kissinger Outlines Aims As originally outlined by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, the new bank would facilitate technological development and management training in third world countries, assure supplies of raw materials, and help moderate commodity-price fluctuations. A resolution at the UNCTAD meeting backing study of the American ideas was rejected by a 33-to-31 vote with a substantial number of negative votes cast by Communist countries. Tricked by the result, Mr. Kissinger and Treasury Secretary William E. Simon issued an unusual joint statement in Washington June 1 asserting that the rebuff did not "angry well for the future of the dialogue of the worldwide development effort."

Rate of Inflation In Britain Slowed To 15.4% in May

Special to The New York Times LONDON, June 18—The rate of Britain's inflation slowed significantly in May, according to official figures published today. They showed that the annual rate of inflation in May slowed to 15.4 percent, a drop of 3.5 percentage points compared with April's annual rate of 18.9 percent. This was the ninth successive monthly decline in the inflation rate. The May decline was the sharpest monthly drop since these statistics were first recorded in 1962. The annual rate of 15.4 percent compared with the peak figure of 26.9 percent last August. The Government is aiming at single figures in 1977. The improvement, which had been confidently forecast by Prime Minister James Callaghan and Chancellor of the Exchequer Denis Healey recently, is expected to continue but at a slower rate in the next few months. Last summer's galloping in-

Bankers Advised on Avoiding Losses; in League Chief Assails Redlining

By TERRY ROBARDS Special to The New York Times LAKE PLACID, N. Y., June 18—Vernon E. Jordan Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, charged today that banks had encouraged urban blight by refusing to grant mortgages in declining neighborhoods. "The urban diseases of housing abandonment and declining older neighborhoods have been encouraged by traditional industry redlining practices," he said in a sharply worded speech at the annual meeting of the New York State Bankers Association here. Redlining is the refusal of banks to make mortgage loans in certain geographic areas regardless of the creditworthiness of the borrower. It has become a major issue in banking-reform legislation across the country. "For a long time," Mr. Jordan said, "redlining was a dirty little secret to be hidden from public view, but now the secret is out, the practice well-known. Continued on Page 31, Column 6

Links Ban to Blight

Reservations Expressed Some developing countries, however, are still expressing reservations about what they consider to be the capitalist flavor of the proposal. They suspect it is intended mainly to give the United States greater access to their raw materials and create profitable conditions for multinational companies. The bank would mobilize, Continued on Page 29, Column 6

Kennecott Rejects Offer For Its Peabody Coal Co.

By HERBERT KOSHEITZ The Kennecott Copper Corporation said yesterday that it had rejected an offer from the Utilities Group a consortium of several electric utility companies, to purchase Kennecott's Peabody Coal Company subsidiary, the largest coal company in the country. Kennecott is under a Federal Trade Commission order to divest itself of the coal company and has been examining the bids of several prospective buyers for more than a year. Kennecott did not say how much had been offered by the utility group, but trade sources estimated the bid to be about $1 billion. Last year the

S. & L. GURB ASKED FOR MISSISSIPPI

Governor Seeks Moratorium On Withdrawals Pending Federal Insurance

JACKSON, Miss., June 18 (UPI)—Gov. Cliff Finch called an emergency session of the Mississippi legislature tonight and asked for a temporary moratorium on withdrawals from all state-chartered, non-Federally insured savings and loan associations until Federal insurance or its equivalent could be obtained. In a speech prepared for delivery to a joint session of the legislature, Governor Finch outlined a plan that, he said, would assure that the Federal Home Loan Bank Board would provide a "special fund" of personnel who will take extraordinary action to expedite applications of state-chartered associations for Federal insurance.

Many privately insured savings and loan associations across the state began a moratorium on withdrawals after runs by depositors began last month. The action was touched off when the Bankers Trust Savings and Loan was placed in receivership. It is not related to the Bankers Trust Company of New York. Stock Conversion Asked In addition, Governor Finch called for allowing depositors in institutions that are financially un sound to strengthen the institutions by converting a portion of their deposits to preferred stock guaranteed notes. This, he said, would help to obtain Federal insurance. He also asked that the Mississippi Supreme Court appoint a conservator to oversee each non-Federally insured savings and loan association. He said legislation on the plan had been prepared for introduction. In addition, Governor Finch called on the commercial banks and other financial institutions to "allow persons to borrow money by using their savings accounts as collateral."

He said he had already been assured by some bank officials that this could be done, and was planning to speak to others soon. "The plan we suggest tonight will give all non-Federally insured associations, even those now in receivership, a chance to plug into the Federal insurance system or its equivalent and help depositors avoid losing all of their money. "It is designed to give every dollar possible to the depositor," Governor Finch said. Continued on Page 29, Column 6

Market Profile

BIG BOARD ISSUES FINISH DAY MIXED

Dow Shows 1.31-Point Loss to 1,001.88 but Advances Outnumber Declines

By DOUGLAS W. CRAIG Profit taking stalled the stock market's current advance yesterday in continued active trading. Blue-chip issues active and higher on Thursday, fell back enough yesterday to give the Dow Jones industrial average a 1.31-point loss at 1,001.88. The market as a whole actually outperformed the Dow, with advances leading declines by an 8-to-5 ratio. The Dow was up 23.08 points for the week, its best performance since it added 23.61 points in the week ended March 26. Analysts were encouraged by yesterday's continuation of the active trading pace that developed this week. Volume was 25.72 million shares, compared with 27.81 million shares traded Thursday. For the week, 114.84 million shares were traded, also best since 115.47 million shares changed hands March 26. One Analyst's View Nationally, trading in all issues listed on the New York Stock Exchange totaled 29.71 million shares down from 23.53 million shares traded on Thursday. William M. LeFevre, an analyst at Granger & Company, noting the Dow's close above the 1,000-point mark, said: "If the Dow average manages to stay above 1,000, it could encourage a return of individual investor confidence." Prior to yesterday's and Continued on Page 28, Column 3

FOREIGN INVESTING IN U.S. INCREASES

Larger and Faster Growth Than Estimated Cited by Commerce Department

BUT NO THREAT IS FOUND Role of Companies Abroad in American Economy Is Described as Minor

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—The Commerce Department reported today that foreign investment in United States business was larger and increasing faster than originally estimated. But officials said they saw no threat from such investment. "We see no need for a change in the nation's open door policy toward foreign investments," said Stanley Katz, deputy assistant secretary for international economic policy and research. A study had been ordered by Congress as a companion to a still uncompleted Treasury study on foreign portfolio holdings, such as government and corporate bonds. The reviews were prompted by concern over the impact of foreign influence on the United States economy in the wake of two dollar devaluations and increased holdings of excess cash by oil-producing nations. None of Threats Found Mr. Katz said the Commerce Department study turned up none of the kinds of threats foreseen by Congress. "Foreign-owned companies were found to have only a minor position in all major sectors of the American economy," he added. The study was more intensive than a preliminary report in October. The October report estimated foreign direct investment at the end of 1974 at $21.7 billion. The new estimate put that number at $26.5 billion. That represents 18 percent of gross private fixed non-residential investment. The growth for 1974, rather than being the 18.6 percent originally estimated, was put at 23.8 percent. That was about the same as the increase in a previous year, but well above growth averaged from 1965 to 1970 of 10 percent over a previous decade. The report said 1975 foreign investment was expected to show a growth rate more moderate than for the previous year. Change From 24 Percent Direct investment is any foreign stock ownership or equivalent amounting to 10 percent or more of a United States company's total equity. That is a change from the 24 percent threshold used in the preliminary survey in October. The Commerce Department estimated about $1.2 billion of the upward revision in the total investment figure was a result of the redefinition. The report said that, by industry, foreign direct investment was distributed 31 percent in manufacturing, 24 percent in petroleum, 23 percent in finance, insurance and real estate; 16 percent in wholesale trade and 6 percent in all other industries combined. European countries accounted for more than half of the investments, while Canada had one-fifth. The report had no specific estimates for the oil-exporting Arab nations, but the Middle East nations as a whole accounted for a relatively small 6.3 percent overall investment in the United States. Continued on Page 33, Column 4

Dressing to Aid Burn Victims Is Patented

Dr. Robert A. Abrahams, a technical director in Hydro Med Sciences Inc., a subsidiary of the National Patent Development Corporation, with new burn dressing.

By STACY JONES Special to The New York Times WASHINGTON, June 18—A major cause of death in severely burned patients is infection in the wound prior to healing. A new method of treatment, which has attracted attention in the medical profession, is the application of a two-part dressing to the wound for protection against bacteria. A liquid is first applied and a powder is added, producing a uniform film. Dr. Robert A. Abrahams, a technical director in Hydro Med Sciences Inc., a New Brunswick, N. J., subsidiary of the National Patent Development Corporation, was granted patent 3,963,685 this week for the polymer used as the powder. The Hydro burn dressing, as it is known, may be applied at the scene of an accident or as soon as the patient reaches a hospital. Dr. Abrahams says that no other product is now available as an early dressing to provide a barrier to contamination. The nonstinging liquid, polyethylene glycol-400, is the first layer, and the powder creates a thin, pliant cover which conforms to the irregular burned surface. The film keeps out bacteria, but in case infection was already present, antibiotics will penetrate the dressing. Moisture will also pass out through it. Dr. Abrahams told a meeting of the American Society for Artificial Internal Organs that in clinical studies the dressing had been applied, with little or no pain, to small burn areas of 25 patients having second- and third-degree wounds. Dressing changes can be made every three days, or more frequently. The clinical tests were conducted at the Shriners Burns Institute in Cincinnati. Red Dye Substitute An acceptable substitute for red dye No. 2, which has been banned by the Food and Drug Administration, is expected to be obtained by a process that was patented this week by Thomas Philip, a researcher at the University of Arizona, Tucson. Dr. Philip's patent, No. 3,963,700, is assigned to University Patents Inc., Stamford, Conn., which is actively seeking license for the new process. A natural red food colorant is produced from grape waste, or pomace, such as is left after wine grapes are pressed. The key to the process is a tartaric acid-methanol extraction, which, it is explained, results in a more direct route to the food coloring agent or dye (anthocyanin). Continued on Page 33, Column 4

Errors Cited

By LINDSEY Special to The New York Times CO, June 18—Four common errors in the world today that they already made five years ago were cited today by some of the executives of their business. The errors were: 1. Not having a little extra cash on hand. 2. Not having a backup plan. 3. Not having a clear vision of the future. 4. Not having a good working relationship with the government. The executives said that these errors were the most common ones they saw in their own companies and in the companies of their clients. They said that these errors could be avoided by taking some simple steps. For example, they said that companies should always have a backup plan in case their main business fails. They also said that companies should always have a clear vision of the future and should be willing to make sacrifices to achieve that vision. Finally, they said that companies should always have a good working relationship with the government and should be willing to work with the government to solve problems. Continued on Page 31, Column 5

Consolidated Trading for N.Y.S.E. Issues

Table with columns for Stock and Div. Sales, High, Low, Last, and Change. Includes sub-sections for 'Consolidated Trading for N.Y.S.E. Issues' and 'Consolidated Trading for N.Y.S.E. Issues'.

AMERX VALUE INDEX INCHES UP BY 0.55

Gain Laid to Citibank's Unchanged Prime Rate

The American Stock Exchange and the over-the-counter market registered their third consecutive advance yesterday in moderate trading.

Analysts said that the gain was helped by Citibank's announcement that it was holding its prime interest rate unchanged at 7 1/2 percent.

At the end of trading, the Amerx market-value index was up 0.55 to 104.89 with gains topping decliners by 359 to 305.

The price of an average share rose 6 cents. Turnover expanded to 2.91 million shares from 2.56 million shares on Thursday.

Trading in Amerx issues, including regional exchanges and the counter market, increased to 3.06 million shares from 2.69 million shares on Thursday.

In the counter market, the NASDAQ industrial index advanced 0.36 to $5.82, while the composite index was up 0.33 to 90.05.

Advances outscored decliners by 483 to 277. Volume dipped to 7.31 million shares from 7.81 million shares on Thursday.

Options on the Amerx increased to 53,528 contracts from 50,681 the day before.

Open interest amounted to 813,393 unexpired or unexercised contracts. On the Chicago Board Options Exchange, 137,278 contracts traded, against 115,024 on Thursday.

Open interest totaled 1,322,635 contracts.

CHICAGO, June 18. (AP)—Two former trust officers are under investigation by the Continental Illinois National Bank for possible conflict of interest while they headed the oil and mineral section of the bank's trust department, the bank disclosed today.

The bank, the largest in Illinois, issued a statement concerning the internal inquiry by the Wall Street Journal, published an article that indicated possible conflicts and self-dealing on the part of the former trust officers, F. Gaylord Nance and Richard T. Fogle.

The bank's statement said the United States Comptroller of Currency, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the United States attorney's office have been notified of the investigation. It refused to go into greater detail.

The bank, the largest in Illinois, issued a statement concerning the internal inquiry by the Wall Street Journal, published an article that indicated possible conflicts and self-dealing on the part of the former trust officers, F. Gaylord Nance and Richard T. Fogle.

The bank's statement said the United States Comptroller of Currency, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the United States attorney's office have been notified of the investigation. It refused to go into greater detail.

Bay of Fundy Is Restudied for Power

Continued From Page 27

Windsor and Truro, Nova Scotia, where the rise is highest. Clam diggers find a rich harvest in the mud at low tide, as do millions of foraging birds.

Although the basic technique of putting tidal movements to work for man with dams has been known since ancient times, the only major use of the principle to produce electric power has been at a 540,000-kilowatt installation in France.

The dams proposed by Canadian engineers would trap huge volumes of water at high tide, then let it flow downward through sluices to work turbines mounted deep inside the structure.

Water would be pumped into raised storage pools for release when needed to keep the machines working while the tide was out.

1969 Study Results

Studies in 1969 showed that production of electricity by this method would cost five-tenths to six-tenths of a cent for each kilowatt-hour, double the cost of the same output from oil-powered turbines, according to Mr. Kirkpatrick.

paper, the bank could become operational without the full sum being reached.

One of its main aims would be to reverse a trend of the last two decades in which most new mineral investments have been concentrated in the industrial countries.

There has, in fact, been a disinvestment in the third world reflecting both the political desires of emerging countries to take greater control over their own resources and the absence in these countries of adequate railroads, harbors and power supplies needed to make the investments competitive.

In the first part of the 1970's, according to mineral specialists, 80 percent of the mineral investments in the world went into four areas—the United States, Canada, Australia and South Africa.

The most dramatic illustration of disinvestment involves a consortium of British, French, South African and American companies formed to extract copper from Zaire.

The plan, according to one executive intimately acquainted with the project, was to start an open pit on a fairly substantial are body, representing, as he put it, "one of the most attractive prospects in the world."

But only a few weeks ago promoters of the project announced it was being shelved indefinitely.

Capital costs, originally estimated at $500 million to $600 million, had already passed $900 million and were still rising.

Already hundreds of millions had been invested and the companies had to write them off. One of the companies, Charrat Consolidated, in London was reported to have liquidated a portion of its mining stock portfolio to finance its write-off.

Money

NEW YORK (AP)—Money rates for Prime rate 7 1/2. Discount rate 5 1/2. Federal Reserve rate 5 1/2. 17-18 day, 5 1/2-1/2. 28-30 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Commercial paper 28-30 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 28-30 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 90-120 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 180-270 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 360-450 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 540-630 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 720-810 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 900-990 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 1080-1170 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 1260-1350 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 1440-1530 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 1620-1710 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 1800-1890 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 1980-2070 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 2160-2250 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 2340-2430 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 2520-2610 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 2700-2790 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 2880-2970 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 3060-3150 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 3240-3330 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 3420-3510 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 3600-3690 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 3780-3870 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 3960-4050 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 4140-4230 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 4320-4410 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 4500-4590 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 4680-4770 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 4860-4950 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 5040-5130 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 5220-5310 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 5400-5490 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 5580-5670 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 5760-5850 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 5940-6030 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 6120-6210 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 6300-6390 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 6480-6570 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 6660-6750 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 6840-6930 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 7020-7110 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 7200-7290 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 7380-7470 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 7560-7650 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 7740-7830 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 7920-8010 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 8100-8190 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 8280-8370 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 8460-8550 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 8640-8730 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 8820-8910 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 9000-9090 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 9180-9270 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 9360-9450 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 9540-9630 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 9720-9810 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 9900-9990 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 10080-10170 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 10260-10350 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 10440-10530 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 10620-10710 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 10800-10890 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 10980-11070 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 11160-11250 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 11340-11430 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 11520-11610 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 11700-11790 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 11880-11970 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 12060-12150 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 12240-12330 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 12420-12510 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 12600-12690 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 12780-12870 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 12960-13050 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 13140-13230 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 13320-13410 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 13500-13590 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 13680-13770 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 13860-13950 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 14040-14130 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 14220-14310 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 14400-14490 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 14580-14670 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 14760-14850 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 14940-15030 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 15120-15210 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 15300-15390 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 15480-15570 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 15660-15750 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 15840-15930 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 16020-16110 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 16200-16290 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 16380-16470 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 16560-16650 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 16740-16830 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 16920-17010 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 17100-17190 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 17280-17370 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 17460-17550 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 17640-17730 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 17820-17910 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 18000-18090 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 18180-18270 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 18360-18450 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 18540-18630 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 18720-18810 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 18900-18990 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 19080-19170 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 19260-19350 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 19440-19530 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 19620-19710 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 19800-19890 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 19980-20070 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 20160-20250 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 20340-20430 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 20520-20610 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 20700-20790 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 20880-20970 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 21060-21150 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 21240-21330 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 21420-21510 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 21600-21690 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 21780-21870 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 21960-22050 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 22140-22230 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 22320-22410 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 22500-22590 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 22680-22770 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 22860-22950 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 23040-23130 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 23220-23310 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 23400-23490 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 23580-23670 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 23760-23850 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 23940-24030 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 24120-24210 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 24300-24390 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 24480-24570 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 24660-24750 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 24840-24930 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 25020-25110 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 25200-25290 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 25380-25470 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 25560-25650 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 25740-25830 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 25920-26010 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 26100-26190 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 26280-26370 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 26460-26550 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 26640-26730 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 26820-26910 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 27000-27090 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 27180-27270 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 27360-27450 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 27540-27630 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 27720-27810 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 27900-27990 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 28080-28170 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 28260-28350 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 28440-28530 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 28620-28710 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 28800-28890 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 28980-29070 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 29160-29250 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 29340-29430 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 29520-29610 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 29700-29790 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 29880-29970 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 30060-30150 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 30240-30330 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 30420-30510 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 30600-30690 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 30780-30870 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 30960-31050 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 31140-31230 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 31320-31410 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 31500-31590 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 31680-31770 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 31860-31950 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 32040-32130 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 32220-32310 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 32400-32490 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 32580-32670 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 32760-32850 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 32940-33030 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 33120-33210 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 33300-33390 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 33480-33570 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 33660-33750 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 33840-33930 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 34020-34110 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 34200-34290 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 34380-34470 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 34560-34650 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 34740-34830 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 34920-35010 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 35100-35190 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 35280-35370 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 35460-35550 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 35640-35730 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 35820-35910 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 36000-36090 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 36180-36270 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 36360-36450 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 36540-36630 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 36720-36810 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 36900-36990 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 37080-37170 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 37260-37350 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 37440-37530 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 37620-37710 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 37800-37890 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 37980-38070 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 38160-38250 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 38340-38430 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 38520-38610 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 38700-38790 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 38880-38970 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 39060-39150 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 39240-39330 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 39420-39510 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 39600-39690 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 39780-39870 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 39960-40050 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 40140-40230 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 40320-40410 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 40500-40590 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 40680-40770 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 40860-40950 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 41040-41130 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 41220-41310 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 41400-41490 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 41580-41670 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 41760-41850 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 41940-42030 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 42120-42210 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 42300-42390 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 42480-42570 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 42660-42750 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 42840-42930 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 43020-43110 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 43200-43290 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 43380-43470 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 43560-43650 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 43740-43830 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 43920-44010 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 44100-44190 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 44280-44370 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 44460-44550 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 44640-44730 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 44820-44910 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 45000-45090 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 45180-45270 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 45360-45450 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 45540-45630 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 45720-45810 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 45900-45990 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 46080-46170 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 46260-46350 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 46440-46530 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 46620-46710 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 46800-46890 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 46980-47070 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 47160-47250 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 47340-47430 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 47520-47610 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 47700-47790 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 47880-47970 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 48060-48150 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 48240-48330 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 48420-48510 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 48600-48690 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 48780-48870 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 48960-49050 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 49140-49230 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 49320-49410 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 49500-49590 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 49680-49770 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 49860-49950 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 50040-50130 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 50220-50310 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 50400-50490 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 50580-50670 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 50760-50850 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 50940-51030 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 51120-51210 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 51300-51390 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 51480-51570 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 51660-51750 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 51840-51930 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 52020-52110 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 52200-52290 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 52380-52470 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 52560-52650 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 52740-52830 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 52920-53010 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 53100-53190 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 53280-53370 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 53460-53550 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 53640-53730 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 53820-53910 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 54000-54090 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 54180-54270 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 54360-54450 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 54540-54630 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 54720-54810 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 54900-54990 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 55080-55170 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 55260-55350 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 55440-55530 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 55620-55710 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 55800-55890 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 55980-56070 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 56160-56250 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 56340-56430 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 56520-56610 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 56700-56790 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 56880-56970 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 57060-57150 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 57240-57330 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 57420-57510 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 57600-57690 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 57780-57870 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 57960-58050 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 58140-58230 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 58320-58410 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 58500-58590 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 58680-58770 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 58860-58950 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 59040-59130 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 59220-59310 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 59400-59490 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 59580-59670 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 59760-59850 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 59940-60030 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 60120-60210 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 60300-60390 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 60480-60570 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 60660-60750 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 60840-60930 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 61020-61110 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 61200-61290 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 61380-61470 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 61560-61650 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 61740-61830 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 61920-62010 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 62100-62190 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 62280-62370 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 62460-62550 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 62640-62730 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 62820-62910 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 63000-63090 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 63180-63270 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 63360-63450 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 63540-63630 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 63720-63810 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 63900-63990 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 64080-64170 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 64260-64350 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 64440-64530 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 64620-64710 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 64800-64890 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 64980-65070 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 65160-65250 day, 5 1/2-1/2. Treasury bill 65340-65430 day

Consolidated Trading for N.Y.S.E. Issues

Economic Analysis: U.S. May Continue I.L.O.

Table with columns: Stock Name, High, Low, Last, Change, Volume. Includes various stock listings such as 1976 Stocks and Div. Sales, and a section for Q-1-1976.

Table with columns: Stock Name, High, Low, Last, Change, Volume. Includes listings for MIDWEST, PACIFIC, TORONTO, LONDON, BUENOS AIRES, JOHANNESBURG, BRUSSELS, FRANKFURT, TOKYO, MILAN, ZURICH, and SYDNEY.

can critics interpreted the paper, was on mass political action by the poor to force redistribution of wealth—most of it American wealth.
When the conference opened, the American worries on this score were heightened by discovery that underground distributors of the original papers of a proposed set of final conclusions for the delegates.
Francis Blanchard of France, the I.L.O. Director General, repudiated the secret draft as 'contrary to his own explicit instructions that the conference was to arrive at its own conclusions through tripartite subcommittees in which workers, employers and governments would have equal voice.'

Other U.S. and Foreign Stock Exchanges

Table with columns: Exchange Name, Stock Name, High, Low, Last, Change, Volume. Includes sections for PHILADELPHIA, BOSTON, MONTREAL, and Foreign Stock Index.

worker and employer groups and to the industrialized countries that it was sent back for another all-night go-round by a dozen key delegates, including Herbert N. Blackman of the Labor Department, the chief United States Government spokesman.
They brought forth yesterday a watered-down version of all the original points of view—a far cry from the boldness of the original position papers with their talk of a billion new jobs and eradication of poverty by the end of this century.
The worker and employer groups, in technical command of two-thirds of the conference votes but with no certainty they could hold them solid in a showdown, decided to dig in on a 'take it or leave it' position.

Public Notice

Advertisement for 'Try Blond before lunch' featuring 'ADJONNETE' contact information and 'WHOLESALE BUYERS' text.

In fact, 100,000 jobs are being advertised every month in The New York Times. No. 1 in New York in job advertising.

U.S. May Continued

New York Stock Exchange Bond Trading

AMERICAN OPENMENT BANK... U.S. Govt. Bonds... Other Govt. Bonds...

Table of bond trading data including columns for U.S. Govt. Bonds, Other Govt. Bonds, and various bond issues with their respective prices and yields.

Stock Exchanges

Table of stock exchange data including columns for various stock indices and individual stock prices.

BANKERS ADVISED ON LOAN LOSSES

Continued From Page 27

of executives of 116 United States and foreign banks. He set out these lessons as follows: 'We must know to whom we are lending, and what we know how we are going to be repaid; we must not avoid taking prudent risks, but we must quantify our risks and quality our exposures. And above all, we must look to our internal management.'

Urban League's Chief Accuses Banks

Continued From Page 27

and the banking industry is facing court suits, legislative actions and Federal intervention to force mortgage-information disclosure and, ultimately, strong steps to outlaw the practice. In blunt terms that surprised some of the bankers here, Mr. Jordan also criticized banks for what he suggested was a lack of support for minority business.

Slowing of G.N.P. Growth Is Indicated

Continued From Page 1, Col. 2

change in business inventories is likely to contribute much less to growth this quarter than in the first quarter. In the first quarter, a swing from inventory liquidation in the previous quarters to a moderate inventory buildup contributed $13 billion to the growth in the "real" G.N.P. after adjusting for higher prices.

Job Growth Would End

Continued From Page 1, Col. 2

While a one-quarter slowdown in the pace of the recovery and expansion of the economy would not be significant, the rapid growth in employment and consequent reduction of unemployment would come to a halt if the slowdown continued.

Dividends

Dividends Declared Friday

Table listing dividends for various companies, including columns for company name, dividend amount, and frequency.

Why The Holt Advisory believes...

Gold Prices Must Soar Again. And recommends a list of gold issues to buy now. After having soared over 450% in just five years, gold prices began retreating in early 1975. The subsequent correction, which saw the free-market price giving up some 45% of its preceding gain, was accentuated by two major developments:

A New Upturn

Lately, however, the prices of both gold bullion and gold securities have been firming. Equally significant, the upturn has also been accompanied by increased trading. In our opinion, the consolidation phase has ended and a brand new upward drive has begun.

A Gold Resurrection

In a special analysis titled "A Gold Resurrection," a current issue of The Holt Investment Advisory discusses in some detail the implications of the first IMF auction, the widening currency gyrations, and the renewed U.S. trade deficit. Its conclusion: The price of gold must advance sharply from this point forward.

Cash Prices

Table of cash prices for various commodities, including gold, silver, and other metals.

Advertisement for T. J. Holt & Company, Inc. featuring the 'A Gold Resurrection' analysis and subscription information.

American Stock Exchange Transactions: Consolidated Summary of Yesterday's Trading

Main table containing stock exchange transactions with columns for stock name, price, volume, and change. Includes sub-sections for 'FRIDAY, JUNE 18, 1976' and 'Results of Trading in Stock Options'.

Results of Trading in Stock Options

FRIDAY, JUNE 18, 1976

American Stock Exchange

Chicago Board

Table showing results of trading in stock options for the American Stock Exchange and Chicago Board, including columns for option type, price, volume, and last price.

Philadelphia Options

Table showing results of trading in Philadelphia Options, including columns for option type, price, volume, and last price.

Handwritten signature or mark at the bottom of the page.

HOUSES - 100
ALTONIA 1 1/2 room brick...
BOYSIDE Vlg...
FLUSHING BRAND NEW!

BOYSIDE Vlg...
FLUSHING BRAND NEW!...
FLUSHING BRAND NEW!...
FLUSHING BRAND NEW!

FLUSHING BRAND NEW!...
FLUSHING BRAND NEW!...
FLUSHING BRAND NEW!...
FLUSHING BRAND NEW!

FLUSHING BRAND NEW!...
FLUSHING BRAND NEW!...
FLUSHING BRAND NEW!...
FLUSHING BRAND NEW!

FLUSHING BRAND NEW!...
FLUSHING BRAND NEW!...
FLUSHING BRAND NEW!...
FLUSHING BRAND NEW!

FLUSHING BRAND NEW!...
FLUSHING BRAND NEW!...
FLUSHING BRAND NEW!...
FLUSHING BRAND NEW!

HOUSES - BROOKLYN
AVE N E 31-11 from diked 6 rms...
CAROL GARDENS Brwnsh...

HOUSES - BROOKLYN
CAROL GARDENS Brwnsh...
CLINTON HILLS - 4 story brick...

HOUSES - BROOKLYN
CLINTON HILLS - 4 story brick...
CROWN HTS - 3 bed, 2 1/2 bath...

HOUSES - BROOKLYN
CROWN HTS - 3 bed, 2 1/2 bath...
DIX HILLS 4BR RANCH...

HOUSES - BROOKLYN
DIX HILLS 4BR RANCH...
DIX HILLS 5 1/2 BR 2 1/2 BATH...

Every month an average of 4,400 ads of vacation and leisure homes appear in The New York Times Classified Pages

128 Orange-Camden Co. 128 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200 129 Orange-Camden Co. 129 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200 130 Orange-Camden Co. 130 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200	131 Orange-Camden Co. 131 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200 132 Orange-Camden Co. 132 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200 133 Orange-Camden Co. 133 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200	134 Orange-Camden Co. 134 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200 135 Orange-Camden Co. 135 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200 136 Orange-Camden Co. 136 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200	137 Orange-Camden Co. 137 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200 138 Orange-Camden Co. 138 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200 139 Orange-Camden Co. 139 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200	140 Orange-Camden Co. 140 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200 141 Orange-Camden Co. 141 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200 142 Orange-Camden Co. 142 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200	143 Orange-Camden Co. 143 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200 144 Orange-Camden Co. 144 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200 145 Orange-Camden Co. 145 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200	146 Orange-Camden Co. 146 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200 147 Orange-Camden Co. 147 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200 148 Orange-Camden Co. 148 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200	149 Orange-Camden Co. 149 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200 150 Orange-Camden Co. 150 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200 151 Orange-Camden Co. 151 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200	152 Orange-Camden Co. 152 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200 153 Orange-Camden Co. 153 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200 154 Orange-Camden Co. 154 SPRING VALLEY CENTER PARK REDEVELOPMENT 3000 sq. ft. of office space, 1000 sq. ft. of retail space, 1000 sq. ft. of parking. Call: COYLE & COYLE INC. 974-2200
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

JULIA B. FEE

SCARSDALE

VAN WERT

Elmhurst & Stacy

ANGEL

DOERN

Blas/Laws

Urban Farms

Things are stirring
NEW HOMES IN
3 NEW SECTIONS
Massive Colonial

BRAND NEW for early summer...
3 BDRM RANCH $38,650
4 BDRM Colonial $47,000
NO CLOSING COSTS
5 OTHER MODELS

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

French Provincial
On a lovely 7000 sq. ft. lot...
3 BDRM RANCH $38,650
4 BDRM Colonial $47,000

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

Things are stirring
NEW HOMES IN
3 NEW SECTIONS
Massive Colonial

BRAND NEW for early summer...
3 BDRM RANCH $38,650
4 BDRM Colonial $47,000
NO CLOSING COSTS
5 OTHER MODELS

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

French Provincial
On a lovely 7000 sq. ft. lot...
3 BDRM RANCH $38,650
4 BDRM Colonial $47,000

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

Things are stirring
NEW HOMES IN
3 NEW SECTIONS
Massive Colonial

BRAND NEW for early summer...
3 BDRM RANCH $38,650
4 BDRM Colonial $47,000
NO CLOSING COSTS
5 OTHER MODELS

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

French Provincial
On a lovely 7000 sq. ft. lot...
3 BDRM RANCH $38,650
4 BDRM Colonial $47,000

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

Things are stirring
NEW HOMES IN
3 NEW SECTIONS
Massive Colonial

BRAND NEW for early summer...
3 BDRM RANCH $38,650
4 BDRM Colonial $47,000
NO CLOSING COSTS
5 OTHER MODELS

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

French Provincial
On a lovely 7000 sq. ft. lot...
3 BDRM RANCH $38,650
4 BDRM Colonial $47,000

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

Things are stirring
NEW HOMES IN
3 NEW SECTIONS
Massive Colonial

BRAND NEW for early summer...
3 BDRM RANCH $38,650
4 BDRM Colonial $47,000
NO CLOSING COSTS
5 OTHER MODELS

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

French Provincial
On a lovely 7000 sq. ft. lot...
3 BDRM RANCH $38,650
4 BDRM Colonial $47,000

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

Things are stirring
NEW HOMES IN
3 NEW SECTIONS
Massive Colonial

BRAND NEW for early summer...
3 BDRM RANCH $38,650
4 BDRM Colonial $47,000
NO CLOSING COSTS
5 OTHER MODELS

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

French Provincial
On a lovely 7000 sq. ft. lot...
3 BDRM RANCH $38,650
4 BDRM Colonial $47,000

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

Urban Farms

(201) 891-3900

McNERNEY TALMO
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone
Hoboken Brownstone

TRIANGLE OAKS

REALIZE A DREAM OF A LIFETIME!

A choice of a number of grand and elegant architecturally detailed homes on 1/2-acre lots. Available.

PRICED FROM: $70,990

PRICE INCREASE COMING JUNE 21st

FAIRFIELD MANOR

Up to 5 bedrooms, all 2 car garages, 2 1/2 baths and 150 AMP electrical service.

Some Are On Wooded Lots

8 1/2% Mortgages Available

To Qualified Buyers $65,500

SALES OFFICE 201-536-9993

SEE 350 HOMES IN ONE DAY

Our 40 page real estate newspaper has over 350 pictures or descriptions of homes nearby only 55 minutes to NYC. Levitt & US Home sales. Near train and bus lines. Homes priced from $35,000 to $300,000. All 12 offices open seven days.

Monahan-Old Bridge (201) 585-5300 (212) 233-6210

Manhattan-Freehold (201) 536-5880 (212) 349-5950

Sterling Thompson

Announcing a birth, engagement or marriage?

Put it in the newspaper of record... The New York Times. Advertisements announcing the event can be ordered by calling (212) 0X-5-3117 between 9 A.M. and 5:30 P.M. In the suburbs, call The Times regional office nearest you between 9 A.M. and 4:45 P.M., Monday through Friday. In Nassau, 747-1500; in Suffolk, 668-1800; in Westchester, 938-5300; in New Jersey, MA 3-3800; in Connecticut, 848-7767.

The New York Times
The newspaper of record

BUY OF THE WEEK

Maplewood-Lovely Col

Maplewood-Lovely Col

MAGNIFICENT

Maplewood-Lovely Col

MIDDLESEX COUNTY

Maplewood-Lovely Col

SEE 350 HOMES IN ONE DAY

Maplewood-Lovely Col

TRIANGLE OAKS

Maplewood-Lovely Col

FAIRFIELD MANOR

Maplewood-Lovely Col

SEE 350 HOMES IN ONE DAY

Maplewood-Lovely Col

MAGNIFICENT

Maplewood-Lovely Col

MIDDLESEX COUNTY

Maplewood-Lovely Col

SEE 350 HOMES IN ONE DAY

Maplewood-Lovely Col

TRIANGLE OAKS

Maplewood-Lovely Col

FAIRFIELD MANOR

Maplewood-Lovely Col

SEE 350 HOMES IN ONE DAY

Maplewood-Lovely Col

MAGNIFICENT

Maplewood-Lovely Col

MIDDLESEX COUNTY

Maplewood-Lovely Col

SEE 350 HOMES IN ONE DAY

Maplewood-Lovely Col

TRIANGLE OAKS

Maplewood-Lovely Col

LISTEN TO THE BROOK

Montclair

LOOKING FOR A RANCH?

Montclair

ANTIQUE BUFF

Montclair

Schweppes & Co

Montclair

INGRAMS

Montclair

MOUNTAIN LAKES

Montclair

Lake & Country

Montclair

BE LUCKY

Montclair

DAVID STRENZ

Montclair

STANTON CO.

Montclair

SEE 350 HOMES IN ONE DAY

Montclair

MAGNIFICENT

Montclair

MIDDLESEX COUNTY

Montclair

SEE 350 HOMES IN ONE DAY

Montclair

TRIANGLE OAKS

Montclair

FAIRFIELD MANOR

Montclair

SEE 350 HOMES IN ONE DAY

Montclair

SEE 350 HOMES IN ONE DAY

Montclair

MAGNIFICENT

Montclair

MIDDLESEX COUNTY

Montclair

SEE 350 HOMES IN ONE DAY

Montclair

TRIANGLE OAKS

Montclair

FAIRFIELD MANOR

Montclair

SEE 350 HOMES IN ONE DAY

Montclair

MAGNIFICENT

Montclair

MIDDLESEX COUNTY

Montclair

SEE 350 HOMES IN ONE DAY

Montclair

TRIANGLE OAKS

Montclair

FAIRFIELD MANOR

Montclair

SEE 350 HOMES IN ONE DAY

Montclair

MAGNIFICENT

Montclair

MIDDLESEX COUNTY

Montclair

SEE 350 HOMES IN ONE DAY

Montclair

TRIANGLE OAKS

Montclair

REAL ESTATE	REAL ESTATE	REAL ESTATE	REAL ESTATE	REAL ESTATE	REAL ESTATE	REAL ESTATE	REAL ESTATE	REAL ESTATE	REAL ESTATE
263 New Jersey KINGSTON COUNTY... [20] 543-2515	263 New Jersey LOOKING FOR THE ORIGINAL? For... [20] 383-7988	271 Connecticut SANDFORD, MAINE [20] 383-7988	277 Massachusetts SANDFORD, MAINE [20] 383-7988	281 Other Sections FLORIDA [20] 383-7988	356 Florida FLORIDA KEYS-Mobil Home [20] 383-7988	356 Florida FLORIDA KEYS-Mobil Home [20] 383-7988	357 Florida FLORIDA KEYS-Mobil Home [20] 383-7988	463 Lots & Acreage LLOYD HARBOR L.I. [20] 383-7988	413 Lots & Acreage LLOYD HARBOR L.I. [20] 383-7988

LEISURE HOMES

567 Massachusetts [20] 383-7988	513 Massachusetts [20] 383-7988	513 Massachusetts [20] 383-7988	513 Massachusetts [20] 383-7988	527 Connecticut [20] 383-7988	561 New York State [20] 383-7988	569 Pennsylvania [20] 383-7988	571 Connecticut [20] 383-7988	578 Maine [20] 383-7988
--	--	--	--	--	---	---	--	--------------------------------------

MOVE TO CONN

JACK McLAUGHLIN

SLASCAR

CARRIAGE TRADE

HALL DENING

Country Apts

JO SHERMAN

AUCTION SALES

appear in the Classified Pages on weekdays, Section 9 on Sundays (distributed in the greater New York area) The New York Times

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including '45 E. 89' and 'YORKVILLE TOWERS'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including 'RENOVATED BROWNSTONE' and '65 St. 400 E'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including 'THE NEW AMSTERDAM' and '314 RAMS'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including 'WEST VILLAGE HOUSES' and 'RIVERSIDE DR 1380'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including 'RIVERSIDE DR 1380' and 'RIVERSIDE DR 345'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including 'MILL ROCK PLAZA' and 'UNIQUE'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including '60 EAST END AVE' and 'Park Regis'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including '32 STOREY FULLY OPERATIVE CO-OP' and '60 EAST END AVE'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including 'HOWARD BEACH 3 BR CO-OP' and 'NORTH BRIDGE CO-OP'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including 'RIVERSIDE DR 345' and 'RIVERSIDE DR 1380'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including '305 EAST 86 ST YORKSHIRE TOWERS' and '432 E. 88th'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including '60 EAST END AVE' and '60 EAST END AVE'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including 'MASARYK TOWERS' and '35 PROSPECT PARK WEST'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including 'GILCHRIST HOUSE' and 'LITTLE SILVER'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including 'PAUSADES' and 'GREENHOUSE'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including 'Flex 3BR $695' and 'PENTHOUSE'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including 'OPERATING CO-OP 75 East End Ave' and '55 East 65th Street'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including 'EXCELLENT Studios & 1 BR Apts' and '444 CENTRAL PARK BLVD'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including 'GREENHOUSE' and 'HACKETS & BAY'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including '3 Big BR $745' and 'HACKETS & BAY'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including '80's E. 89th' and '80's E. 89th'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including '55 East 65th Street' and '55 East 65th Street'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including '444 CENTRAL PARK BLVD' and '444 CENTRAL PARK BLVD'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including 'GREENHOUSE' and 'HACKETS & BAY'.

Apartment listings in Manhattan, including '3 Big BR $745' and 'HACKETS & BAY'.

Large vertical advertisement for 'OCEAN TOWERS' with the text 'INCLUDES OCEAN TOWERS' and 'Every month an average of 4,400 ads of vacation and leisure homes appear in The New York Times Classified Pages'.

BERGMAN ORDERED TO YIELD RECORDS

Judge Says Receiver Must Get Park Crescent Home Data Within 24 Hours

By JOHN L. HESS

Bernard Bergman was ordered yesterday to give the records of his Park Crescent Nursing Home to a court-appointed receiver in 24 hours under penalty of contempt.

Meanwhile, the State Public Health Council, in a resolution, expressed concern about the health and safety of patients in the 520-bed home, at Riverside Drive and 87th Street in view of Mr. Bergman's having been sentenced Thursday to a four-month term on charges of Medicaid and tax fraud conspiracy.

Justice Xavier C. Riccobono of State Supreme Court signed the order for the records after request of the receivers, Herbert C. Silberman and Benedict Ginsberg.

Mr. Silberman told the court that Mr. Bergman and his son, Stanley, were "milking" the Park Crescent by withholding more than $1 million in payments for mortgage interest, taxes, pension contributions, fuel and milk, while continuing to receive ample Medicaid funds.

The receivers were appointed last month to protect the interest of the mortgage holder, an affiliate of the Chase Manhattan Bank. They took over the current Medicaid checks and gave paid urgent operating costs, but have withheld the salaries of the Bergmans and payments to a housekeeping concern, which they told the court they suspected of having a "sweetheart" deal. They said the Bergmans had denied them access to the records.

Qualifications Questioned

Edwin Schwartz, a lawyer for Mr. Bergman, had replied to the court that the receivers were not legally qualified to operate a nursing home or any business, a spokesman said yesterday's order would be appealed.

The Public Health Council, an appointive body that supervises health facilities, acted following a report by Dr. Robert F. Whalen, the State Health Commissioner. Dr. Whalen said that he was concerned about who would tend to the welfare of the patients in the Park Crescent in light of Mr. Bergman's sentencing but that he was unable under present law to name an operating receiver unless Mr. Bergman gave his consent.

He disclosed that lawyers for the operator had postponed a meeting on the question until next week.

Following Mr. Bergman's guilty plea last March to a Federal indictment charging Medicaid and tax fraud and a state indictment charging bribery, the council began proceedings to revoke his license. But hearings and appeals could last years.

Because criminal investigations were under way, the state had for more than a year held up a revocation action against Mr. Bergman on the ground that Mr. Bergman had an illegal license. Although he was the sole owner of the Park Crescent, the license had been issued to a partnership.

The council voted yesterday to address an expression of concern about the situation of the patients to Justice Aloysius Mella of the State Supreme Court in Manhattan, who is to sentence Mr. Bergman on the bribery count July 2.

An audit of Park Crescent's conduct in which the financial elements that set off the nursing home scandals that began in 1974. The state held that these costs had been inflated by $2.4 million. Litigation over this claim is pending.

Mrs. Crimmins Files For a New Appeal In Daughter's Death

Alice Crimmins, the former cocktail waitress now serving five to 20 years in a halfway house for manslaughter in the death of her 4-year-old daughter, Alice Marie, filed papers in Federal Court in Brooklyn yesterday seeking a new chance to appeal her conviction.

Judge John F. Dooling Jr. scheduled a hearing on the petition for July 1.

Mrs. Crimmins was convicted of manslaughter in State Supreme Court in Queens on May 13, 1971, after an earlier conviction on the same charge had been set aside on appeal. During her second trial, Mrs. Crimmins also was charged with and convicted of murder in the death of her son, Edmund Jr. But the murder conviction was subsequently set aside.

William Earlbaum, Mrs. Crimmins' lawyer, argued in the papers filed yesterday that adding the murder charge for the second trial had placed his client in double jeopardy and violated due process of the law since the deaths of both children constituted a single crime. He said he also was seeking a new appeal on the following grounds:

Massive and hostile pretrial and trial publicity had created a carnival atmosphere injurious to his client.

Bergman Sentence Is Discussed

By TOM GOLDSTEIN

When former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew pleaded "no contest" to an income tax evasion charge in 1973 and received no prison sentence, large segments of the public reacted with shock, disbelief and outrage.

Similarly, many felt that sentences meted out to several Watergate figures were too lenient. Those same reactions were evident yesterday—from taxi drivers, dozens of irate individuals who telephoned newspapers, politicians, lawyers and judges—following the four-month prison term given Bernard Bergman, the central figure in the New York nursing home scandal.

Few aspects of the much-maligned criminal-justice system has created more controversy than the seemingly arbitrary and capricious nature of sentencing.

Justice Is Respected

One of the sharpest critics of current sentencing practices has been Federal Judge Marvin E. Frankel, who on Thursday imposed the sentence on Mr. Bergman, who pleaded guilty to two counts alleging $1.2 million in Medicaid and tax fraud conspiracy. He is considered by judges and lawyers to be one of the most thoughtful and knowledgeable authorities on sentencing in the country.

Mr. Frankel, Morris B. Abram, the lawyer who headed the state's Moreland Act Commission that investigated nursing homes, said: "The sentence failed to meet society's justified expectations."

"The Bergman has become a new unit of sentencing," said Justice James J. Left of State Supreme Court. "This is the standard. Every lawyer will ask that his client be treated no more harshly than Mr. Bergman."

Generally, judges have looked to four reasons for imposing prison terms—removing the offender from society, deterring similar wrongdoing by the defendant and others, rehabilitating the offender and giving society a sense of retribution.

Opinions Shift

Over the years, some of these factors have been held in disfavor in academic and judicial circles, and, as more attention has been paid to sentencing disparity, some of the factors that have long been discarded are coming back into vogue.

For example, the rehabilitative theory, which has been used as a justification for sentencing for most of this century, has of late come under increasing attack. It has been replaced by the rationale for punishment that has long been held in disrepute in academic and legal circles—that the severity of the sentence should depend on the seriousness of the crime. Or, more simply, a modern variation of an eye-for-an-eye justice.

In a recent report, called "Doing Justice," a group of legal scholars and social scientists rejected as unjust and unworkable the rehabilitative theory of punishment under which an offender's punishment is determined by his need for treatment.

Instead, they favored a concept of retribution they labeled "deserts" or "just deserts."

This study was cited by Judge Frankel in his opinion. He, too, rejected the rehabilitative theory as inappropriate, and said: "However the concept is formulated, we have not yet reached a state, supposing we should, in which the infliction of punishments for crime may be divorced generally from ideas of blame-worthiness, recompense and proportionality."

The judge also took into account the death process of the law since the deaths of both children constituted a single crime.

Mrs. Crimmins had been denied a fair trial when the prosecutor had stressed that her alleged accomplice had pleaded the Fifth Amendment against self-incrimination.

Mrs. Crimmins also had been denied a fair trial when the prosecutor commented on her failure to testify in her own behalf, expressed his own belief that she was guilty and indicated to the jury that she had tried to testify at this trial.

Mr. Earlbaum said, "but her sex life was held as a club over her head to deter her from testifying."

The trial justice and the prosecution withheld the fact that a woman came forward with her attorney during the trial and gave him, at a private meeting, evidence supporting Mrs. Crimmins' innocence.

Jewish Cemetery Damaged

BAD WINDSHEM, West Germany, June 18 (Reuters)—Twenty-four gravestones were overturned and partly destroyed in a Jewish cemetery here last night, the police said today.

The police said they had no clue to the identity of the vandals or their motive. The damage was estimated at $2,200.

count the deterrent effect of his sentence. Once he decided what he described as "the decision of greatest moment"—to imprison or not—he said, "the feeling is that the length of the sentence is a lesser question once that threshold is passed."

It is on this point—the length of the sentence—that the critics differ with the judge.

Disparity Documented

Sentencing disparity, which Judge Frankel has called "horrible," has been well documented. Differences in sentencing reflect differences in defendants' race and wealth, differences in geographical location of courts and probably most important, differences in the personality and ideology of the sentencing judges.

Differences in sentencing, Judge Frankel once observed, commonly are a function of "the wide spectrum of character, bias, neurosis and daily vagary encountered among occupants of the trial bench."

In a study commissioned two years ago by the judges of the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, 50 Federal judges were given 20 identical files, drawn from actual cases, and asked what sentence they would impose on each defendant.

In a case involving a middle-aged union official convicted on several counts involving credit transactions amounting to $100,000, one judge imposed a sentence of 20 years' imprisonment as well as a $65,000 fine. Another judge imposed a three-year sentence with no fine. In a case of possession of barbiturates with intent to distribute, one judge gave the defendant five years' in prison, while another put him on probation.

To reduce such glaring disparities, Judge Frankel, in a 1973 book titled Criminal Sentences, suggested a number of solutions.

Better training for judges in sentencing techniques.

The enactment of laws that would specify the permissible purposes of sentencing and would provide guidelines in applying these purposes.

The making of sentences subject to appeal (as they are now in only a few jurisdictions).

The creation of a sentencing commission to analyze the purposes and effects of sentencing and to make sentencing rules and laws.

The requirement that judges publicly explain the reasoning behind their sentences—a practice that few judges follow.

In imposing the four-month sentence on Mr. Bergman, Judge Frankel did offer his reasons in a 17-page memorandum.

Among the factors the judge said influenced his determination were Mr. Bergman's reputation, age and "imperfect" health and the unlikelihood of his committing crimes again.

Coming to Judge Frankel's defense, Adrian W. DeWind, president of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York, said:

"Judge Frankel had better access to all matters relevant to the Bergman sentencing than anyone else. He obviously was not motivated by whether or not his sentence would be popular. In this situation, his reputation as a fair-minded, conscientious jurist of unquestioned integrity should not be overlooked."

But Mr. Abram said: "If the public perceives a wide disparity between sentences inflicted upon the rich and the poor, the cement that holds the society together is impaired."

Shipping/Mails

Table with columns for Incoming and Outgoing shipping and mail services, listing destinations and times.

Some Schools Shut as Rolls De

Continued From Page 1, Col. 2

Scrooge-like character in a top hat exclaimed: "Alas, I knew the cost of education, but not its worth."

The Commack School Board voted last year to close the Hubbs School, the northernmost school in the district, and South Ridge, the southernmost school, and save about $500,000. The schools are among more than 20 on Long Island and dozens more in other parts of the metropolitan area that will be closing for good when the school year ends next week.

The reasons are basically the same all over the region: the end of the baby boom, rising costs and the lack of expansion in housing.

"These are my mothers," said Fran Diamant, the school's secretary, as she was surrounded by the mothers of the children she had served as nurse, social worker and trustee for five days a week for the last 12 years. "If only they had been more prolific mothers maybe the board wouldn't have had to close the school."

The Commack elementary schools reached their peak enrollment in 1970 when they had 9,000 pupils. Now there are about 6,500. According to the National Center of Educational Statistics, the national school population for kindergarten through 12th grade was 45 million in 1974 and will drop to 41.3 million by 1986.

When the decision to close the 12-year-old Hubbs school was announced, the parents wrote letters to the members of the school board, picketed the district headquarters and circulated petitions against the planned closing. Last night, with the formal closing just a week away, the parents had to face the fact that their efforts had been to no avail. "We're here just to have fun and reminisce about the good times," said Beverly White, the president of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Mrs. White was dressed in a white pants suit. "We're all in white," she said. "No black tonight. We wanted to end on a high note."

Rosand Pearman, a parent who helped organize the effort, said: "I like parties, but I wish this evening would just not have been. You might say that with out the help of our local board, this evening would not have been possible."

"Mrs. Pearman's two children, like the others at Hubbs, will be transferred to one of two nearby schools in the Commack district—North Ridge or Cedar Road. Mrs. Pearman said that she was not happy with the fact that her second-grader and her fourth-grader would have to change schools.

"We're going to give it one year," she said. "Our taxes are so high, we feel that we should get the proper feedback. If we don't, we'll just leave to move to the suburbs. A fourth-grade teacher said: "I think the parents are more upset than the children. Kids don't mind fast."

The modern red-brick building does not look like a school that is about to shut down. Students' compositions, with gold stars on them and crayon-colored oak tag cutouts hang on bulletin boards in the hallways. Desk tops, with pencil cases and workbooks beside them, stand in neat rows in front of freshly painted blackboards.

Charles J. Robinson, the principal of Hubbs for the last 10 years, said that the dismantling of the school properties and the taking of inventory would not place in front of the youngsters. "I always enjoyed building this school up," he said. "It hurts so much to tear it down."

It is not yet clear what will be done with the two-story building, situated on Clay Hills Road here, which was put up at a cost of $881,000. The members of the school board must be able to sell it to a private in-situation, as 1 case of another two years ago. The school has taken over the way for a station to the last few have gone on new schools, with the school and principal with children.

Christine R. said: "Sure I'm a bit make lots of school. Susu music teacher series of Bice and turned talents to school, to the songs.

Some of the were songs and depress and "evil" school that they v school if the time at Hub back," said adding:

"I told the really going Marcy E may have b poetically, M ment. To the Beautiful the students' compositions, with gold stars on them and crayon-colored oak tag cutouts hang on bulletin boards in the hallways. Desk tops, with pencil cases and workbooks beside them, stand in neat rows in front of freshly painted blackboards.

Charles J. Robinson, the principal of Hubbs for the last 10 years, said that the dismantling of the school properties and the taking of inventory would not place in front of the youngsters. "I always enjoyed building this school up," he said. "It hurts so much to tear it down."

It is not yet clear what will be done with the two-story building, situated on Clay Hills Road here, which was put up at a cost of $881,000. The members of the school board must be able to sell it to a private incessary for... 1971, gather... The critics called an ins to begin at Daylight time that it has await another time it take traveling at to reach the which is now miles away.

Flight com earlier propellant w ator was no, the planned, date that w ago. The le stopped, lea in the tanks table limits.

If the or as planned, would move path taking miles from a planet, and miles.

I will sail into orbit ar no second ch bit around M In any e spacecraft, behind Vikin g to go weeks from here that will determine whether the pictures show it is safe to land.

It says not only se we not in trouble," Dr. Masursky added, "but it looks as though water vapor may be reasonably abundant."

Biologists believe that if there is any life on Mars, it would require water to exist. The presence of the fog and surface frost was taken to be the first favorable indication from Viking that Mars offers at least one of the major conditions necessary for... 1971, gather... The critics called an ins to begin at Daylight time that it has await another time it take traveling at to reach the which is now miles away.

Flight com earlier propellant w ator was no, the planned, date that w ago. The le stopped, lea in the tanks table limits.

If the or as planned, would move path taking miles from a planet, and miles.

I will sail into orbit ar no second ch bit around M In any e spacecraft, behind Vikin g to go weeks from here that will determine whether the pictures show it is safe to land.

It says not only se we not in trouble," Dr. Masursky added, "but it looks as though water vapor may be reasonably abundant."

Biologists believe that if there is any life on Mars, it would require water to exist. The presence of the fog and surface frost was taken to be the first favorable indication from Viking that Mars offers at least one of the major conditions ne-

Weather Reports and Forecast

Summary

Showers and thundershowers, accompanied by warm temperatures are expected today in the New York Metropolitan area and the Northeast except for northern New England. Thundershowers will occur from the eastern lake region through the upper Ohio Valley and the Appalachians, while a chance of thundershowers will exist over the entire eastern third of the nation. Cloudy skies are forecast along the Pacific Northwest Coast. Warm temperatures will be experienced along the Eastern Seaboard, in the Gulf States, the Pacific States and the northern Rockies. Elsewhere seasonably mild readings with clear to partly cloudy skies will occur.

Fairly cloudy skies and warm temperatures occurred yesterday in the New York Metropolitan area and New England which also experienced some scattered showers. Thundershowers and heavy rains continued in the lower Mississippi Valley causing flash flood warnings to be issued for southwestern Missouri, southwestern Arkansas and northwestern Texas. Rainfall of up to five inches fell in some areas with rain continuing. Warm temperatures occurred from the Ohio Valley through the Central Plains States and also in the Gulf States, the Southwest and in southern California. Cool temperatures were reported from the Northern Plains States through the northern Rockies and into the Pacific Northwest.

Forecast

National Weather Service (As of 11 P.M.)

NEW YORK CITY—Chance of showers tonight, high 60s, low 50s. Partly cloudy tomorrow, high 60s, low 50s. Partly cloudy tomorrow night, high 60s, low 50s. Partly cloudy Wednesday, high 60s, low 50s.

NEW JERSEY, ROCKLAND AND WEST- MOUNTAIN—Chance of showers tonight, high 60s, low 50s. Partly cloudy tomorrow, high 60s, low 50s. Partly cloudy tomorrow night, high 60s, low 50s. Partly cloudy Wednesday, high 60s, low 50s.

LONG ISLAND AND LONG ISLAND SOUND—Chance of a few showers tonight, high 60s, low 50s. Partly cloudy tomorrow, high 60s, low 50s. Partly cloudy tomorrow night, high 60s, low 50s. Partly cloudy Wednesday, high 60s, low 50s.

SOUTH JERSEY AND EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA—Chance of showers tonight, high 60s, low 50s. Partly cloudy tomorrow, high 60s, low 50s. Partly cloudy tomorrow night, high 60s, low 50s. Partly cloudy Wednesday, high 60s, low 50s.

NEW ENGLAND AND MIDDLE ATLANTIC—Chance of showers tonight, high 60s, low 50s. Partly cloudy tomorrow, high 60s, low 50s. Partly cloudy tomorrow night, high 60s, low 50s. Partly cloudy Wednesday, high 60s, low 50s.

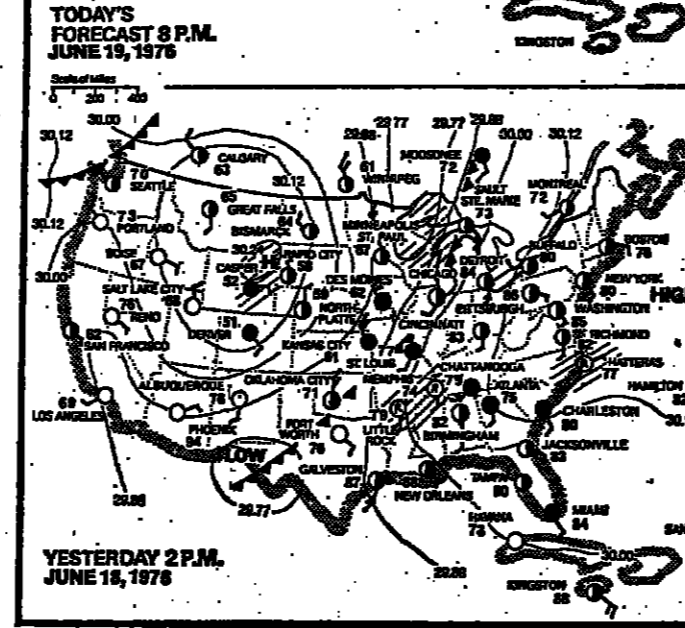

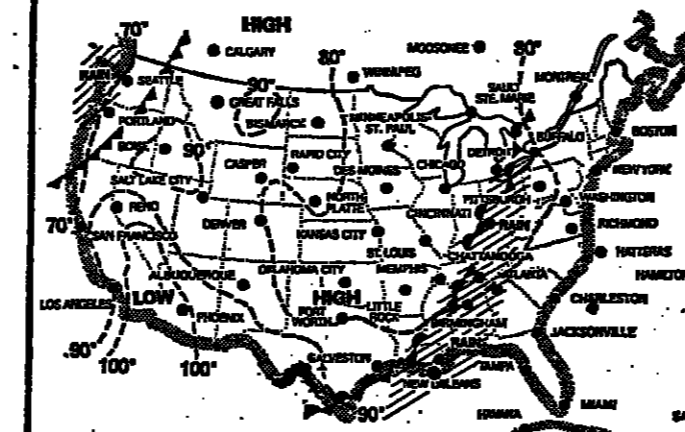

Table with columns for precipitation data, showing 24-hour and 48-hour totals for various cities.

Table with columns for temperature data, showing maximum and minimum temperatures for various cities.

Table with columns for extended forecast, showing weather conditions for Monday through Wednesday.

Table with columns for yesterday's records, showing high and low temperatures for various cities.

Table with columns for U.S. Cities, showing weather conditions for various major cities.

Table with columns for U.S. Cities, showing weather conditions for various major cities.

Table with columns for U.S. Cities, showing weather conditions for various major cities.

Table with columns for U.S. Cities, showing weather conditions for various major cities.

Picture beside Station... Cold front a boundary between cold air and warmer air under which the cooler air pushes the wedge, usually southward and east.

Warm front: a boundary between warmer air and cooler air, with the warmer air wedged under the cooler air, forcing it upward.

Occluded front: a line along which warm air is forced as it advances, usually northward, by a cold air mass, causing precipitation.

Shaded areas indicate precipitation. Dashed lines show forecast atmospheric maximum temperatures.

Isobars are lines (solid black) of equal barometric pressure (in inches), forming closed loops from high-pressure areas. Pressure systems usually move east.

Wind direction and speed are shown by arrows and numbers. Wind speed is in miles per hour.

Cloud cover is shown by symbols: ☀ for clear, ☁ for light, ☁☁ for moderate, ☁☁☁ for heavy.

Source: National Weather Service, NOAA, U.S. Department of Commerce.

Precipitation Data (24-hour period ended 7 P.M.)

Temperature Data (24-hour period ended 7 P.M.)

Extended Forecast (Monday through Wednesday)

Yesterday's Records

U.S. Cities

U.S. Cities

U.S. Cities

U.S. Cities

U.S. Cities

Shipping/Mails

Table with columns for Incoming and Outgoing shipping and mail services, listing destinations and times.

Continued From Page 1, Col. 2

Scrooge-like character in a top hat exclaimed: "Alas, I knew the cost of education, but not its worth."

The Commack School Board voted last year to close the Hubbs School, the northernmost school in the district, and South Ridge, the southernmost school, and save about $500,000. The schools are among more than 20 on Long Island and dozens more in other parts of the metropolitan area that will be closing for good when the school year ends next week.

The reasons are basically the same all over the region: the end of the baby boom, rising costs and the lack of expansion in housing.

"These are my mothers," said Fran Diamant, the school's secretary, as she was surrounded by the mothers of the children she had served as nurse, social worker and trustee for five days a week for the last 12 years. "If only they had been more prolific mothers maybe the board wouldn't have had to close the school."

The Commack elementary schools reached their peak enrollment in 1970 when they had 9,000 pupils. Now there are about 6,500. According to the National Center of Educational Statistics, the national school population for kindergarten through 12th grade was 45 million in 1974 and will drop to 41.3 million by 1986.

When the decision to close the 12-year-old Hubbs school was announced, the parents wrote letters to the members of the school board, picketed the district headquarters and circulated petitions against the planned closing. Last night, with the formal closing just a week away, the parents had to face the fact that their efforts had been to no avail. "We're here just to have fun and reminisce about the good times," said Beverly White, the president of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Mrs. White was dressed in a white pants suit. "We're all in white," she said. "No black tonight. We wanted to end on a high note."

Rosand Pearman, a parent who helped organize the effort, said: "I like parties, but I wish this evening would just not have been. You might say that with out the help of our local board, this evening would not have been possible."

"Mrs. Pearman's two children, like the others at Hubbs, will be transferred to one of two nearby schools in the Commack district—North Ridge or Cedar Road. Mrs. Pearman said that she was not happy with the fact that her second-grader and her fourth-grader would have to change schools.

"We're going to give it one year," she said. "Our taxes are so high, we feel that we should get the proper feedback. If we don't, we'll just leave to move to the suburbs. A fourth-grade teacher said: "I think the parents are more upset than the children. Kids don't mind fast."

The modern red-brick building does not look like a school that is about to shut down. Students' compositions, with gold stars on them and crayon-colored oak tag cutouts hang on bulletin boards in the hallways. Desk tops, with pencil cases and workbooks beside them, stand in neat rows in front of freshly painted blackboards.

Charles J. Robinson, the principal of Hubbs for the last 10 years, said that the dismantling of the school properties and the taking of inventory would not place in front of the youngsters. "I always enjoyed building this school up," he said. "It hurts so much to tear it down."

It is not yet clear what will be done with the two-story building, situated on Clay Hills Road here, which was put up at a cost of $881,000. The members of the school board must be able to sell it to a private incessary for... 1971, gather... The critics called an ins to begin at Daylight time that it has await another time it take traveling at to reach the which is now miles away.

Flight com earlier propellant w ator was no, the planned, date that w ago. The le stopped, lea in the tanks table limits.

If the or as planned, would move path taking miles from a planet, and miles.

I will sail into orbit ar no second ch bit around M In any e spacecraft, behind Vikin g to go weeks from here that will determine whether the pictures show it is safe to land.

It says not only se we not in trouble," Dr. Masursky added, "but it looks as though water vapor may be reasonably abundant."

Biologists believe that if there is any life on Mars, it would require water to exist. The presence of the fog and surface frost was taken to be the first favorable indication from Viking that Mars offers at least one of the major conditions ne-

Public Notices

Commercial Notices

Shipping/Mails

al Culture Societies Map Future

Page 23

ment's foremost elder statesman and chairman emeritus of the New York society...

Mr. Black's posture as a liberal social critic, his regular radio broadcasts on Ethical Culture and his activity on behalf of such issues as open housing have made him syn-

Challenge by Youth He is among those who believe that the movement's future lies in making its claims known to a growing number of people searching for values and a community.

Moreover the movement is still in the throes of a generation gap that developed as younger leaders challenged the classical perspective during the 60's.

signs, the 32-year-old leader of the Washington society, referring to the change in emphasis, "the younger leaders would judge their humanism not on their ideas but how they actually related to one another."

It is the same nucleus that feels most at ease with asserting the religious character of Ethical Culture. Arthur Dobrin, leader of the Long Island society, notes that previous generations often felt compelled to throw off their religious upbringing and "were eager to say what they didn't believe."

Impressions from a cross section of leaders are that the movement is adjusting to the trends and that a new vigorous effort should be made to present Ethical Culture in positive fashion.

Approximately 15 percent of the total capital costs for the project, estimated at about $30 million, will be provided by the FRS member stations.

By LES-BROWN The Corporation for Public Broadcasting has signed a seven-year contract with Western Union for the use of three transponders on its Western satellite to distribute public television programming to stations of the Public Broadcasting Service.

The switch to satellite transmission from the use of the land lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company is scheduled to take place late in 1976 and is also to affect the linking of stations in the noncommercial National Public Radio system.

Negotiations are still in progress, however, for loans totaling $32.5 million from financial institutions and for the construction of ground terminals that are vital to the satellite interconnection plan.

Although the leasing of three satellite channels will cost public television only $2.4 million a year as against the present charge of nearly $9 million a year for terrestrial service, the ground stations needed for receiving satellite signals will cost about $100,000 each to construct.

PPS WILL EXTEND SATELLITE TV USE

Signs Contract With Western Union That Will Cut Costs

By LES-BROWN The Corporation for Public Broadcasting has signed a seven-year contract with Western Union for the use of three transponders on its Western satellite to distribute public television programming to stations of the Public Broadcasting Service.

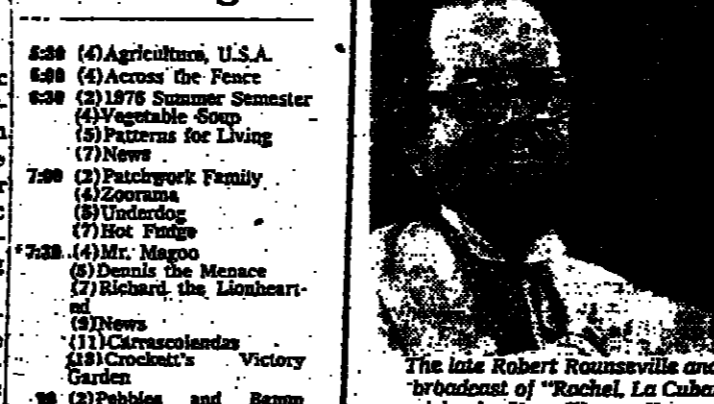

The switch to satellite transmission from the use of the land lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company is scheduled to take place late in 1976 and is also to affect the linking of stations in the noncommercial National Public Radio system.

Negotiations are still in progress, however, for loans totaling $32.5 million from financial institutions and for the construction of ground terminals that are vital to the satellite interconnection plan.

Although the leasing of three satellite channels will cost public television only $2.4 million a year as against the present charge of nearly $9 million a year for terrestrial service, the ground stations needed for receiving satellite signals will cost about $100,000 each to construct.

Television

Morning

The late Robert Rounsaville and Lee Venora in a recording of "Rachel, La Cubana," written for television by Hans Werner Henze, on Ch. 13 at 2 P.M.

8:00 P.M. The Olympiad (13, 21) 8:30 P.M. Freeman (7) 9:00 P.M. Mary Tyler Moore (R) (2) 9:30 P.M. Bob Newhart (R) (2) 11:00 P.M. Apollo (5) 11:30 P.M. Friends (4)

(11)Movie: "Johnny Apollo" (1940). Tyrone Power, Dorothy Lamour. College grad turns gangster. Surprisingly pungent, eschewing doom.

Afternoon

(2)Valley of the Dinosaurs (1)The Jesters (4)The Train: The Gays, Little Milton (3) (7)The Last Sinner (12)Movie: "Blood of the Moon" (1972). Sandra Harrison, Jerry Blaine, Cardell Ross (12)Go-U.S.A. (R) (7)Amesbury-Bandstand (1)Hedgehog Lodge (R) (1)Children's Film Festival (1)Book and Show (R) (1)The Visitor: Nancy Wilson, guest (5)Movie: "The Beast of Hollow Mountain" (1956). Guy Madison, Vera-Ellen, Madelon Zima (1)Movie: "Lust for Gold" (1940). Glenn Ford, Ida Lupino, and Ida Lupino (15)Sports Street (R) (12)Sports: Football, Soccer, and Tennis (7)People, Places and Things

Evening

(2)World of Survival (R) (4)THE GORHAM: Black host tries to reclaim his home from determined home-maker (6)Mission Impossible

Cable TV

(11)Burns and Allen Show (2)MARY TYLER MOORE (R) (4)Movie: "Charo" (1969). Elvis Presley, Barbara Wreite, Ina Balin, Et. and old Mexico. Plenty color, at least (17)POOTRALL: Coaches All-America Football Game (11)BASEBALL: Yankees vs. Chicago White Sox (11)MOVIE: "Nose" (1972). A vampire classic, the best and more frightening of all. Bala, move over (12)Public Policy Forum (R) (21)Masterpiece Theater (47)Raiden (58)Movie: "Lady Killers" (1951). A vintage classic (68)King is Coming 9:30 (2)Bob Newhart (R) (47)Jagomo Potato (68)Arab World 10:00 (2)DINAH AND HER BEST FRIENDS: Phyllis Diller, Charles Nelson Reilly, guests (21)Main City Limits (31)The Olympiad (41)Boxing (68)Evening Hour (68)HADDLEY CIRCUS: "Time and Time Again" (R) 10:15 (50)Dance in America (61)Black News (41)Document 5 (47)News 10:25 (47)News from Japan (47)New Golf Lesson (2)47)THE APOLLO PRESENTS: George Kirby host, LaBelle, The Drifters, Alton and Simpson, Taj Mahal, The Copacabana, The Barret Sisters, Horace Donnell (68)MUSIC: Tish Rinzler (11)20 (4)FRIENDS: Bill Boggs, host, Lindsay Waggoner, Telly Savalas, Hugh Hefner (11)Racing from Yankee (11)News (47)Hanna Del Pueblo (58)Express Yourself (R) (68)Turkish Hour (2)CROSS NEWS: Dan Rather (47)News: Tom Brokaw (7)ABC News: Ted Koppel (21)Inner Tennis (47)La Communid En Marcha (58)Black Perspective (5)NEWS (2)WITHOUT COMMENT: Dramatized history explaining today's excesses and failures in government (5)MOVIE: "The Crowd Roars" (1932). James Cagney, Ann Dvorak, Joan Blondell, Charles Lederer. Good gutsy, old-style crowd-riding. Alibi, Jimmy Stewart, Robert Fuller, Christopher You Know. The magnificent seven. Same stuff, less dazzling. Nice and secure (13)Austin City Limits (68)Love Special 12:30 (2)DON KIRSHNER'S ROCK CONCERT: Harry Chapin, Tom Chapin, Lindi Wayne Wright III (7)Movie: "Return of the Seven" (1961). Yul Brynner, Robert Fuller, John Christopher You Know. The magnificent seven. Same stuff, less dazzling. Nice and secure (13)Austin City Limits (68)Love Special 1:00 (4)Movie: "Ada" (1961). Susan Hayward, Deedee McGuire, Wilfrid Hyde-White. Diverse politics. Trash but often hilarious. Thanks to Susan and Wilfrid (9)Movie: "Frankenstein Meets the Wolf Man" (1943). Lon Chaney, Bela Lugosi, Bona Massy. For those who care 1:41 (3)News 2:00 (3)MOVIE: "Murked Woman" (1952). Betty Davis, Humphrey Bogart, Edward G. Robinson, Jane Bryan. Graphic, jarring, rehasher (2)MOVIE: "The Adventures of Tartu" (1944). Robert Connard, Valerie Hobson, Glynis Johns. Gripping, Surprised-packed, drama of Nazi-held Czechoslovakia (7)MOVIE: "The Sheriff" (1970). Ossie Davis, Ruby Dee. A rape and aftermath (3)News (8)News (12)MOVIE: "Billy the Kid" (1941). Robert Taylor, Brian Donlevy, Burt Lancaster

VIKING IS NEARING AN ORBIT OF MARRIAGE

WINE

PERSIAN RUGS

everlasting

F.C.C. Finds 24.7% of TV Not Entertainment or Sports

Goodbye America July 3 To Turn Back Clock

More Farm Insurance Asked

SUMMER IS FOR KIDS HELP THE FRESH AIR FUND

Radio

News Broadcasts

Talks, Sports, Events

F.B.I. Director Gets Threatening Letter Containing Harmless Dead

Special to The New York Times.
WASHINGTON, June 18.—The Federal Bureau of Investigation said today that its director, Clarence M. Kelley, had received a threatening letter containing dead ticks similar to ones sent to business executives this week.

The ticks, said by the accompanying letters to carry a dangerous disease, were found harmless by F.B.I. laboratory tests.

The ticks mailed to Mr. Kelley lent a bizarre twist to what the bureau has described as a plot to extort millions of dollars by mail from about 200 corporations and executives under threat of terrorism. Eighteen letter bombs have been received around the country this week. One has exploded, slightly injuring four employees Monday at a New York office of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc., stock brokers.

A number of letters with similar markings and threats but containing ticks have arrived in Colorado, New York and Oklahoma. In Tulsa, Postmaster Leon T. Alexander said that three or four letters with ticks had been received.

"They were just mashed," he told United Press International. "By the time they got through the canceling machine and equipment they were dead."

Some Ticks Carry Disease

Ticks, which are common in wooded areas, are not insects but blood sucking arachnids related to mites. They burrow under the skin of warm blooded animals, including humans, and fasten themselves with a barbed proboscis. Some species are known to transmit lethal diseases like Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever.

The ticks sent to Mr. Kelley were the source of much movement at the usually somber F.B.I. headquarters here. They arrived Wednesday in a letter addressed to the director and postmarked "Texasiana, Tex."

origin of many of the other threatening letters and bombs. A Bureau spokesman was unable to say exactly how many ticks there were or whether they had been mashed.

Mr. Kelley held a news conference Tuesday at which he linked the recent bomb threats, dating from last fall, demanding money from corporations under "threat of terrorist tactics." Because they all bore similar markings, the original letters, the bombs and the tick missives are believed to have the same source.

Money Demands Made

In a statement released today, the F.B.I. said the ticks sent to the businessmen were accompanied by letters stating "that the ticks were carriers of dangerous disease, a threat to referring to demands.

Preliminary statement and their chances of any infection are extremely slim.

An F.B.I. that "hundred being pursued case."

SUMMER
 HELP THE F

4 for $40
 Singles $11.99 Each.
 All Wood Folding Chairs
 FOLDS FLAT
 Natural AND Walnut

2 for $110
 Singles $55.00 ea.
 Includes 6 chairs fully assembled in white or walnut wood grain finish—other colors available.
 Height: 27" Width: 37" Depth: 12"

$29.95
 reg. $35.00

THE APARTMENT STORE
 457 Park Avenue South (51 St.) Tel. 349-8177
 Open Mon. thru Sat. 10-6 P.M. Thursday 10-5 P.M.
 951 Second Ave. (51 St.) Tel. 835-4591

Let's celebrate together, America with big British Bargains.

Cheap-Cheap $314

roundtrip New York to Glasgow

Cheap-Cheap also takes you roundtrip from New York to London for only $325. We don't call it Cheap-Cheap for nothing. It's the lowest individual fare allowed, and it's not a charter fare. You can get it on any flight. If you treasure your independence, you'll be particularly happy with all the free time Cheap-Cheap gives you—22 to 45 days to go wherever you wish. You could see Plymouth, where the Mayflower Pilgrims sailed from. Or visit Sulgrave, where you'll find a museum devoted to George Washington. Cheap-Cheap does call for planning ahead, mind you. The number of seats is limited and you must book and pay 2 months in advance. If you change your mind, there's a $50 cancellation fee, so do be sure to work things out with your Travel Agent.

London Show Tour $663

from

That's roundtrip from New York. Our two-week Show Tour is an outstanding value, if I do say so myself. You get round-trip airfare, 13 nights in a good London hotel (with private bath and continental breakfast each morning) and all sorts of other delightful features. Like theatre tickets to 7 hit shows—or your choice of two other ticket plans. (No one else we know of can match that.) And still there's more. Memberships in private clubs, discounts at hundreds of shops and restaurants—even an Avis car for two days (gas, mileage and tax on you). We feel we can safely promise there won't be a dull moment on this trip.

Fly-Drive Holiday $613

from

This is just the thing for those who like to poke on their own in a car. Price includes round-trip from New York, your first night in a good London port hotel, and an Avis car for 13 days, with unlimited mileage. Go wherever the spirit moves you. To north, for instance, ancestral home of Robert I. To Londonderry, where Davy Crockett's father from—and sailed from to settle in America's land, birthplace of Alexander Graham Bell. If your heart's in the highlands, you'll be happy there's also a Fly-Drive Scotland for the same price.

NOTICE

To begin home delivery of The New York Times call this toll-free number 800-325-6400

Your dollars are fatter

...so they go a lot farther. The fact is, your dollar has risen 25% in value in relation to the pound since last May. So now is a very good time indeed to visit Britain. As you can see from these prices:

A full 3-course luncheon in a country inn	$ 4.00
George Washington's Ancestral Home (Sulgrave Manor)	.65
Tower of London	.65
Crown Jewels	Free
Shakespeare's Birthplace	.75
1 week's unlimited rail travel in Britain (BritRail Pass)	$60.00
Men's Shetland wool sweater	7.25
Pint of bitter (beer) in a pub	.55
Open to View (400 stately Homes; Castles, Gardens and Palaces)	9.50
Changing of the Guard	Free

Compute-A-Tour

This is our contribution to a perfectly tailored vacation—and it saves you money, too. With Compute-A-Tour, you can plan everything exactly the way you want it: how you're going to go, the places you want to stay, how much money you want to spend; your whole itinerary. There are hundreds of hotels, slide-trips, bus tours, etc. to choose from, all over Britain and Europe. This Bicentennial year you may enjoy following the American exhibits on tour. In any case, you and your Travel Agent should work everything out in advance—and Compute-A-Tour will see to it that it comes out just the way you planned.

The fine print. The Cheap-Cheap fare quoted for September and October; higher in August, tour prices are good June, July, August, to September and October. Tours and fares are to a number of restrictions, including a $15 surcharge for weekend travel. For full details, see "Holidays Britain and Europe" and "Cheap-Cheap" brochures. Call your Travel Agent or British Airways.

British Airways, Box 111, Dept. 26E-521 Rego Park, New York, 11374. Phone (212) 897-1800 or see the Yellow Pages for our toll-free number in your area.

You intrigue me, Mr. Morley. Please send me British Airways' Bicentennial package.

Name _____
 Address _____
 City _____ State _____ Zip _____
 Travel Agent _____

It is your birthday after all.

British airways

We'll take good care of you to Britain. Europe. The World.

For service-related questions, write (please do not phone) to the address below.

Or mail this coupon

The New York Times Home Delivery Department
 229 West 43d Street
 New York, N.Y. 10036

Please deliver The New York Times
 Every Morning Weekdays Sundays

I'm a new subscriber, and qualify for your low, introductory prices. See below.

Name _____
 Address _____
 City _____
 State & Zip _____
 Apt. (if any) _____ Phone _____

Now available through participating dealers to customers who have not had home delivery within the past 30 days. Special introductory rates are: $2.50 per week for seven-day service, $1.80 per week for weekday delivery and 80 cents for delivery on Sundays only. MWO

Handwritten signature or mark.